HOOVER WAVERS ON PROHIBITION; DRAFTS PLANK

Hopes Resubmission Will Please All.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—President Hoover, it became known today, has turned his hand to the drafting of a prohibition plank for the Republican platform which squints in the direction of resubmission of the eighteenth amendment to the states.

The President has called in a dozen or more Republican leaders in the last fortnight for discussion of the character of the declaration the party is to make at Chicago next month on the prohibition issue in the platform on which Mr. Hoover will seek reelection.

It was made clear by Mr. Hoover in these conferences that he has considerably more interest in the matter than was ascribed to him a month ago by Republican national committeemen who gained the impression that Mr. Hoover would take no hand in the formulation of the party stand, but would run on any prohibition plank the resolutions committee of the national convention might agree upon.

Confers with Leaders.

Among those with whom Mr. Hoover has consulted on the question are Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, a wet; Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, Republican national chairman, a dry; Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, a wet, and Senator William E. Borah [radical Rep., Idaho], a dry.

The declaration of principle which the President now has in mind is described by persons of the wet persuasion as "a tepid resubmission plank." It starts off with a positive and ringing pronouncement to the effect that enforcement of the law, so long as it is the law, is the sheet anchor of the republic and the corner stone of "ordered liberty."

Then the plank proceeds to declare the inalienable right of the people to change their constitution in the manner prescribed therein, wherefore it follows that if the people, manifesting their desire through the requisite two-thirds vote of both houses of congress, are in favor of the resubmission of any amendment, the amendment in question should be resubmitted to the states.

The President is described as regarding this product of his statesmanship a triumph of the art of platform construction. Some of his advisers have waxed enthusiastic over it. They regard it as promising the wets all that could be desired in the shape of an opportunity to resubmit the prohibition question in the form of a repeal or modification amendment of the 18th amendment without giving the drys just cause for offense, inasmuch as the plank merely would restate the constructional provision for changing the organic national law.

Borah Might Run as Dry.

Others, notably Senator Borah, are said to be far from enthusiastic and are reputed to having warned the President that a declaration of this sort would not be acceptable to the drys who rolled up so tremendous a plurality for him in 1928.

Mr. Hoover had hoped that Senator Borah would undertake the shaping of the prohibition plank at Chicago, as he did at Kansas City four years ago, and was disappointed to learn from the senator that he will not attend the convention. As a result of these developments rumors have been flying that Senator Borah is slated to head a dry third party if the Republicans go off the dry reservation at Chicago.

The disclosure that the President has undertaken the construction of a plank designed to satisfy the anti-prohibition element of the party caused a sensation in the capital, in which speculation has been rife for some time on what attitude, if any, Mr. Hoover would take on the "noble experiment" as it presents itself to candid view four years after he coined that famous phrase. Hitherto there has been no indication that the President would do other than stand pat on his position of 1928 of which the drys wholeheartedly approved.

Of late, however, Mr. Hoover has

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.] — Treasury officials disclosed today that the sixteen war debtor nations have at last agreed to sign the special refunding agreement forms binding them to repay over a ten year period the 1932 fiscal year payment, postponed when the German reparations and war debt moratorium was arranged. Nothing is said as yet regarding next December's installment.

Notices asking the powers to sign the special forms acknowledging their debts were forwarded to the powers several weeks ago. At the time the moratorium agreement was concluded in London the powers gave verbal promises to pay the 1932 installment over a ten year period, but no written agreement was signed. The first of the ten payments, each one representing one-tenth of the 1932 installment, will be paid in 1934. The interest will be at 4 per cent.

The total amount involved is approximately 250 millions. During the years this sum is spread over the debtor powers will be expected by the United States to continue their normal payments. The debtor nations have made no new promises in that regard.

It is understood the forms will be signed in the office of Secretary of the Treasury Mills within the next few days. The various diplomatic representatives of the interested powers will attach their signatures.

STILL LOOK FOR NEW DEAL.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 24.—The British and United States government have nearly completed an arrangement by which the Hoover moratorium arrears due America from England for the year ending next month will be paid, if and when payments on war debt annuities are resumed. It is expected an agreement will be signed in Washington in a few days. It is understood in London that similar arrangements are being made between America and other debtor states that have had the benefit of the moratorium.

The present negotiations between London and Washington do not affect the main question of whether payment will be resumed. They make such a resumption neither more nor less probable than they now are.

To England and other European creditors Germany will not only resume reparation payments, but make up a year's arrears by additional payments spread over ten years with interest at 3 per cent. Germany agreed tentatively to this as a piece of bookkeeping, but would not commit herself then any more than now to a promise to resume.

If Great Britain pays she will spread payments of arrears of 32 million pounds, normally due in the moratorium year, over ten years, but at 4 per cent instead of 3 which is the interest charge on Germany's arrears on reparations.

Britain Wants New Deal.

It was learned today that Neville Chamberlain privately told a group of Conservative members of commons that he had not only made no provision in the regular budget to pay the American debt but was not devising any supplementary budget to provide for such payments. It is said, however, that England has no intention of defaulting.

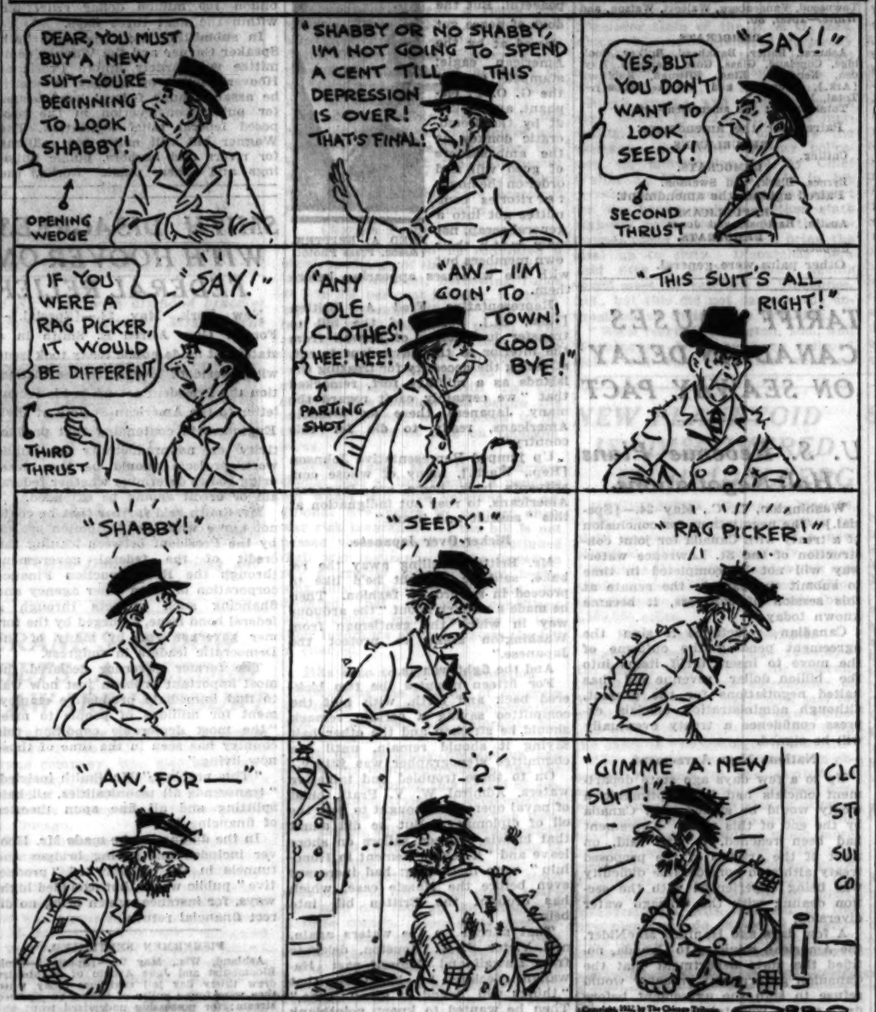

Britain wants a separate agreement with the United States now, just as she had in 1922, when the Mellon-Baldwin settlement was made. She hopes that when the time comes America will take consideration of the fact that this country has assumed a far heavier obligation for payment than any other debtor.

Members of the British government house asked nothing of the United States and are not planning to. But they expect the logic of events will eventually convince Washington as well as London that there should be a new deal.

91 Year Old Veteran Has First Shave by a Barber

Moulton, 91, long time resident here, a surgeon and physician attached to a medical unit during the civil war, was shaved for the first time by a barber today. The veteran was unable to pursue his daily custom of shaving himself so relatives called in a barber. "It was a delightful sensation," the veteran remarked.

HOW TO HANDLE A HUSBAND

PHONES HIS SON, JUMPS TO DEATH FROM LOOP HOTEL

After leaving a telephone message for his son, Arthur T. Plant, 55 years old, of 6739 Clyde avenue, leaped from his sixteenth floor room in the Hotel Sherman last evening and fell thirteen floors to his death.

He landed upon the third floor roof of an air shaft, where he was found by hotel employes. Dr. Lee Kiel, house physician, pronounced him dead.

Plant, who was department manager for Libby, McNeill & Libby, grocers, registered at the hotel at 6 o'clock last evening. In his room he wrote two notes, one asking that his son, Don C. Plant, be notified, and the other explaining his intended suicide. He then telephoned his home, leaving a message for the son to hurry to the hotel. A moment later he jumped.

In his note Plant wrote, "I haven't made good on the job," and indicated he feared he would lose his position, which, he said, "would mean starvation for those I cherish." In his pockets he carried $450 in travelers' checks. The son told police his father had been ill recently.

Plant had been employed in the stockyards for thirty-two years, twenty-two of them with Swift & Co. During the last two months he had traveled extensively for Libby, McNeill & Libby.

LEE HIGGINSON TRUST COMPANY TO QUIT BUSINESS

Boston, Mass., May 25 [Wednesday].—[Special.]—Francis C. Gray, president of the Lee Higginson Trust company announces that the trust company, which is not to be confused with the investment banking firm of Lee, Higginson & Co., will discontinue operations. The firm of Lee, Higginson & Co. will continue as heretofore.

"The trust company," Mr. Gray says, "has cash on hand for the full amount of deposits and its depositors will be paid off at once. The trust department will be continued until such time as arrangements are completed with clients for turning over the property and funds now held in trust. Its operations will then cease."

Lee, Higginson & Co. issued the following statement: "In connection with the announcement by the Lee Higginson Trust company of its decision to pay out its depositors and to discontinue operations we wish to state that the firm of Lee, Higginson & Co. will continue its usual activities as investment bankers as heretofore. The Lee Higginson Trust company, although affiliated through this firm's substantial ownership of stock and representation on its board of directors, has been conducted as an independent institution."

3 Men Killed in Triple Auto, Truck Crash

Three men were killed and a fourth seriously injured last night when a small sedan in which the quartet was returning to Chicago from a Wisconsin fishing trip struck a heavy motor truck, caromed into another machine and overturned in a ditch at Oakton street and Milwaukee avenue, a mile north of Niles.

Those killed were Theodore Manthie, 24 years old, 4417 Ainslie street, the driver; Joseph Skifano, 25, 3350 North Kostner avenue, and Charles Bruckschlager, 52, 4935 North Kenneth avenue.

The injured man is Dudley Hansen, 21 years old, who resided with Mathie. He was taken to the Des Plaines Emergency hospital, where it was said he had suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries.

Hurled Against Third Car.

Manthie's car, southbound, was moving at moderate speed when it crashed into the truck, which was eastbound in Oakton street. The truck driver, Fred Bofchelli, 660 Woodlawn street, Aurora, and Manthie sought to avoid the collision, but the Manthie car was turned around and hurled against an automobile driven by Charles Pieffer, of Fox Lake, who was driving north.

The three machines went into the ditch but only that of the fishermen was overturned. Bofchelli and Pieffer were unhurt.

A number of other motorists who saw the accident attempted to free the four men trapped beneath the upturned sedan, but not until highway policemen arrived were they released. A physician pronounced three of the men dead at the scene. Their bodies were taken to the Oehler mortuary in Des Plaines.

Two Children Killed.

Two Chicago children were killed and a third critically injured yesterday in separate automobile accidents, one of which occurred on a Lake county highway.

Laverne Haag, 11 years old, 5839 School street, was fatally hurt in Rand road, two miles north of Wauconda, in Lake county. She ran into the highway when she saw her father's car approaching and was struck by the machine of Mrs. Leland Aris, 2023 Pensacola avenue. She died an hour later at the Libertyville hospital.

Two year old Elizabeth Hurley, 3359 North Karlov avenue, was killed when she toddled into the street in front of her home and was struck by a truck. The driver, Charles Radtke, 4232 South Talman avenue, and his helper, Steve Shut, 3324 North Drake avenue, were held.

County Toll for Year 432.

These deaths and two others increased the Cook county automobile toll for 1932 to 432. The victims:

W. A. Stout, 45 years old, was killed last night by an automobile in front of 2009 South Western avenue. His body was identified by a letter in his pocket signed "mother," and addressed to him at the United States Veterans hospital, North Chicago. The return address on the letter was: "D. Stout, 753 South State street, Elgin, Ill.

Albert Solomon, 4 years old, of 342 East 71st street. Died last night in the Auburn Park hospital of injuries suffered during the afternoon when he was struck in front of his home by an automobile driven by Joseph Franzen, 7031 South Park avenue.

The body of a man killed at 14th street and Western avenue on Saturday was identified last evening as that of Thomas Bores, Elkhart, Ind. He was identified through fellow workers at the Keeshin Motor Express company.

Child Hurt; Driver Flees.

Ruth Ziskind, 12 years old, of 1242 South Albany avenue was critically injured last night by an automobile in Roosevelt road at Troy street. The driver took her to Mount Sinai hospital and then departed without giving his name. Witnesses furnished police with the license number of the car. It was traced to Meyer Belder, 1050 Maxwell street. He will be questioned.

Jones Simon, 25 years old, 3109 West 64th street, was critically injured and his 16 months old son, Jerry, was thrown from his mother's arms into the street last evening when the automobile in which the family was riding collided with another machine at 57th and Carpenter streets. Simon was taken to the Englewood hospital. The infant suffered only a few scratches, as did his mother, Rae, 24 years old.

Put Liquor Up to States, Democrats Say

Houston, Tex., May 24.—(AP)—After harmoniously agreeing that John N. Garner should have the state's 46 votes at the presidential convention at Chicago, Texas Democrats tonight staged a near riot and adopted a resolution proposing resubmission of the 18th amendment to the state. The vote was 351 to 584.

The vote on a resolution for submission of the question of repeal of the dry law first was viva voce and the convention was thrown into disorder. Delegates climbed on the stage of the convention auditorium and demanded a roll call by counties, which finally proceeded.

A Favorite Son Vote.

Previously the convention ruled that the state's votes be given to the speaker of the house, a favorite son, "and to none other" until "released by him."

By passing the dry law resolution the delegates went contrary to the desires of Garner advisers, who wished to preserve harmony at any cost. Earlier in the day the resolutions committee declined to suggest any declaration on the 18th amendment to the convention.

Various convention leaders attempted vainly to bring the meeting to order before the roll finally was called.

Demands Order in Session.

At one time Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth took the gavel.

"We are going to have order in this convention," he said, and pleaded that we "should do this for Garner."

Others cried, "Dirty! Dirty!"

Delegates at large to the national convention at Chicago, announced after the balloting, included Gov. Ross Sterling and United States Senator Tom Connally. The convention will send 184 delegates and 184 alternates to Chicago.

New Jersey for Smith.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—[Special.]—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York today was indorsed for President by New Jersey's delegates to the Democratic national convention.

In a resolution adopted unanimously he was described as one "who meets the present call for leadership, progressive opinion and the ability to carry it through."

G. O. P. leaders today made up a tentative policy on the wet-dry issue, the plank reading:

"The failure of prohibition demands a remedy. The Republican party has already requested of congress a repeal of the eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act. We favor the repeal of the so-called Hobart enforcement act."

Texas G. O. P. Instructs for Hoover.

Delaware's 6 Votes for Roosevelt.

Dover, Del., May 24.—(AP)—Democrats of Delaware at their state convention today selected six delegates to the national convention and instructed them for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The convention defeated a proposal to advocate a prohibition referendum.

BIRTH CONTROL BILL DEFEATED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—The house committee on ways and means today reported unfavorably the Hancock bill legalizing the admission of birth control information. The vote in favor of the adverse report, which in effect kills the legislation at this session, was 20 to 4.

The measure would amend the tariff laws to permit the entry into this country of information on the subject of birth control and would likewise permit the admission of such information by an amendment to the postal laws. At the present time such matter is construed as "immoral" and may not be sent through the mails or brought into this country from abroad.

Speaker John N. Garner [Dem., Tex.] referred the bill, which was introduced by Representative Frank Hancock [Dem., N. C.] to the ways and means committee because it called for a change in the tariff regulations.

Bandits Get $1,355 Haul; Woman Saves $1,000 Ring

Three bandits made a $1,355 haul last night, but missed $1,000 more in loot, when they held up Jerome Dell, his wife, and his brother, Lester, in front of Lester Dell's home at 2642 Sheridan road. The Dells, returning from a loop show, had just pulled up at the curb in their car when the robbers accosted them. Mrs. Dell, the sole loser, surrendered a $1,300 ring and $55, but saved a $1,000 ring by dropping it to the floor.

SENATE BEATS FARM EXPORT 'DOLE' 46 TO 33

Vote 2 Per Cent Tax on Auto Trucks.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—The tax bill began to move again tonight on its trip through the senate.

The same coalition that disposed of the tariff fight by writing the tariffs on oil, coal, copper, and lumber into the bill, disposed of the farm debenture amendment by pushing it off the road. It was defeated by a vote of 33 to 46.

On the track thus cleared the senate went ahead to attack revenue items proper and by the close of the night's session had taken up the proposed excise taxes on automobiles and had finished with one of them by adopting the house bill's rate of 2 per cent on the wholesale price of trucks instead of the senate committee rate of 3 per cent.

A Breath of Optimism.

A breath of optimism somehow permeated the stubborn and gloomy atmosphere of the past six days of dissension and delay. It wasn't startling as optimism goes but it was significant.

The end of the road appeared in sight, even though the certainty of a final and decisive fight became more and more apparent with each forward step.

The lines on which this conclusive battle will be laid down became increasingly clear. It is to be four cornered. Each corner will represent approximately the same amount of revenue.

In one corner will stand the supporters of the revenue bill as it is, with its numerous special taxes, such as the automobile tax, the admission tax, the tax on tires and tubes, on bank checks, and the increased postal rates.

Beer in Second Corner.

In another will stand Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] with his proposal to raise 375 millions—perhaps 450 millions; at any rate enough to wipe out these special nuisance taxes—with a tax on legalized beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content by weight.

In a third corner will stand Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] at the head of the radical group and their supporters with an amendment to raise 486 million dollars above the present income tax revenues through a revival of the 1918 individual income tax rates.

And in the fourth will be the sponsors of a sales tax.

It was this last corner, that of the sales tax, which was receiving a major portion of attention as the day's session progressed.

Offer Lower Sales Tax.

Urging the equity of a general manufacturers' sales tax rather than special taxes on selected articles, Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.] proposed a sales tax of 1¾ per cent, or one-half of 1 per cent less than that which was defeated in the house. With exemption allowed on all foods and medicines, all clothing except shoes costing more than $5 and garments costing more than $35, all agricultural products and implements, tobacco and cigarets already taxed, newspapers and periodicals, books for the blind, and Bibles and religious articles, his tax would, he said, raise 335 millions.

Word came that the White House was strongly urging support of a sales tax. There was renewed activity among its supporters. They canvassed the senate membership and professed a renewed confidence in the chances of a sales tax's eventual passage.

House Sentiment Changing.

The attitude of the house, one of the chief obstacles to the senate's adoption of a sales tax, was not left out of the calculations. Those who checked house sentiment claimed to have found many congressmen willing to reverse their positions and vote a sales tax in.

While this movement was astir behind the scenes, the senate floor was the scene, first of the defeat of the amendment by which Senator George W. Norris [radical Rep., Neb.] sought to attach the debenture plan of farm relief to the tax bill, next of a spirited hour in which Senator Millard E. Tydings [Dem., Md.] vehemently assailed the President for his vacillation upon national questions, and lastly of the vote by which the lower house bill rate on trucks was adopted.

Puts Leaders in Hot Water.

The debenture amendment put many senators in the middle. Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], Democratic leader, condemned those who started the tariff fight by putting tariffs in the revenue bill; he hoped to see the debenture plan considered; but "the manly, straightforward course is to write a revenue bill," he said, so reluctantly he had to oppose the Norris amendment.

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] agreed.

"My vote of 'no' will not be because I am hostile to farm relief," he said, "but I have sought to keep this a revenue measure by voting against the tariffs, and I intend to be consistent. Unless we call a halt I expect to see the world court and birth control thrown into the bill."

Tydings Assails Hoover.

Senator Tydings picked up the tariff cue. He demanded why President Hoover had not commanded administration senators to keep the tariffs out of the bill. While protesting grumbles of independence came from Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], in charge of the tax bill, the senator from Maryland declared that Senator Smoot and other regulars would have been "glad to goose-step" had the President ordered it.

"The senator from Utah would jump through a hoop if Mr. Hoover said the word," declared Senator Tydings in the face of Mr. Smoot's agonized objections. The Maryland senator asserted that the President had been approached by certain senators and had agreed to demand the elimination of the tariff items; that other senators had then gone to the White House and pleaded for the tariffs to stay in, whereupon the President had changed his mind and agreed to keep silent.

"Never has there been on the part of a president such equivocation, such lack of courage," shouted Senator Tydings. "If that is our leadership, may God save the country. I am sick of such hypocrisy, sham, political evasion, and lack of courage."

Fight Against Car Tax.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] fought hard when the automobile taxes came up. He showed that in state taxes automobiles already pay an annual toll of more than a billion dollars; that a car during its lifetime is subjected to taxes amounting to 140 per cent of its original cost; that the automobile industry directly and indirectly gives employment to more than four million workers. He denied that the automobile taxes would raise 73 millions, as estimated by the treasury, and declared that on the basis of the first three months of 1932 the revenue would total not more than 30 millions.

The lower house rates on trucks were adopted by a vote of 39 to 30, but Senator Vandenberg's proposal to strike out the truck tax entirely was defeated, 29 to 40. Votes on the passenger car and accessories rates will follow tomorrow. Immediately thereafter the Bingham beer amendment is expected to be taken up.

RETAIL TRADE UNCLE SAM DOES IS ILLUSTRATED

Congress to See What a General Line He Carries

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—A pair of pink pajamas, feminine gender; a lemon yellow tie, masculine, and four bottles, guaranteed to impart to a gallon of alcohol and water the flavor of gin, rum, Scotch, or rye—these were some of the articles which Representative Joseph B. Shannon [Dem., Mo.] displayed today before the house rules committee to illustrate in what a wholesale way Uncle Sam was going into the retail business.

J. B. SHANNON. [Acme Photo.]

Every article had been bought at a government store. What Mr. Shannon was seeking to prove was the necessity for passing his resolution creating a special congressional committee to investigate the whole field of government competition with private enterprise.

He obtained a special rule from the committee under which the resolution will be brought before the house for final consideration tomorrow.

Feminine Camouflage.

"I have not been able to find out what military necessity requires an army store to sell such a garment as this," he remarked. "I don't know what need a soldier would have for it except perhaps to deceive the enemy."

Then the committee hushed its laughter, for Mr. Shannon was telling how this same store, selling all sorts of articles from fresh eggs to furnaces, has sent franked government envelopes through the mails containing advertisements of its bargain sales and addressed not only to army men and government workers, but to private citizens.

"Do you wonder," he demanded, "that the chamber of commerce and the merchants of Leavenworth are protesting that this government competition will drive them out of business?"

Lower Prices Explained.

"How do the government stores manage their lower prices?" inquired Representative John J. O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.].

"Why not?" replied Mr. Shannon. "They have no overhead. The taxpayers furnish the building, the light, the heat, the franking privilege for sending out advertising, an officer in charge, and soldiers to help wait on the trade."

Representative Shannon crooked a finger and a youth of high school age stepped out. His tan shoes, his light gray suit, his straw hat, his socks, and his shirt and tie were all brand new.

"One of my clerks," said Mr. Shannon, and the boy told how he had bought the shoes at Bolling air field, the suit at Walter Reed hospital and the hat at the army headquarters store on C street, all in or near Washington. Not only that, but he had eaten at government restaurants for the last two days.

TARIFF CAUSES CANADIAN DELAY ON SEAWAY PACT

U. S. Revenue Plans Halt Negotiations.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—The negotiations for conclusion of a treaty with Canada for joint construction of the St. Lawrence waterway will not be completed in time to submit the pact to the senate at this session of congress, it became known today.

Canadian reluctance to sign the agreement pending the outcome of the move to insert tariff items into the billion dollar revenue bill has halted negotiations for the present, although administration officials express confidence a treaty eventually will be signed.

Nations Near Agreement.

Up to a few days ago state department officials had been optimistic a treaty would be signed with Canada by the end of this week. Agreement had been reached, it was said, on most of the articles of the proposed treaty although considerable difficulty was being experienced with the section dealing with the Chicago water diversion.

A few days ago Hanford MacNider, the American minister to Canada, notified the state department that the Canadian government probably would refuse to sign the agreement before final action was taken on the tariff items in the revenue bill. Today the Canadian government made known her opposition to the lumber tariff placed in the revenue bil at last night's session.

Treaty Still Alive.

Whether a final inclusion of tariff items, annoying to Canada, in the tax bill would have the effect of breaking off negotiations entirely was not disclosed. Henry J. Allen, President Hoover's representative during the negotiations with Canada, said that the treaty negotiations should not be considered as dead. State department officials said the same thing.

Considerable opposition to senate confirmation of the treaty is certain to develop if the pact curtails the water diversion from Lake Michigan at Chicago to a figure below the present diversion. On several occasions Mississippi valley representatives have made known to state department officials their opposition to a drastic cut in the diversion.

FIND FOR SHORT WEIGHTS.

Nine merchants were fined a total of $472.50 yesterday on short weight charges by Judge Freeman L. Fairbank. One service station, three grocery stores, four meat markets and a fish market were represented in the list.

PEACEFUL HAWAII CONFERENCE IS ALMOST A SCRAP

Britten, Johnson Differ Over Japanese.

By GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Half a dozen congressmen met today to consider plans for making Hawaii more peaceful. But the dove of peace got clawed at by the American eagle; stamped on by the G. O. P. elephant, and kicked at by the Democratic donkey as the ambassadors of good will and order on the house territories committee got into a general scrap, not only with their own members but with the witnesses appearing before them.

Representative Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], author of the bill to transfer jurisdiction of Hawaii from the interior to the navy department, stressing the necessity for treating the islands as a military fort, remarked that "we certainly can't regard the many Japanese there as loveable Americans, ready to die for this country."

Bicker Over Japanese.

Mr. Britten, smiling away the rebuke, said he thought he'd like to proceed in an orderly fashion. Then he made a remark about "the arduous way in which the gentleman from Washington seeks to protect the Japanese."

And the fight was on.

For fifteen minutes the two bickered back and forth, with half the committee saying a certain remark should be stricken and the other half saying it should remain, until the committee stenographer was jittery.

On to these troubled and talkative waters, Admiral W. V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, sought to pour the oil of diplomacy. But he did admit that brawls between sailors on shore leave and "a rowdy element in Honolulu" were increasing; had increased even before the Massie case, which has brought the Britten bill into being.

That stirred up the waters again, and Victor S. K. Houston, delegate from Hawaii and himself part Hawaiian, declared he had faith that "things will mend, if given time." Then he wanted to know, pointblank what the navy department thought of the bill.

Navy and Army Shy.

After a lot of discussion, the question was withdrawn as being improper unless in executive session.

Mildly Admiral Pratt concluded his testimony: "All the navy wants to do is to attend its own particular business."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, was even more hesitant about being drawn into the fight. When Representative Britten asked him if he believed the present army force of 15,000 would be sufficient, in time of trouble, to protect American docks, powder magazines and other defense equipment, he said he'd prefer not to answer unless in executive session.

"That answer suits me," exulted Mr. Britten, champion of stronger defense, who contends that the force would be inadequate.

"Suits me, too," said Mr. Johnson, who believes that the present force is sufficient.

"You're easily satisfied," mumbled Mr. Britten, but not for the record.

The committee adjourned to meet on call to hear Delegate Houston tell his views about conditions in Hawaii.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—The two major Democratic federal relief programs which have been in the making for several days will be dumped into the legislative hopper this week, it was disclosed today. Senator Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], chairman of the Democratic subcommittee appointed to frame a relief program, will introduce his committee proposal, a two billion 300 million dollar bill, tomorrow. Speaker John Garner [Dem., Tex.] will introduce his two billion 100 million dollar relief bill within the next three days.

ROBT. F. WAGNER. [Potorama.]

In submitting their measures both Speaker Garner and the Wagner committee will largely ignore President Hoover's letter of Sunday in which he assailed huge federal bond issues for public construction in the proposed federal relief legislation. The Wagner bill will carry 500 millions for rivers and harbors, public buildings and other public works, the money to be raised by sale of government bonds. The Garner bill will carry an even larger amount for public construction, due in part to the fact that there are more members of the house to be taken care of.

Cater to One Hoover Project.

Both of the measures will make a friendly gesture toward the White House in that each will provide for a big increase in the capitalization of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, enabling that body to expand its activities by loaning money to private organizations, states, municipalities, or counties for financing so-called self-liquidating projects. The Wagner bill will carry one billion 500 millions for loans of this nature.

It is anticipated that President Hoover will have his program ready in bill form within the next few days. The President today discussed with Charles G. Dawes, president of the finance corporation; Secretary of the Treasury Mills, and Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, the various relief proposals, and a new White House statement is anticipated.

Inquiry disclosed that a horde of applications for the so-called self-liquidating loans will descend upon the finance corporation if one of the large programs becomes law. Senatorial advocates of the self-liquidating loan plan already have compiled a billion dollar list of projects which are open to federal financing. It was said today that almost every state has one of two deserving objects of a federal loan.

Placing Sluggish Bonds.

According to the Democratic relief committee, its bill will probably authorize the finance corporation to purchase the bonds of self-liquidating and profit making projects. Thus the corporation would be authorized to buy hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of state, municipal and private project bonds which at present have no ready sale. Uncle Sam would not only be issuing new bond issues on a huge scale; he would also be acting as the nation's major purchaser of nongovernment bonds.

Included among projects which already have their champions on the job in Washington is the Los Angeles metropolitan water district, which wants to sell its bonds to the finance corporation so it can build an aqueduct to transport water from the government Boulder dam on the Colorado river to Los Angeles; the 38th street tunnel under the Hudson river in New York, costing 90 millions; the triborough bridge across East river in New York City, a 80 million dollar project; toll bridges in a number of cities, a toll bridge from San Francisco to Oakland, and a bridge over the Mississippi at New Orleans.

One list of self-liquidating projects which would cost a billion to complete has been compiled.

SMITH DISAGREES WITH HOOVER ON FEDERAL RELIEF

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in a statement made public today took issue with President Hoover in the distinction the President set up in his recent letter to the American Society of Civil Engineers in contending that productivity or nonproductivity of public work projects should be the measuring rod to determine whether federal aid or credit should be extended.

Mr. Smith said further that he could not agree with the distinction set up by the President between loaning the credit of the federal government through the Reconstruction Finance corporation or some other agency and financing such projects through a federal bond issue, as urged by the former governor and by many of the Democratic leaders in congress.

The former governor declared the most important problem just now was to find immediate productive employment for millions of people to meet "the most deplorable condition this country has seen in the time of those now living."

"This problem," Mr. Smith insisted "transcends all technicalities, all hair splitting and all fine spun theories of financing."

In the distinction he made Mr. Hoover included toll paying bridges and tunnels in the category of "productive" public works, but excluded highways, for instance, which bring no direct financial return.

FISHERMEN SENTENCED.

Ashland, Wis., May 24.—[Special.]—Emil Bloomquist and Jake Arunio of Highbridge drew thirty day jail sentences today when they were found guilty of fishing on a posted stream; for possessing undersized trout and for having more than the legal limit of fish.

ALDERMEN PUT 9 INSPECTORS IN POLICE BUDGET

Adopt Reform Proposals Made by Expert.

The council finance committee yesterday set up in the 1932 budget the system of nine police inspectors, which was one of the recommendations of Bruce Smith, police expert, in his report on the reorganization of the Chicago department. The inspectors, to be called supervisory captains, will be police officers. This was a concession to Police Commissioner Allman, who was unalterably opposed to the suggestion of several aldermen that civilians be given the posts.

BRUCE SMITH.

As was the case with the bureau of central purchasing suggested by the mayor's advisory commission, which the finance committee set up in the budget Monday, the plan for the supervisory captains if of an experimental nature. The jobs will be established by making appropriations for them and not by creating them by ordinance, which will permit the police commissioner to abolish them at any time he desires.

Appropriation Is Voted.

Police captains get $4,000 a year. The committee voted for an appropriation for one chief supervisory captain at $5,500 a year, and for eight supervisory captains at $5,000 a year.

The chief supervisory captain, corresponding to the chief inspector recommended in the Smith report, will be in charge of the entire uniformed force of police. He will be responsible for its distribution and for its mobilization to meet emergencies.

"I can tell you, without breaking any confidence," Mayor Cermak told the aldermen, "that Commissioner Allman has in mind the appointment of Capt. Matthew Zimmer as chief supervisory captain."

Zimmer Veteran Policeman.

Capt. Zimmer, a veteran of the department with a reputation similar to Commissioner Allman's as a strict disciplinarian, was a deputy police commissioner under Mayor Dever. The system of supervisory captains virtually revives the deputy commissioner system, which was abolished two years ago.

The 41 police districts of the city will be divided into six divisions, with a supervisory captain at the head of each, under the new plan. In addition there will be two other supervisory captains, one of whom will be Maj. John Bauder, drillmaster, who will be given additional duties, and the other to be in charge of citywide traffic.

Some months ago Commissioner Allman intimated that he had virtually made up his mind on the men he wanted for those six division jobs. Those on whom his decisions were reported to be fixed at that time were Capts. Ira J. McDowell, John E. Ptacek, Thomas Condon, Daniel A. Gilbert, Richard Gill, and John Horan.

Will Cut Rookies' Pay.

Rookies in the fire and police departments will start at lower pay than formerly, and it will take them longer to work up to the $2,500 a year which is the maximum pay for patrolmen and firemen at present, the finance committee provided. The committee set up a new pay scale of $150 a month for the first six months; $165 a month for the next year; $180 a month for the following year; $195 a month for the year after that, and $2,500 a year after three and a half years. Formerly policemen started at $2,140 a year and got $2,500 a year after two years' service. Firemen started at $2,140 a year and worked up to $2,500 in two and a half years.

Another of the recommendations made by Assessor J. L. Jacobs as city efficiency expert went into the wastebasket when the committee came to appropriations for section foremen and ward superintendents in the bureau of streets. Jacobs recommended that the section foremen be reduced from 240 to 120 and the superintendents from 80 to 9. The committee made no reduction in its appropriations.

The committee also put aside temporarily the comprehensive report in which Mr. Jacobs has reclassified many of the city civil service positions, the aldermen deferring consideration of the report until after June 15, the date by which the budget must be passed.

Water Fund Budget Cut.

With the adoption of the water fund budget of $20,418,795, which is $1,676,393 less than last year's appropriations, the committee allowed an item of $1,327,000 requested by Commissioner of Public Works Sprague for the installation of 40,000 water meters. This installation, however, will not bring the city up to date on the program set up in the universal metering ordinance.

"We will give the property owners the option during the first year after installation of paying the meter rates or on the old frontage rates for their water," Commissioner Sprague said.

Upon the suggestion of Mayor Cermak, who attended the morning, afternoon and evening sessions, appropriations were provided so that five services rendered by the city may either be let out to private contractors or may be continued by city labor as at present. The appropriations total $12,250,000.

The services involved and the amount for each follow: Street cleaning and garbage removal, $5,145,000; street repairs, $4,000,000; water tunnel construction, $1,500,000; meter installation, $1,327,000; and fire department apparatus repairs, $278,000.

"If the budget can be set up so that the city can experiment with private contracts for these services, I think that should be done," said the mayor.

Owner to Get Diamonds Found by Jobless Men

Bracelet said to contain 800 small diamonds, which was lost by Mrs. Thorne Donnelley Friday and returned to her yesterday. It was insured for $4,000.

Not Missed at First

A bracelet containing more than 800 small diamonds, which was found in a clump of shrubbery near Lake Shore drive and Pearson street by two unemployed men on Friday morning, was identified yesterday as belonging to Mrs. Thorne Donnelley, 45 East Oak street, daughter-in-law of the late Reuben H. Donnelley, publisher. Mrs. Donnelley told Capt. John Stege of the Desplaines street station that the bracelet was insured for $4,000.

Capt. Stege learned that Mrs. Donnelley lost the bracelet last week and did not miss it until Monday. She notified the insurance company of the loss and it was traced through the company.

James Davis, 30 years old, of Milwaukee, and Frank Del Fiacco, 24 years old, of St. Paul, Minn., found the jewelry. They took it to the Rev. Fred Ingersoll of the Chicago Christian Industrial league, who notified the police.

Trial Set for Six Accused of Defrauding the City

Four former city employés and two officials of the Electrical Contracting company, 844 Rush street, will go to trial on June 7 on a charge of defrauding the city of $200,000 through street lighting contracts. Attorneys yesterday agreed to the hearing date in the Criminal court of Judge John Prystalski. The defendants are Harry A. Johnson, president of the electrical company; Floyd Knott, vice president, and four former employés of the city department of gas and electricity; John Muerling, once electrical engineer; Eugene A. Quinn, chief inspector; Frank Wargoske, storekeeper, and Joseph Duffy, custodian of a warehouse.

12 CITY JUDGES REFUSE TO TAKE ANY CUT IN PAY

Others Voted to Give Up 2 Days a Month.

Protests by members of the council finance committee over the refusal of the Municipal court judges to cut the court budget on the same basis as other city departments were followed yesterday by a complaint that 12 of the judges have refused to accept a voluntary pay cut which their fellow judges agreed upon.

A statement on file with City Controller Szymczak declared that at a meeting of the judges a resolution was adopted, on motion of Judge Edgar A. Jonas, to the effect the judges would give up two days' pay a month in the interest of economy.

Twelve Refuse to Yield.

Records show that, in accordance with the resolution, the controller was authorized to deduct a day's pay, $27.32, from each judge's check for a half month period. The following judges, however, refused to yield the $27.32, according to the record: Borrelli, Elliott, Fairbank, Haas, Heller, Ehler, Fetzer, Green, Hartigan, McIntyre, Schiller, and J. F. O'Connell.

Jonas Writes to Controller.

Judge Jonas on May 18 wrote the controller that he had learned of the refusal of the twelve judges to accept the voluntary pay cut, and he served notice that if the saving did not apply to all the judges he would refuse to make the sacrifice himself. Under the law the pay of the judges, $10,000 a year, may neither be increased nor reduced during the term for which they were elected. Any pay roll slashing, therefore, must be voluntary.

Judge Jonas said he felt the judges should be willing to take the same reduction made in the pay of clerks and bailiffs, approximately 6½ per cent. Other city employés are docked approximately 21 per cent, giving up 78 days' pay a year, whereas the court employés give up only 24 days' pay.

Abandon Plan to Merge Standard, Covenant Clubs

Plans to merge the Covenant and the Standard clubs, two of the city's largest Jewish social organizations, have been abandoned, U. S. Schwartz, a member of the Standard club's membership committee, said yesterday. Mr. Schwartz said that 162 of the Standard club's 600 members pledged each would get a new member or pay the dues for an extra membership for a full year to improve the finances of the club. A drive to increase the membership to 1,000 has been started, he said.

CRANE'S WIDOW GETS A RECORD AWARD IN COURT

Mrs. Florence H. Crane, widow of Richard T. Crane Jr., president of the Crane company, who died on Nov. 7 last year, was allowed a widow's award of $135,000 yesterday, the largest in the history of the Probate court in Chicago.

The allowance was made by Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to Probate Judge Horner. Mrs. Crane, whose Chicago home is at 1550 Lake Shore drive, is at her summer home in Ipswich, Mass. She was represented by her attorney, R. M. Ashcraft. The award contained a proviso that if Mrs. Crane desires an increase in the award before the end of the year, she will be free to petition for it.

She asked an award of $250,000 originally. Probate Judge Horner was consulted and said that he would approve a $135,000 award. The other heirs of the estate had not opposed the $250,000 award, but Judge Horner felt that to grant it might set a bad precedent for future cases.

The widow's award is for the expenses of the widow during the year in which the estate is in settlement in the Probate court. Mrs. Crane and her two children are the principal heirs. The estate was valued at approximately $5,500,000 in an inventory filed in the court on April 18, but has been depreciated since by the falling stock market. It suffered a depreciation of $13,500,000 from this cause between the date of Mr. Crane's death and the filing of the inventory.

State's Attorney's Men Renew War on Gambling

The state's attorney's clean-up squad yesterday renewed its war on gambling. Led by Detective Michael Casey, the squad called on four alleged loop gambling houses, five west side places, and one on the far northwest side. Where gambling was found, proprietors were ordered to close, but no arrests were made.

HEAD OF LEGION RAPS ECONOMY FOR VETERANS

Henry L. Stevens Jr., national commander of the American Legion, last night declared that congress should not attempt to economize at the expense of disabled war veterans or the widows and orphans of men who fought in American wars.

Commander Stevens, a young lawyer from Warsaw, N. C., spoke before a massmeeting of Legionnaires at the Great Northern hotel. Earlier he was the guest at a dinner attended by members and officers of 200 Legion posts of Cook county.

In addition to his advocacy of the rights of maimed veterans and of war widows and orphans, Commander Stevens charged that the government was "profiteering" at the expense of all veterans who have borrowed on their bonus certificates.

Charges Profit in Interest.

In this connection he reiterated a previous charge of the Legion that the federal government, borrowing funds at 1 to 2½ per cent interest, is charging the veterans 4½ per cent, making about 2½ per cent profit. The rate should be no more than 2 per cent, if not eliminated entirely, Stevens asserted. He declared the Legion is supporting with its full strength the Ludlow bill before the present congress, which seeks to decrease the interest rate on veterans' loans.

Stevens also said that congress should pass at this session a pending bill which will give veterans an additional five years to convert their war risk insurance. If the bill is not passed veterans who have continued their war insurance will be forced to pay a greatly increased rate beginning July 2, the commander said. He declared that economic conditions would compel many veterans to lose their insurance entirely unless the bill is enacted.

Hits Plan to Cut Compensation.

Discussing the attempt of congress to reduce the rates of compensation paid to wounded war veterans, Mr. Stevens said:

"It was perfectly outrageous and beyond my comprehension to find the government, during this period of economic strain, trying to economize at the expense of disabled service men. The Legion will forever stand solidly opposed to increasing the hardship of these heroes.

"Don't forget that these men stood with you and me not so many years ago, with one foot on the firing step of some trench. They went over beside you and me and perhaps they fired the shot that saved our lives."

The widows and orphans of the world war veterans are the only such dependents left by any war who have not received government care, the commander declared.

"The immediate passage of the bill introduced by Representative Rankin of Mississippi to provide allowances to the world war widows and orphans is imperative," he said.

METHODISTS TAKE MORE LIBERAL VIEW ON DIVORCE

Atlantic City, N. J., May 24.—(AP)—The attitude of the Methodist Episcopal church toward divorce was liberalized tonight when the general conference sanctioned as grounds for dissolution "vicious conditions which through mental or physical cruelty or physical peril" invalidate the marriage vow.

The change from adultery as the sole grounds, the second in almost a century and a half, was approved in the face of weak opposition.

G. Bormley Oxnam, president of De Pauw university, replied to the dissenters with the statement that the church was deluding itself if it believed regulations would hinder divorces. "Legislation won't prevent divorce," he said. "Education will."

Bonus Army Moved by Autos; Troops Ready to Return Home

BY CHESLY MANLY.

East St. Louis, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The last truckload of the 350 hitch hiking bonus marchers from Oregon left Caseyville, eight miles east of here, late this evening, and the possibility of a skirmish with the Illinois National Guard and the B. & O. railway police was averted.

Sheriff Jerome Munie of St. Clair county, who, with local officials of the American Legion, arranged transportation for the veterans, telegraphed Acting Governor Fred Sterling to recall the six companies of troops when the last truck left "Camp Bonus" at Caseyville.

Give Marchers Free Ride.

The troops arrived at East St. Louis early this morning, shortly after the bonus boosters released a 35 car refrigerator train of the B. & O. road, which they commandeered yesterday and held until Sheriff Munie promised to arrange free transportation to Washington, Ind., 150 miles away.

Seven trucks and twenty service cars, loaned by East St. Louis merchants, were required to move the veterans. Six state highway policemen on motorcycles, led by Chief Walter L. Moody, who rode in his private car, formed a special escort for the bonus seekers. Other state highway police were to join the motorcade along the route and bring the total up to sixty. Dispatches here said fifty B. & O. railway agents would meet the veterans at Vincennes, Ind., but this did not dampen the enthusiasm of their camp breaking.

"We'll reach Washington, Ind., and Washington, D. C., and no railroad dicks will stop us," the veterans shouted as the trucks moved out. They were not certain what train to take out of Washington, but they have their choice of the B. & O. and the Big Four lines there.

The camp today resembled that of a populous hobo jungle except for the scattering of what once was uniforms and the military discipline maintained. At intervals during the day a captain would shout out his company letter and they would assemble for roll call and the inspection of their discharge papers. Military police, there being nine for each of the six companies, moved among the crowds carrying improvised clubs. Occasionally one of the ex-soldiers with radical tendencies would start a speech, denouncing capitalism and Hoover, and a crowd would form, but the M. P.'s quieted them.

Live on Bread and Bologna.

The men subsist on coffee, bread, and such bacon and bologna as they can collect from the packing companies along the route. They received 200 pounds of hot dogs from one company yesterday.

The men also stage parades in each town and pass the hat, which gives them enough money for coffee and bread. Campfires raised their smoke up and down the highway all day as the veterans boiled coffee in buckets they take along with them and roasted their hot dogs.

Some of the men are dressed in overalls and other working clothes, but those who have as much as the leggings of their old uniforms wear them. They carry their best suit along in a knapsack to wear when they get to Washington. All the men are brown of skin and most need shaves.

NEW PLANETOID IS DISCOVERED BY HEIDELBERG

HEIDELBERG, Germany, May 24.—(AP)—The Heidelberg observatory tonight announced discovery of a new planetoid which it tentatively named "Nineteen Thirty-two" and which can attain a proximity of seven million kilometers to the earth. This is about 4,350,000 miles.

Frost Calls It Important.

Lake Geneva, Wis., May 24.—(AP)—Dr. Edwin Brant Frost, the internationally famous blind astronomer of Yerkes observatory near here, said tonight that discovery of a new planetoid only about 4,350,000 miles from the earth is "exceedingly important."

"Never before has a planet been observed so close to the earth," he said. "Heretofore, we considered ourselves fortunate when able to observe one eight million miles away. The new planet will enable a much more accurate scale to be made of the universe. For instance, we do not know at present the distance between the earth and sun within 50,000 miles. Measurements with the aid of the new planet should enable us to determine the distance within 10,000 miles."

SWALWELL FACES JURY ALONE IN GECHT KIDNAPING

Court Frees Finnen; Woman Tells of Captivity

Attorney Ward Swalwell last night was the sole defendant remaining on trial for the kidnaping of Dr. Max Gecht and his wife Georgia. Judge Philip L. Sullivan at the close of the state's case yesterday directed that the jury return a verdict of not guilty against Edward Finnen, saloonkeeper.

WARD SWALWELL.

Four men were indicted for the kidnaping for ransom, but two of them, John Pingera and William Thomas, pleaded guilty, leaving only Swalwell and Finnen on trial. The judge agreed with Finnen's attorney, James Burke, that the state had not presented evidence connecting Finnen with the kidnaping. Finnen had been called by Dr. Gecht to help him in his negotiations with the kidnapers, but the testimony did not involve him in any other manner.

Wife Tells of Gang Trap.

The thrill of the day for the courtroom crowd came in the testimony of Mrs. Gecht, a pretty blond, who told of the entrapment of the kidnaping gang through her encouragement of Gus Sanger, one of the kidnapers, who fell in love with her.

Sanger turned state's evidence before the grand jury and told the entire story of the kidnaping.

Mrs. Gecht told her story under questioning by Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks. It was a repetition of the testimony of her husband. They were seized in their automobile late in the evening of Dec. 10 last, she said, and driven to a cottage in Palos Park where they were held.

After Dr. Gecht had been released in order to obtain the ransom money, his wife being held as hostage, the infatuation of Sanger with the good-looking captive became evident, according to her testimony.

Kidnaper Turns His Back.

"Sanger came into the bedroom where I was being kept and gave me a cigaret and lit it for me," she told the jury. "He said, 'Let me see your pretty blond hair.' I said 'no,' but he took off my hat."

Mrs. Gecht testified to the "gentlemanly conduct" of the kidnapers. One of them stood guard, but with his back turned, while she undressed and put on a night gown, she said. Sanger took food to her and ate with her. He looked at her admiringly, she testified, and said:

"You're not the crying sort, are you? I could use a girl like you for a front when I'm running liquor. Supposing I met you on the street some time? Would you call a policeman?"

"I told him I wouldn't," said Mrs. Gecht. "I said I liked him because he had been kind to me and that if we met some time I would give him some good beer."

Tap Telephone Wires.

After $2,000 ransom had been paid and she was released in La Grange and had been returned home, she next heard from Sanger, she said, three days later. He called her on the telephone. She told him she was feeling badly and he expressed sympathy. A few minutes later, she said, a man delivered a case of Canadian beer to her home and left hurriedly.

Mrs. Gecht notified Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office of Sanger's call and the wires to her home were tapped.

Sanger telephoned several times, Mrs. Gecht told the jury. He made one engagement to meet her but did not keep it. Finally, on Dec. 31, he called, she said, and told her:

"Take a walk on the first street east of Clark street after 1 p. m. today. And don't think about fixing me up with the cops because I will have two barrels with me and will let you have both of them if the cops come up."

Sanger Falls Into Trap.

She strolled along the street as directed. Detectives in disguise were posted along the street. Sanger drove alongside her in an automobile and waved to her. She waved back and the car stopped. She walked over to the car and Sanger opened the door for her to get in. Detectives then surrounded the automobile and arrested Sanger.

Public Defender Wilbert Crowley, representing Swalwell, will begin his defense this morning.

HOOVER LEANS TO SUBMISSION OF LIQUOR ISSUE

Hopes His Plank Will Please Wets, Drys.

been hearing a great deal about the dissatisfaction with his prohibition intransigence prevailing in the wet eastern states which customarily furnish the bulk of the electoral votes and particularly in the ranks of those Republicans of wealth who customarily furnish the campaign fund.

Last week he listened to a hard luck tale along this line related to him by J. R. Nutt, national committee treasurer, and Jeremiah Milbank, eastern treasurer. They reported the party finances at a low ebb and the regular contributors indisposed to loosen their purse strings until assured that a liberal prohibition plank would be forthcoming at Chicago. There was evidence that the strike of wet Republican campaign contributors organized at Chicago a few months ago had taken effect with fatal consequences to the party treasury.

React Against Prohibition.

Then there has been a procession of Republican leaders from various parts of the country telling Mr. Hoover the reaction against prohibition is such that the party cannot hope to win next November unless it embraces resubmission. Among these was W. Kingsland Macy, Republican state chairman of New York, nominally a Republican state in state elections and contributor of the largest block of electoral votes.

Two of the wettest Republican leaders, National Committeeman Charles D. Hilles of New York and Postmaster General Brown, were closeted with the President for more than an hour this afternoon in discussion of party policies.

The President has been under much pressure from his cabinet to change his attitude on prohibition. There is only one uncompromising prohibitionist—Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur—left in the cabinet.

What with the popular reaction against prohibition and the known pressure to which the President was being subjected by wet Republican leaders the heads of the dry organizations have been exhibiting signs of alarm. In various ways they have threatened Mr. Hoover with withdrawal of their support, if he wavers in devotion to the prohibition cause.

Moves to Repeal 18th Amendment.

Another move to obtain a vote in congress on prohibition before the end of this session materialized today in a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] proposing a 20th amendment to the constitution repealing the 18th amendment. The amendment would return liquor control to the states, with the federal government empowered to regulate sale and transportation of intoxicating beverages in interstate and foreign commerce.

At the request of Senator Bingham the resolution was committed to the presiding officer's table instead of being referred to a committee, the senator explaining that he took this course because of the failure of the judiciary committee to act on repeal and modification measures now before it. He said he would demand an early vote on taking the resolution from the table, which would test the sense of the senate on resubmission.

KIRK KIDNAPING SUSPECTS ONLY DANCE TEACHERS

Early in April a police guard was stationed at the home of Wallace F. Kirk, 1100 Lake Shore drive, when fears of a plot to kidnap Mr. Kirk's stepchildren, Vesta and Samuel A. Culbertson II., were expressed. Two men had made inquiries about the children, it was said, and a governess reported that the same men, in a car bearing an Ohio license, had watched them closely on the street. Yesterday the car was found and also its owners, Arthur Pitkelley and Lester B. Eldridge, 1317½ North State street. The men, both about 25 years old, convinced the police they were dancing instructors and not kidnapers. They were released.

MAYOR WALKER TESTIFIES TODAY; N. Y. IS ALL EARS

Ten Thousand Try to Get Seats for Hearing.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Mayor James J. Walker will face Samuel Seabury from the witness stand tomorrow at a public hearing of the Hofstadter committee. He will be called upon to render a serious accounting of his conduct in the office he has filled so gayly since January, 1926.

Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter, chairman of the joint legislative committee which for more than a year has been investigating the Tammany controlled administration which Mr. Walker heads, notified him today that his presence would be required at the Supreme court building at 10:30 a. m.

Subpoena Mayor's Records.

A subpoena duces tecum, calling for the production of all the mayor's personal financial records for the period from January 1926 to the present, was served upon him. It called upon him also to produce whatever data he has regarding business transactions with seven individuals interested in bus franchises and taxicab control.

Among the seven names was that of State Senator John A. Hastings, who was a silent partner in the Equitable Coach company, an employé of the Terminal Taxicab company and a stock holder in a company seeking to sell tiles to contractors building city subways. It was the Brooklyn senator, testimony has indicated, who arranged and paid for many of the mayor's trips about the country which has come to look upon Mr. Walker as "the typical New Yorker."

Taxi Backers Named.

Another name on the list is that of Russell T. Sherwood, whose business affairs were so entangled with the mayor's that it was sometimes hard to determine the division line, and who is at present in Mexico, having defied the court's demand he return. Three backers of the Equitable Coach company, Frank R. Fageol, William O'Neill, and J. Allan Smith, were named in the subpoena along with J. A. Sisto, taxicab financier and donor of $26,500 bonds to the mayor and John J. McKeon, who delivered the securities.

Interest in the mayor's testimony is so great that the committee is overwhelmed with requests for tickets to the hearing. More than ten thousand persons have indicated an eagerness to be admitted to the room, which cannot hold more than 300 comfortably, and that is only an infinitesimal fraction of those who would like to get in.

Tammany Wants to Hear.

The demands of Tammany alone have been enormous, but the physical limitations of the courtroom will prevent much of a cheering section. All sorts of political, social, business, and financial pressure is being used to obtain admission.

Upon Mr. Walker's answers to the questions of the ruddy cheeked, white haired chief counsel, who is his temperamental antithesis, much may depend beside the mayor's own political future.

He owes allegiance to Tammany hall and he never has pretended otherwise. He has boasted that he was proud to follow the directions of John F. Curry, the organization's leader. His interests and those of Tammany are irrevocably joined.

By this time there is little doubt in the minds of the mayor's friends that Mr. Seabury intends to demand his removal from office unless by his testimony he can knock down the chief counsel's carefully erected circumstantial case. Such action might have a decisive effect upon Gov. Roosevelt's chances of winning the Democratic nomination for President.

The moment of calling the mayor to the stand has been one for which Mr. Seabury has prepared with infinite care. Tammany's spokesmen have voiced the suspicion that he is not without political ambition himself.

Question of Immunity.

It will be a tense and dramatic moment when the reserved and elderly chief counsel proffers the dapper, jaunty mayor the customary waiver of immunity and asks him to sign on the dotted line. With the exception of Senator Hastings, not one of the seven men whose names appeared on the subpoena served yesterday on the mayor has been willing to sign away his constitutional guaranties against self-incrimination.

TYDINGS SAYS G. O. P. WEIGHS COMMAS TO CATCH ALL VOTES

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—When news of President Hoover's platform making activities was noised about the senate, Senator Millard Tydings [Dem., Md.] popped to his feet and delivered himself of this:

"The Republican gentlemen who write platforms already are wielding their pencils. They are weighing comma and period, changing an 'is' to a 'was' or a 'was' to an 'is' in order that the plank may not go too far in any direction so that it may satisfy both wets and drys and so get Mr. Hoover the vote of everybody. I have learned by grapevine that they have agreed to use the word referendum, but not the word revision because that was used in speaking of the revision of the tariff which resulted in the Smoot-Hawley act and so much suffering for the country."

The senator deplored the belatedness of the President's modification of attitude which if earlier manifest might have led to the passage of beer tax legislation and consequent relief of the treasury to the extent of 500 millions.

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] demanded whether Senator Tydings could predict what the Democratic plank on prohibition would be.

"I can," answered Senator Tydings confidently, and prophesied that the Democratic plank would be a forthright proposal that the prohibition question be returned to the states.

"Can the senator from Illinois tell me what the Republican plank will be?" Senator Tydings asked.

"I am not the prophet the senator is," answered Senator Glenn. "I do not pretend to know what the plank of either party will be."

JACOBS HINTS BANK ACCOUNTS WON'T BE TAXED

Definite Decision Awaits Cisar Opinion.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Assessor J. L. Jacobs in all probability, will make no effort to tax bank deposits in Cook county.

While declining to announce his policy definitely, until the Supreme court files its formal opinion in the Lillian Cisar case, Mr. Jacobs admitted yesterday that no plan has been developed to place savings and commercial bank accounts upon the tax rolls. He gave other indications that he will not go gunning for bank deposits.

"Do you intend to assess bank deposits?" Mr. Jacobs was asked pointedly.

"The whole question of intangibles has been referred to Attorney Hayden Bell for his views," replied Mr. Jacobs. "He has been waiting for the opinion of the Supreme court in the Cisar case, which he thinks may be helpful."

Urged to Tax Bank Accounts.

In that case, the courts were urged to order bank deposits—estimated at $3,060,177,794—assessed for taxes at the same rate as other property. The last call for both state and national banks showed $2,140,039,000 of deposits, distributed as follows:

	Nat'l banks.	State banks.
Savings	$ 23,395,000	$ 446,119,000
Commercial	541,606,000	1,128,820,000
Totals	$565,001,000	$1,574,948,000

Some of these several hundred thousand bank depositors have exhibited concern regarding the policy of the new assessor. If they are to be taxed some may move their money to other jurisdictions where bank deposits are exempt. So Mr. Jacobs was asked again:

"Will you attempt to tax commercial and savings accounts in the banks?"

"There may be some instructions on this subject in the Supreme court opinion," answered Mr. Jacobs. "The lawyers and County Judge Jareckl are hoping there will be instructions which will inform the lower courts and also be a guide to the tax assessors in Chicago and throughout the state."

"Can Depositors Afford Taxes?"

"Do you think that banks throughout the middle west will leave their deposits in Chicago if they are assessed," he was asked again. "Can owners of savings accounts afford to pay taxes on their deposits? Will taxing deposits encourage or discourage the deposit of cash in banks?"

"I believe that I am as alert and appreciative to the business and economic conditions as any student of this situation," Mr. Jacobs snapped back. "I deem it inappropriate at present to say what I have in mind relative to taxing bank deposits, but let me say this:

"It is my purpose to obtain a fair and reasonable assessment—one that is not confiscatory. Not only must the assessment be fair and reasonable, but it must stand in the courts and be collectable. To obtain such an assessment, I believe that it will be necessary to get the confidence of the people, yet, even more than that, their coöperation. There is no one in Chicago more eager to obtain normal business conditions than I am, and necessarily that view enters into my reasoning on tax assessments."

Nixon Is Sworn In.

George F. Nixon was sworn in yesterday as a member of the board of tax appeals by County Clerk Sweitzer. Fred W. Brummel, another member, was inducted into office last week. Mr. Nixon told friends who gathered for the ceremony that taxes are so high they are actually injuring the city and county.

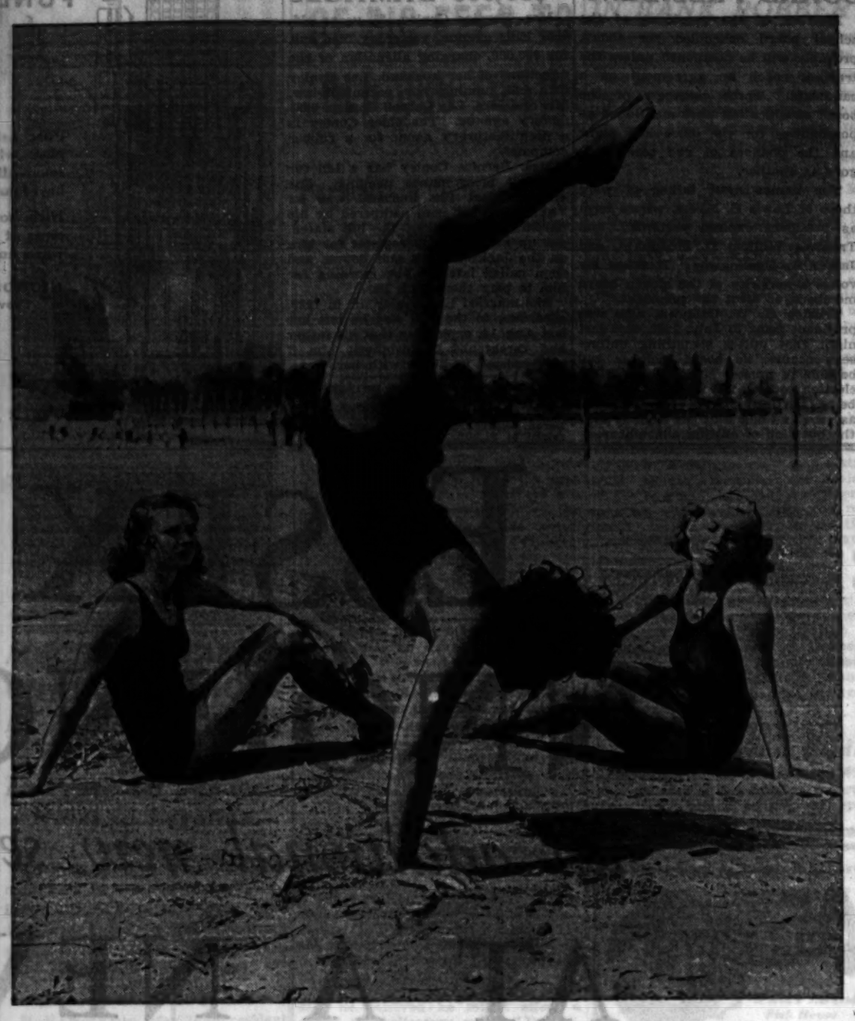

"There is a real basis for the popular protest against taxes," said Mr. Nixon. "From my own experience I am certain that the tax load on real estate is too heavy. Tens of thousands cannot pay, although they earnestly desire to contribute their share to the cost of government.

"The current tax collections prove that conclusively. More than $170,000,000 remains unpaid of the county's aggregate tax bill of $290,000,000.

"The value of property is accordingly depreciated unnecessarily and unjustly. When the cost of government becomes so large and the consequent taxes so heavy that it is undesirable to own real estate, that community is in a very serious condition. I believe that Chicago is in that condition.

"While a membership on the board of appeals offers an unusual opportunity, I also think it imposes a heavy responsibility, but it is my earnest desire to do a good job."

MERCURY RISES TO 86°; RAIN IS DUE TOMORROW

Lawns and Gardens Hit by Dry Spell.

Chicago experienced the second hottest day of the year yesterday. The mercury hovered at 86 degrees in the late afternoon. The weather bureau predicted cloudy and slightly cooler weather today and said that showers are probable tomorrow.

The weather bureau reported yesterday that the rainfall thus far this year is 3.1 inches short of the normal, the last rain of consequence having fallen on May 7. May has shown extremes of warm and cool weather. Forecaster C. A. Donnel reported that the excess of temperature above the normal for the month amounted to 2.2 degrees.

The hottest day of the year, May 15, saw the mercury at 89. The hottest May 24 on record in Chicago was in 1921, with a temperature of 93 degrees. The present spring drought is approaching the dry spring of 1921, when the smallest amount of rainfall for any May on record was reported.

Stops Mowing in Park.

The mowing of grass in Lincoln park was stopped yesterday upon orders of H. O. Weege, superintendent. Mr. Weege reported that much of the newer park grass had been burned to a point where further mowing would be detrimental. He said the park system had suffered from lack of normal spring rains, but believed a good rain in the next few days would revive growth.

"It would take 200 men to water the grassed areas in the park system," said Mr. Weege. "Even this would be but temporary relief. Trees and shrubs with deeper root systems have not been injured thus far."

Suburbanites reported excessively dry yards and gardens, with newly seeded lawns endangered.

Flowers Are Stunted.

Such perennial flowers as iris and peonies have been stunted somewhat by the lack of rainfall this spring. The thousands of needy families have been able to cultivate and seed back yard and vacant lot vegetable gardens during the month, but rains are badly needed for the quick crops, such as radishes, lettuce, and carrots, it was reported.

U. S. BEATEN IN DISARM VOTE CONDEMNING AIRCRAFT CARRIERS

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 24.—(AP)—Over American opposition the air commission of the disarmament conference today adopted a Japanese resolution declaring that the offensive possibilities of aircraft are increased by the mobility of aircraft carriers.

The vote was a blow at carriers, which Japan, along with small powers that have none, regards as offensive weapons.

The American opposition was voiced by Allen W. Dulles and was supported only by Portugal. Great Britain and France abstained from participation in the debate.

Policeman on Trial for Conduct in Shooting

Evidence on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer against Michael Gorman, suspended south park policeman, was heard yesterday by Col. H. C. Carbaugh, civil service officer. Gorman was arrested in connection with the fatal shooting of James Mahoney, south park laborer, in a barbecue stand at 5544 Indiana avenue on March 11. The grand jury declined to vote a true bill two weeks ago.

JURY DECIDES $1 SUIT AS IT EATS A $9 LUNCHEON

Mrs. Vera Annunziata, 854 Blue Island avenue, submitted her suit for $10,000 against Dr. Joseph A. Pfister, a dentist with offices at 32 North State street, to a jury before Judge Marcus Kavanagh yesterday.

Mrs. Annunziata had to have a tooth extracted and went to Dr. Pfister with a chart from the family dentist indicating the ailing tooth. She testified that she also pointed out the upper left second bicuspid to Dr. Pfister with her finger.

At 11:40 o'clock the jury retired.

At 11:50 o'clock the jury sent out for lunch, which cost the county $9.

AIRMEN SPLIT ON WHETHER FLYING SEA IS FEASIBLE

Some Sure Aviation Must Be Developed Further.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, May 24.—The fifty-three aviators who have flown across the Atlantic or Pacific ocean split today, the third day of their convention here, over the question of whether, with the type of planes and navigation instruments existing at present, it is possible to establish regular commercial routes between Europe and America.

Harold Gatty, American round-the-world flyer, told the conference he thought the route from Harbor Grace to Ireland possible with proper navigation instruments and provided the pilots were trained to fly blind and land in fogs.

Other Flyers Disagree.

Albert Hegenberger, who flew from San Francisco to Hawaii, was of the opinion that the type of plane necessary for trans-oceanic flights on regular schedules had not yet been perfected, although he believed it soon would be.

Jean Assolant, French flyer, flatly declared that flights between Europe and America on regular schedule are impossible because of the distance, uncertain weather, and imperfect machines.

The German aviators agreed with the Americans about the feasibility of the northern routes, while the Spaniards and Italians preferred to concentrate on developing regular air services between Europe and South America.

Two Commissions Named.

In order to get the conference down to definite proposals, Capt. Holden Richardson proposed limiting discussion to specific recommendations, whereupon Gen Italo Balbo, leader of the Italian formation flight across the South Atlantic, proposed the nomination of two commissions, one dealing with North Atlantic crossings and the other with South Atlantic crossings.

These commissions tomorrow will make reports based on the following questions:

"Is it possible to establish regular air routes between Europe and America? What routes should be chosen? What months are best adapted to flying over these routes? What is the best type of plane to use?"

Three Americans, Gatty, George Haldeman, and Richardson, were named members of the North Atlantic committee.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO GIVE MISS EARHART U. S. FLYING CROSS

Washington, D. C., May 24.—(AP)—The senate today passed a bill to authorize President Hoover to award the Distinguished Flying Cross to Amelia Earhart Putnam for her trans-Atlantic solo flight.

The legislation was offered by Senator Falcott [Rep., Conn.], who said the flyer was "modest, retiring, courageous, and resourceful." It was approved by the senate unanimously without debate.

Mrs. Putnam has flown more than 1,500 solo hours. Her Atlantic nonstop flight of 2,065 miles gives her the woman's long distance record. She is the only person who has ever crossed the Atlantic twice by airplane. She and Col. Lindbergh are the only two who have crossed the Atlantic in solo flight.

Shortly after the senate action a similar bill was introduced in the house by Florence P. Kahn of California.

Plan Aerial Tour of Mexico.

New York, May 24.—(AP)—George Palmer Putnam, publisher, says he and his wife, the former Amelia Earhart, hope to make an aerial tour of Mexico, Central America and South America this summer. He said the trip would be made in commercial planes and would demonstrate the safety of flying to women in countries visited.

BLAMES RACING TOUTS FOR HIS $10,000 THEFT

How race track touts inveigled him into losing $10,000 of his employers' money within a year was revealed last night by Roy F. Popp, 36 years old, of 5328 Fletcher street, former cashier for Spencer Trask & Co., investment house at 208 South La Salle street.

Popp surrendered yesterday to Sergt. Michael Ahern of the state's attorney's office, on a charge of stealing approximately $19,000 of the company's money, and was held at the detective bureau last night. He is married and the father of three children.

"When the market crashed, I lost $1,300," said Popp. "I then used the firm's money to play the market, and lost about $9,000. Then, a year ago, I tried the horses. I met a number of touts. They furnished tips, and made bets for me. I bet as high as $350 on a horse, and when I won, I never won more than two to one. The touts played me all right. One would work me untill I lost about $1,000, then a new one would come. They'd demand bonuses for their tips, too."

Popp furnished police with the names of twelve touts and six handbooks. Four of these are in the loop and two near his home. Police said they would question all concerned.

DEKALB JUDGE DIES OF INJURIES.

Dekalb, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—Judge Henry W. Prentice, 60, of Dekalb, died today from injuries received in an automobile accident a week ago. Both legs were broke. He also suffered a fractured skull. He sat on the bench in Chicago a number of times.

Wales Calls Amelia Putnam for a Date; Is Kept Waiting

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 24.—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam was so busy being the only woman trans-Atlantic flyer in London today that the prince of Wales nearly experienced the first failure by a person to accept one of his invitations that he has known.

A telephone call was sent to the American embassy that the prince would like to have Mrs. Putnam visit him at St. James's palace, but for a long time she could not be found. She was barely located in time for the interview.

Did Some "Ground Flying."

"We just did some ground flying," Mrs. Putnam said as she rode back to the American embassy, where she is staying. "He congratulated me warmly on my flight from Newfoundland and I told him the story of the flight."

Mrs. Putnam had another message from the British royal family today. The second was a letter from Buckingham palace saying that King George and Queen Mary regretted that the message of congratulations which they had telegraphed her while she was still in Londonderry, northern Ireland, near where she landed, had not reached her. They reiterated their admiration for her achievement.

Mr. Putnam will probably come to Europe after all, Mrs. Putnam said today.

"I have told him I wanted to see him in every phone call and cable since I landed," she said. "Now I think he will sail from New York Thursday or Friday and return to America with me a week or so later."

Abandons Trip to Rome.

The aviatrix today abandoned her plan to go to Rome for the convention of ocean flyers there due to a misunderstanding as to the duration of the meetings. She had already promised to lunch with the Royal Aero club and dine at the Royal Aeronautical society on Thursday, the same day, she was informed today, that the business at the Rome congress will be wound up. She plans, however, to visit Paris, which she has never seen. She will leave probably for there at the end of the week.

DO-X Back Home.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 24.—The giant German flying boat DO-X ended a trans-Atlantic journey of nearly two years, in which it covered about 16,000 miles, when it arrived from England today at Mueggel lake near Berlin.

The giant ship, which left Lake Constance, Switzerland, in November, 1930, and visited North and South America, finished its trip by speeding through menacing storm areas in northern Germany without mishap. Previously its log had recorded one delay and near-disaster after another due to bad weather or faulty functioning.

As the air liner flew into the sight of thousands gathered outside Berlin to welcome its return, a roar of cheers went up. The plane circled the lake and made a beautiful landing.

Second Woman to Fly Sea.

Fraulein Antonia Strassman stepped out of the DO-X as the second woman to cross the Atlantic by plane. She boarded the boat in the United States as a passenger-purser.

The crew of the DO-X ended their trip in high spirits. Capt. Friederich Christiansen said he wished to express his appreciation for his reception in America.

The DO-X left Lake Constance on Nov. 5, 1930, going by easy stages to Lisbon, Portugal. Here the first of a series of misfortunes befell it when fire damaged one wing and it was not able to resume its flight until early in 1931. From Portugal it visited Africa, Brazil, and then New York. It left New York on May 15 for Holyrood, Newfoundland, to begin its return journey. After leaving Newfoundland, it stopped at the Azores, Spain and England.

LOG OF YACHT IN LINDBERGH HUNT REVEALS FAITH

[Copyright: 1932: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Herewith is presented part of the log of the yacht Marcon, on which, for 35 days, John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk, Va., boat builder, conducted his "negotiations" for the return of the Lindbergh baby.

The log, covering the period of Curtis' activities aboard it, is being presented on successive days in three installments, of which this is the first. In releasing it through the CHICAGO TRIBUNE Press Service for publication, Capt. Frank H. Lackmann, skipper of the Marcon, and Col. Charles Consolvo, owner of the craft, said they desired to clear up any doubt about their good faith in the ship's operations, which they regarded as errands of mercy.

First Curtis Contact March 18.

Seemingly indicating there was more than sheer poppycock behind Curtis' original story, the first section of the log follows:

March 18—First approached by John Hughes Curtis concerning use of Marcon in Lindbergh case. Consulted Col. Consolvo. Said: "I will give them the Marcon if they find the baby. Advise Curtis boat could be ready on few hours' notice."

March 26—Curtis returned from trip to Hopewell. Told of himself, Burrage, and Peacock having dinner at Lindbergh home.

March 27—Baltimore papers print story that Marcon will be used by Curtis.

April 2—Took canvas off and moved from winter quarters to the main dock of the Curtis Gas Engine corporation, prepared to make a trip to sea at a moment's notice from Curtis.

April 9—After a week's standing by, asked Curtis about taking on fuel and supplies. He instructed me to take on full supplies.

Arranges Signal with Aviator.

April 16—Curtis ordered me to stand by closely. Crew so instructed. Curtis said he expected something to break any hour.

April 17—11:05 p. m., received long distance call in Hotel Monticello from Curtis instructing me to be ready to sail the following night; that somebody would be on board with me; also to get charts for winter quarter lightship and have a taffrail log aboard.

April 22—5:05 p. m., Curtis returned to his plant and said a Mr. Alec Swanson would be aboard. Wanted me to cut my crew to a minimum. The car which brought Mr. Swanson brought a Browning machine gun and a number of smaller firearms. The party consisted of Edwin Bruce, Lieut. Richard, Alec Swanson, and John Curtis. Capt. Whiting [commandant of Norfolk naval air station], Lieut. Richard and I arranged a signal—a white sheet laying on top of after awning if baby was picked up. This would enable Capt. Whiting's plane to furnish needed protection.

Lindbergh Called Alec Swanson.

Cast off at 7:40 and headed down roads. While under way was introduced to Col. Lindbergh. All agreed he should be known as Alex Swanson, as he did not want it known he was aboard.

10:25 p. m., Mr. Curtis came to me and said the name of the boat we are looking for is Mary B. Moss, a Gloucester fisherman, black hull. Lindbergh turned in, asking to be called at 4 a. m. Curtis instructed me to go 20 knots due east of lightship, where M. B. M. was to be, according to radio advices telephoned to Curtis.

April 23—2:50 a. m., arrived point of contact. Cruised around until 6 a. m. Called Lindbergh at 4 a. m. At 6:35 a. m., sighted fishing smack east by south of our position. Increased speed and approached ship. Party armed themselves. Machine gun was brought on deck. We circled ship twice. As we got close to the boat, Curtis said that was not the ship.

Curtis Tells of New Message.

We cruised around until 8:50 a. m. Sighted plane twice. It landed on water under our stern and remained 18 minutes. Left with Lieut. Richard at 9:08 a. m. Cruised around location until 1:05 p. m. Headed for York river. 4:40 p. m., docked at government fuel supply docks. Lindbergh himself jumping on the dock to take the lines. Installed receiving set. Cast off again at 9:50 p. m.

April 24.—Passed through Virginia capes at 2 a. m., making for same position. Curtis received in Yorktown following message from M. B. M.: "Has yacht double exhaust? Heard your exhaust. Had company. Be patient. Will break through."

AIR LINE PRESIDENT SEIZED IN WEST IN AN ALIEN SMUGGLING PLOT

Long Beach, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—Mark C. Tancrel, 42, president of Latin American Airways, was arrested here on a Miami, Fla., warrant. He will be questioned in connection with a story told by Capt. William Lancaster, British war flyer, which involved Tancrel in an airplane alien smuggling plot. Lancaster is in jail in Miami on a charge of slaying Hayden Clarke, fiancé of Mrs. Keith-Miller, English aviatrix. A charge of impersonating an army officer was placed against Tancrel, based on charges that he had represented himself in Miami as a captain of the United States army. Taken before United States Commander David B. Head, Tancrel waived a hearing and said he would return to Miami to face the charge.

BROKER HELD TO GRAND JURY IN ESTATE CASE

Circuit Judge Thomas Taylor held Raymond E. Procknow, 6226 North Mozart street, a former investment broker, to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of perjury. It was testified before the judge in a civil case that Procknow had forged documents in an effort to retain $50,000 of the assets of the estate of William Garnett, an attorney, who died in 1930.

Mrs. Marion G. Wilson, 1640 East 50th street, daughter of Garnett and executrix of his estate, produced receipts, checks, and bank books in proof of her claim.

Procknow presented a letter purporting to have been written by Garnett shortly before his death authorising him to keep $10,000 worth of the securities, and a check. Jay Fordyce Wood, a handwriting expert, testified the letter was a forgery and that the check had been raised from $1,250 to $4,250.

Judge Taylor, in addition to holding Procknow on the criminal charge, ordered him to restore to Mrs. Wilson $30,280 in cash and $5,000 in bonds within 20 days.

Jafsie Appeals to Kidnapers to Return Lindy's $50,000

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—"Jafsie" has set out to recover the $50,000 of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's money he tossed over a cemetery hedge to an alleged kidnaper as ransom for the Lindbergh baby.

From a fishing camp near Becket, Mass., Dr. John F. [Jafsie] Condon dictated a message to the "Scandinavian called John" who had tricked him and Col. Lindbergh out of the ransom. He gave the message to the representative of a Springfield, Mass., newspaper, and it said:

"John: Money I gave you is useless. You can't get rid of it. Return to Col. Lindbergh in time. Get your $25,000 reward."

The message was signed "Jafsie," the name he made up from the way his three initials, J. F. C., sound when pronounced rapidly. He gave out the message after reporters told him the legislature of New Jersey had authorized a reward for the kidnapers-murderers up to $25,000, and that Gov. A. Harry Moore had signed the bill and proclaimed the reward.

"Jafsie" thinks the offer of a big reward is one of the best acts since the child's body was found ten days ago. He is "convinced" that "John" will submit to his personal wishes in the matter of returning the $50,000 if he sees the appeal and will send the money back to Col. Lindbergh. He didn't say how it would be possible for "John" to collect the $25,000 reward merely by returning the ransom.

Dr. Condon told reporters on the way up to Becket that he was hunting for the kidnapers and that he was going to organize a "Jafsie fraternity" to combat crime and seek the kidnapers, but he seemed to have forgotten that today and announced that for the present his plans are to spend two days in camp with Walter Goodwin, a Bronx man who drove him up to Becket, to fish and rest.

The Bronx school teacher drove to Becket yesterday. The New Jersey state police said they expected him back on Wednesday to search the rogues' gallery in Newark for a trace of "John."

The Bronx grand jury held another hearing on the ransom transaction in the Lindbergh case today and heard three witnesses—Morris Rosner, the so-called "fixer" who once said positively that the baby would be returned alive and who became a recognized agent for Col. Lindbergh; Gregory F. Coleman, city editor of the Bronx Home News, the newspaper through which "Jafsie" communicated with the man who got the ransom, and Detective Sergeant James Finn.

Camden, N. J., May 24.—[Special.]—A note headed "Englewood, N. J." and reading "Will see you in Camden, N. J.; how is the baby tonight?" was found tonight by Camden police in a man's camel hair overcoat which was hanging on a fence surrounding the Sheltering Arms Home for Friendless Children here. With the coat was a white blanket.

The contents of the note and the circumstances under which it was found were communicated to state police at Hopewell when Camden detectives pressed an investigation. Whether Hopewell authorities believed the note to be relative to the Lindbergh case was not learned here.

League Names American to Help Find Aid for Austria

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 24.—(AP)—The council of the league of nations today named Norman H. Davis of the United States to serve on the mixed commission of experts which will formulate a scheme for the financial relief of Austria, Greece, and Hungary. Mr. Davis is a member of the league's financial committee.

EXPECT DELAY IN NAMING SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT

Election of the president of the school board scheduled for today, probably will be postponed unless the trustees reach an agreement on a candidate. Three members of the board of education were mentioned as possibilities for the office last night and the chances of one seemed as good as another.

The names most talked of were those of Lewis E. Myers, whose term as president expired yesterday, and Trustees William D. McJunkin, and James A. Hemingway. It takes six votes, a majority of the eleven board members, to elect the president.

Trustee H. W. Caldwell, who was president prior to July, 1930, said last night that unless something unforeseen occurs, no board member will be able to muster sufficient votes for election today. "It does not seem to be a partisan fight," Mr. Caldwell asserted, adding that the fight is over the question of cutting expenditures.

DESERTED WIFE SUES IN-LAWS FOR $50,000 DAMAGES

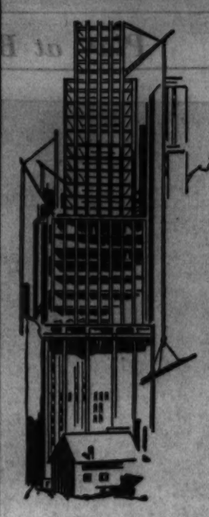

Mrs. Bernice Conley, 21 years old, 7957 Ellis avenue, yesterday filed suit for $50,000, charging alienation of the affections of her husband, Lee Conley Jr., and naming her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carroll Conley, 6838 Jeffery avenue. The elder Conley is a manufacturer's agent for a rubber company.

Mrs. Bernice Conley has a bill for separate maintenance pending. She charged that her husband was an "apron string" son, pampered by his parents. His mother, the bill stated, got up at 5 a. m. to register for him on the Jackson Park golf course and then called later in the morning for him to play there with her.

She married Lee Conley Jr. in 1929, according to the bill, and he left her last Aug. 14, explaining that his father had threatened to disinherit him if he persisted in living with her.

ROB SHOP OF $1,500 DRESSES.

JOBLESS FLEE NEW ZEALAND'S "RELIEF CAMPS"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., May 24.—State created misery is present in New Zealand today as never before, and throughout the islands a revolt has arisen against the government. The revolt is none the less dangerous because it is wordless and almost leaderless, and because the recent public safety act denies it the means of expression through public demonstration.

The underground movement against the government is brought about by the conditions in the so-called "relief camps" to which men have been shipped like cattle, and where they have worked in conditions of hopelessness. In recent weeks a steady stream of men has departed from the camps, despite the fact that this "desertion" disqualifies them from all further relief. One man, bootless, walked 50 miles from the camp at Akatarawa to Wellington, making his way over rough roads and through winter rains rather than stay in the place. And Akatarawa is regarded an almost model camp compared to others.

About 100,000 Unemployed.

None knows how many unemployed there are in New Zealand, but registrations stand at between 40,000 and 50,000. These figures do not include women, of whom there are about 20,000 unemployed, while no provision is made for registration of youths under 21. The total unemployed is generally estimated at from 90,000 to 100,000, or almost one out of every three of the employable population and one out of fifteen of the total population, including the natives.

All kinds of workers are represented in this jobless figure. Over a year ago the government admitted state responsibility for these hapless persons by passing the national unemployment insurance act, which provided for a system of taxes on all wage earners to provide a central fund for the unemployed. This system of taxation was estimated to reach the annual total of $6,250,000, raised by means of a levy on workers' wages of 1¼ cents to the dollar. This was increased by a vote from the fund raised by general taxation, the subsidy being at the rate of dollar for dollar. Lately this taxation has been increased to 5 cents on the dollar, and the subsidy from general taxation has been abolished.

One Form of Relief.

But with this money the government has provided only one form of relief—payment for laboring work. Cabinet ministers have refused to pay money for no work. Men have been called upon to take their turns with shovel and pick. No mechanical excavation tools have been used, though there are plenty of them available.

The object has been to provide the men with work, which has been of the most futile description.

Almost total failure has greeted the state's efforts to absorb the unemployed labor for the obvious reason that there is nothing which can be done. Useful land is practically all under cultivation. There are no mineral resources of any consequence. There are no openings for the foundation of new manufactures.

Relief Camps Created.

The continued growth of unemployment and the failure of the system of taxation to yield sufficient money for the men to be engaged on a full time basis led to the decision to create relief camps in the country.

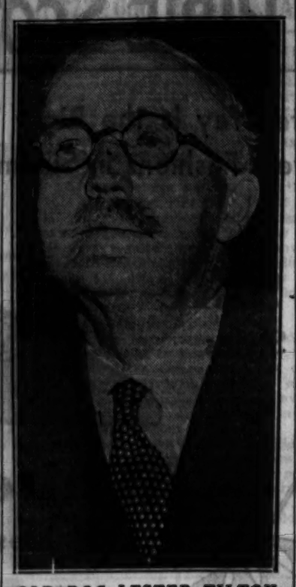

These camps were first intended to take care of the single men, to make available more jobs for married men whom the government did not wish to take away from their homes. At the same time some camps have been created for the benefit of married men and many husbands have entered them, especially in the Auckland province, where three such camps are in operation.

In the first place all unmarried men were not sent to the camps, but if any man was asked to go to a camp and refused he was debarred from all further relief. Now, however, the government has ordered all single unemployed workers to go under canvas at once and this drastic movement is behind the discontent. It is reinforced by the persistent refusal to grant relief to women, though they are taxed the same as the men, and the fact that working wages have been cut under a new system which is designed to provide continuous employment for all married men.

MACHADO TAKES CHARGE OF PROBE IN TERROR PLOT

Ex-President Menocal Hides in Legation.

BULLETIN.

HAVANA, May 24.—(AP)—Four men held in the bomb murder of Lieut. Diego Diaz last week were shot and killed by their military guard today. It is alleged they were slain trying to get away.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, May 24.—President Gerardo Machado, as commander in chief of all national forces and the police, today took personal charge of all investigations in connection with the revolutionary and terrorist conspiracy to overthrow his government which was discovered last Thursday.

The president disclosed today that he had ordered Carlos Mendieta, president of the Union Nacionalista party, and Alberto Mendez Penate, former governor of Santa Clara province, sent to the national prison on the Isle of Pines. They will leave at midnight with hundreds of others arrested on board gunboats.

Menocal Hides in Legation.

Former President Mario G. Menocal, whom the police have been seeking as a ringleader of the plot, has taken refuge in the Brazilian legation here.

The Brazilian minister, Frederico Castello Plaz, at noon today officially informed Secretary of Interior Octavio Zubizarreta that Menocal arrived at the legation yesterday afternoon, demanded protection and intends to remain there indefinitely.

Zubizarreta stated that the government cannot arrest Menocal because, under international law, he is now in Brazilian terrory and fully protected by that nation's flag.

Thus Cuba for the first time is confronted with the problem of interpreting the "covenant for international asylum" adopted Feb. 18, 1928, by all Pan-American republics during the sixth Pan-American conference. Cuba and Brazil are the only countries which have ratified the covenant.

Police Surround Legation.

Zubizarreta announced tonight that the government has demanded that the Brazilian minister assume responsibility for Menocal to stop the conspiracy while under the legation's protection, pending an interpretation of the covenant. The Cuban government, Zubizarreta said, declines to accept the Brazilian viewpoint.

Detective squads tonight surrounded the Brazilian legation. Zubizarreta notified the Brazilian minister that the government will discard international immunity if Menocal attempts to leave the country. The government considers the Brazilian minister's private automobile and any foreign ship or plane carrying Menocal to foreign territory as immune, but not the space between the automobile and plane or steamer. Detectives, therefore, have been instructed to arrest Menocal the minute he steps outside the legation or makes ready to board a steamer or plane.

WITNESSES TELL OF BIG FEES TO OLD DOC TILTON

Persons of Small Means Paid for "Cures."

The stories of persons in humble circumstances who paid large fees to old Doc Lester Tilton to cure relatives who were afflicted with cancer were continued yesterday before Judge Rudolph F. Desort. Tilton and two others are on trial for conspiracy to violate the medical practice act.

The wonder working black specifics, pyroligneous compounds, and salves which Tilton extracted from the peat beds of his downstate farm did not arrest, but in most cases hastened, the deaths of the patients whom Tilton had promised to cure after reputable physicians had given them up, the testimony indicated.

Mrs. Sophie Czarnik, elderly housewife of 905 North Campbell avenue, testified she took her husband, William, to the clinic conducted by Tilton at the Felician convent, 3800 Peterson road. She went there at the suggestion of a neighbor after her family physician had diagnosed her husband's case as incurable, she said.

Say "Cure" Cost $150.

"Dr. Tilton took my husband into a room, opened his mouth, and said 'cancer,'" the woman testified. "He said the cure would cost $150."

"And where is your husband now?" asked Assistant State's Attorney Charles A. Bellows.

"Dead," she replied. "Once he started taking the medicine he lasted only two months."

Theodore Klank, a policeman, of 3929 Blake street, took his 85 year old mother to the convent clinic, where she was examined by Tilton and a codefendant, Dr. Joseph Duffy, he said. He paid a $500 fee, he added.

"After the examination Dr. Duffy said he believed he might effect a cure," the policeman said. "Dr. Tilton was more positive. He guaranteed a cure. The treatment went on for several months, until I had paid $500. Finally mother passed away."

Dies After Being "Cured."

Another witness, John Leonard, 2440 South Whipple street, testified that his wife, Rose, died two months after Tilton and Dr. Duffy had pronounced her cured. Physicians at the county hospital, he said, had pronounced her case incurable. It was then that he went to the Tilton clinic and paid $250 for a course of five treatments, the husband said.

"When I paid the last installment Dr. Duffy told me my wife was cured," the witness said. "Two months later she was dead."

During a recess Mrs. Louise Thomson, sister of the wealthy Mrs. Kitty Gunn-Jones, whose estate has been in litigation since her death, approached Judge Desort with information that Tilton had treated Mrs. Gunn-Jones shortly before her death. The judge referred Mrs. Thomson to Prosecutor Bellows, who informed her that, inasmuch as the alleged treatments had been given more than 18 months ago, the evidence would be barred by the statute of limitations.

Natives Drop in Tracks as Malaria Sweeps Africa

MBABANE, Swaziland, May 24.—(AP)—An epidemic of malaria, which caused 1,200 deaths in Natal in April, is raging in Swaziland, where it has reached unprecedented proportions. Motor cars are being sent out to pick up stricken natives, who are dropping in their tracks while trying to get to hospitals. Mahamba hospital, which has beds for only twenty patients, is accommodating 207 malarial cases.

POLICEMEN HELD IN $200,000 BONDS IN BANK ROBBERY

Assistant Chief of Police Clarence Goss and Patrolman George Kmetz of Streator waived examination yesterday and were held to the La Salle county grand jury in bonds of $100,000 each as accomplices in the $52,000 robbery of the Union National bank of Streator last week. They were charged with robbery with a gun before Justice of the Peace Frank McGrath at Ottawa.

Three other alleged members of the bandit gang were bound over in similar bonds. They are Abe Rotskoff, 25 years old, 2709 Washington boulevard, Chicago, and Frank Cigrani and Joseph Casmano of Streator. A sixth defendant, Ike Katzowitz, 28 years old, 4026 West 16th street, Chicago, gained a continuance until Saturday on the plea of Attorney Charles McDonald that he had just been retained as counsel.

Goss yesterday signed a statement in which he admitted that he had plotted the robbery with Kmetz and the others. Confessions were also signed by Kmetz, Rotskoff, and Katzowitz. Cingrani broached the subject of the robbery, Goss said, and later a meeting was arranged with the robbers. After obtaining information concerning the bank for the gang, Goss said, he enlisted Kmetz, the policeman on the beat, in the plot.

Harold A. Hansen, 30 years old, 815 East 81st street, was arrested yesterday for questioning about the robbery. Telephone calls made to Chicago by the robbers were traced to Hansen's home, according to Deputy Sheriff Thomas Dunn of La Salle county. Hansen denied that he was involved.

CORN BELT GETS ONLY A LITTLE OF U. S. LOANS

Total $75,000,000; See Large Defaults.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Farmers in the corn belt states of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin are wondering if they have overlooked the opportunity to do a bit of tilling in the federal treasury this spring.

SECRETARY HYDE.

They have scanned the recently announced giving out of 62 million dollars for seed "loans" by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, who a few weeks ago characterized his department as "the prize boob in the history of finance" for being forced by congress to dispense funds with so little chance of recovering them.

"Under present conditions, my department is now lending more money on thinner security and sustaining more losses than any organization ever has done before in the history of the world," declared Secretary Hyde at that time. "Loans now being made by my department to small farmers who otherwise could not finance themselves could not by the furthest stretch of the imagination be called good business."

$75,000,000 to Be Loaned.

Although the last chance for filing requests for the 1932 loans expired on April 30, $62,000,000 had been passed out to farmers by May 7, and a total of about $75,000,000 will be paid out in loans by the end of this week. Farm observers point out that this situation exists in a year of far lower farm prices than a year ago, when the government loaned farmers $47,500,000 for seeds, of which 45 per cent has not been repaid.

Of the $47,500,000 loaned last year, Secretary Hyde reports that only $15,500,000 has been repaid. The government holds warehouse receipts for more than 10 millions in addition.

Of the $75,000,000 expected to be Uncle Sam's seed loan total for 1932, about $48,000,000 is going to farmers in the Dakotas, Montana, the Carolinas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Georgia, and Mississippi. The farmers in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin are getting less than $2,000,000 for all five states.

Figures on U. S. Loans.

The government has made public figures on seed loans issued to farmers in the various states up to May 7. The percentage of loans as compared to the estimated value of the farm crops for 1931 is shown by the following tabulation:

	Per cent.		Per cent.
South Dakota	16.8	Arkansas	3.6
North Dakota	15.7	North Carolina	3.0
Montana	12.7	Wisconsin	0.5
South Carolina	6.1	Indiana	0.3
Georgia	4.8	Michigan	0.3
Mississippi	4.0	Iowa	0.1
Louisiana	4.0	Illinois	0.03

Many Unable to Pay.

Country business men and farmers report the common understanding regarding these seed loans is that the borrowers will be held liable for repayment only if they received money from their crops with which to meet the loans. Many tenant farmers who wanted loans were unable to obtain waivers to first rights on the harvested crops from the bankers, insurance companies, or others who owned the farms.

Reports from the northwest, where a drought last year left only partial crops in some areas and where a grasshopper plague cut production still further, are to the effect that Uncle Sam will never balance his books on the 1931 loans. Secretary Hyde is even less optimistic about collections for 1932.

RETIRED BANKER TAKES OWN LIFE IN GOTHAM HOME

Steinam Was Born in La Crosse, Wis.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Edward S. Steinam, retired banker and philanthropist, who for more than thirty years held an important confidential position with the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., was found dead today in the bathroom of his home in the Park Lane apartments, on Park avenue. Police say he shot himself with a short shotgun which belonged to his collection of hunting arms.

Mr. Steinam, until his retirement four years ago, held a power of attorney for the Wall street banking firm and at the time of his death was a director of the American Sealcone corporation and the Hofgaard Remington corporation. He was sixty-seven years old.

All his life Mr. Steinam had been interested in charity work. At the time of his death he was a trustee of the Federation of Jewish Charities, a trustee and treasurer of the Hebrew Technical institute, a trustee of the Stuyvesant neighborhood house, and was formerly treasurer of the Jewish welfare board.

Mr. Steinam was born in La Crosse, Wis., on Sept. 2, 1865, and was educated there. He came to New York in his early youth and virtually his entire business career was spent with Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

STALIN REVIEWS PARADE OF 75,000 RUSSIAN YOUTHS

MOSCOW, May 24.—(AP)—Joseph Stalin, Russia's "strong man," appeared in rare good humor today to review the flowers of Moscow's youth, who paraded 75,000 strong in a gigantic physical culture demonstration.

Mme. Stalin, making one of her rare public appearances, also saw the parade. She stood in an inconspicuous place on the plaza beneath the reviewing stand surmounted Lenin's tomb. Her husband and his colleagues sat above, accepting the salutes of the enthusiastic demonstrators.

ESCAPES SOUTH BELOIT JAIL.

Beloit, Wis., May 24.—[Special.]—Ben Becker, Sharon farm hand, escaped from the South Beloit city jail early today in a break which Chief of Police Asa Powers described as an "outside job."

"Broker" Is Bellboy

Considering the times, she wasn't so greatly disappointed when she learned after their marriage that her husband was a bell hop and not a La Salle street broker as he claimed, Mrs. Lulu Davis Nagle, 929 Sunnyside avenue, a red haired cabaret dancer, told Judge Harry B. Miller yesterday in the Superior court. What she objected to, she said, was the fact that he refused to work as a bell hop.

Judge Miller granted her a divorce on grounds of cruelty from Albert Nagle, and permission to resume her maiden name.

She testified that when she locked him out of their apartment because he wouldn't work, he fired a shot through the door, and that on several occasions he gave her a black eye.

SEEK NAMES OF GIRLS MOLESTED BY MESSENGER

Grand Crossing police yesterday were attempting to learn the identities of a number of young girls alleged to have been molested by William Clark, 21 years old, 10441 Ewing avenue. Clark, a delivery boy employed by a loop department store, was arrested on Monday by South Park Policeman Patrick McMahon, 7814 Euclid avenue, when he enticed the policeman's 8 year old daughter into a hallway.

"Clark has confessed to molesting 10 girls within the last two months," Capt. William E. Russell said. "Besides McMahon's complaint, I have one more. Clark will lead my men to the places he remembers where the attacks took place. We have notified the police stations throughout the city to send victims to view him and he will be taken at the showup in the detective bureau." Capt. Russell said Clark has no police record.

MORTGAGE MEN OPPOSE HOME LOAN BANK BILL

Cody Denounces Measure as Class Legislation.

BY AL CHASE.

By unanimous vote the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association, at its annual meeting last night in the Medinah Athletic club, went on record against the Hoover home loan bank bill, now pending in Washington. This action followed a speech by Hiram S. Cody, president of the Mortgage Bankers' Association of America, in which he attacked the proposed new federal financing. He declared it would increase both taxes and foreclosures, decrease home values, and saddle another expensive governmental bureau on the backs of taxpayers.

Calls It "By Right Name."

"It's time to call this scheme by its right name," said Mr. Cody. "In no sense is it a home loan bank bill. In no way could it fulfill the desire of our President, to encourage and protect home ownership. Not a thin dime could reach the home owner in difficulty. Not one foreclosure in a thousand would be postponed or averted by its operation.

"Why? Because it's another national banking system for building and loan associations to discount their mortgages and pay off their frightened investors whose funds were solicited with a promise that they would be repaid on demand.

"Why should the country carry the bag for one group of favored investors? It's class legislation, discriminatory and vicious in its operation. Have you ever heard of a mortgage investor opposing relief to a defaulting borrower? If this bill could aid the home owner in any way every insurance company, bank, and mortgage banker would give it enthusiastic support."

Quotes Missouri Congressman.

Mr. Cody quoted a statement by Congressman Clyde Williams [Dem., Mo.] in opposition to the home loan bank bill in which he declared that governmental boards and business institutions should be consolidated and decreased in the interest of economy and efficiency, and not increased.

"The United States government should not project itself further into business and force its policies upon the states," quoted Mr. Cody. "There is no general demand or need for federal home loan banks, either to meet the present emergency or as permanent institutions, to justify their establishment at government expense. If they are needed and desirable, let the mortgage loan institutions of the country set up the system."

George W. Springer, vice president of the Chicago Bank of Commerce, was named president of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association at the annual election held after the dinner. The vice presidents are Edward A. Nelson, Le Roy S. Pape, and Thomas B. Black. Robert F. Wingard is treasurer and Walter H. Couhrs secretary. Louis K. Boysen, retiring president, presided at the dinner.

TWO BRITISH JUDGES BATTLE OVER RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 24.—Justice Sir Henry McCardie, bachelor judge noted for his opinions on cases involving marital relations, today struck back at Lord Justice Sir Thomas E. Scrutton, 75 year old "fearless judge," who recently delivered a scathing attack on Justice McCardie's outspoken judgments.

Starting a case before a special jury he declared, "I will take my usual notes of the evidence. If there is an appeal I shall not supply any copy of my notes until I am satisfied that Justice Scrutton will not be a member of the court which tries the appeal. I regret that it has become my duty to administer a public rebuke to Justice Scrutton."

The remarks which Justice Scrutton delivered arousing Justice McCardie's ire referred to the appeal of a case in which Justice McCardie ruled that a woman's body is her own rather than her husband's. Justice Scrutton in giving judgment, declared, "Mr. Justice McCardie is referred to as a judge with sociological knowledge. I think the less sociological knowledge brought into the discussion of legal questions the better. If there is to be a discussion of the relations of husband and wife I think it will come better from judges who have more than theoretical knowledge of the relations between husband and wife."

31 ADVERTISERS WILL GET BLUE RIBBONS FOR ADS

Public Service company of Northern Illinois receives honorable mention in this class. Marshall Field & Co. and the Chicago Coal Merchants association will receive blue ribbons for other branches of institutional advertising.

C. Johnson & Co., Personal Loan and Savings bank, Central Republic bank, Northern Trust company, and A. G. Becker & Co.

How can he afford the Book-Cadillac?

—I wondered

—then he let me in on the secret

I WAS only too glad to accept Tom's invitation to dinner. But when he suggested the Book-Cadillac and said he was staying there, I was dumbfounded. I was sure "Detroit's finest hotel" was out of my class. How Tom could manage it was beyond me.

Then he told me. Believe it or not, he was paying only $3 a day for a splendid room with bath, circulating ice water—everything! And our dinner—a full-course affair, excellent food and prompt service—was only 90c apiece.

That was enough for me. I was staying only two more days in Detroit but I spent them at the Book-Cadillac. Enjoyed better accommodations and paid less. And I found all four of their restaurants served wonderful food at reasonable prices. Now I'm pulling wires to get sent to Detroit again. You'll know where to find me there!

NIGHT PARKERS UNITE TO FIGHT CITY ORDINANCE

509 Get Tickets First Day; Seek Jury Trials.

Many automobile owners summoned to pay fines of $2 each for parking in the streets between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. yesterday announced plans to fight the city ordinance prohibiting such parking.

W. W. O'BRIEN.

Figures given out by the police yesterday showed that 3,513 warning stickers had been issued on Monday and that the police, retracing the same routes yesterday morning, found 509 cars whose owners had disregarded the notices. All these owners were ordered to court.

May Cost $30 to Collect $2.

One group, the Automobile Parkers' Protective association, started operations with 100 members and a determination to make the city work hard to get the fines. Attorney W. W. O'Brien, counsel for the association, announced:

"The mayor has bitten off a little more than he can chew this time. We are glad to tell all night parkers what to do. Let each one demand a jury trial. This will necessitate a jury for each case, which will cost the city $30 for jurors' fees. Also, policemen will have to be called to testify. It will be no advantage for the city to spend $35 or $40 to collect $2."

Offered Free Legal Service.

In Mr. O'Brien's office at 77 West Washington street it was said all persons summoned to court will be welcomed as members of the association and that there will be no charge for the legal representation in court. The effort to enforce the parking ordinance was referred to as "an attempt at cardom."

The attorney also asserted that as soon as one of the members is convicted under the ordinance the case will be carried to higher courts, which will be asked to pass on the constitutionality of the proceedings.

It was indicated also that the Chicago Motor club's attorneys would seek to have the constitutionality of the ordinance passed on as soon as convictions are obtained.

Aldermen Await Complaints.

Around the city hall there was a general disposition to await developments. Aldermen said that so far they have had few complaints about the enforcement, adding that they do not expect any until the car owners' pocketbooks actually have been touched. They will consider the matter, they said, as soon as public sentiment has crystallized.

Police Commissioner Allman, who has consistently denied that the measure was meant to help garage owners, said that the enforcement drive would go ahead. Mayor Cermak and the commissioner hold that enforcement of the measure, which was passed nearly eleven months ago, will lower insurance rates and reduce thefts.

The policemen assigned to investigate parking have discovered four stolen cars among the 6,000 they have viewed so far.

Rogers Park was the district having the largest number of persistent parkers. Of 200 owners warned the first night, 150 were "repeaters" and were ordered to court.

ERSKINE, STUDEBAKER HEAD, ORDERED TO PAY $732,000 INCOME TAX

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Albert R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker corporation and the Pierce Arrow Motor Car corporation, lost his case before the board of tax appeals today and was directed to pay $732,000 in additional income taxes for the years 1923, 1924, 1925, and 1926.

The deficiencies for 1923 and 1924 were the largest, running $302,534 and $222,705, respectively. The greater part of the deficiencies found by the treasury resulted from stock bonuses given to President Erskine in addition to his $100,000 a year salary by the Studebaker corporation of South Bend, Ind.

Under his arrangement with the Studebaker corporation Mr. Erskine was privileged to purchase a certain amount of the company's stock during 1923, 1924, 1925, and 1926 at a price specified in advance in event the corporation's earnings were in excess of $15,000,000.

The board held that the petitioner should pay taxes on the difference between the market price and the price actually paid when this difference represented a gain to Mr. Erskine. It also held that the dividends should be taxed as ordinary income.

The Studebaker profits exceeded $15,000,000 in 1923, 1924, and 1925.

U. S. AGENTS RAID TWO LOOP BARS; FIND FINE WINES

Prohibition agents directed by Administrator M. L. Harney yesterday raided two loop speakeasies, made three arrests and seized a quantity of liquor, fine wines, and champagne. James Yaris, bartender, in the Musical club, on the eighth floor, 30 North Dearborn street, was arrested and agents found champagne, rare liquors, and wines. Beer, whisky, gin, and alcohol were seized in the Players club, 75 West Randolph street. Robert Samas, a waiter, and John Smith, bartender, were arrested.

Hearing of liquor law violation charges against Dan Baroni, alleged proprietor of the Club Ambassadeur at 226 East Ontario street, and three employés was set for May 31, yesterday by United States Commissioner Walker. Baroni was released in $2,000 bond and his employés in bond of $1,000 each. Prohibition agents were busy yesterday removing equipment of the club which they raided on Monday night.

ORDERS GAS CO. TO BARE COSTS IN CITY'S RATE CASE

State Examiner Calls for Data on Financing.

The city scored a point in the gas rate hearing yesterday when Robert H. Farrell, examiner for the Illinois commerce commission, ordered the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to submit as evidence the financial statements showing the division of costs, investments, and revenues of the various companies supplying natural gas to Chicago.

JOSEPH F. GROSSMAN.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph F. Grossman, representing 600,000 gas consumers in the territory reduced rate authorized by the commission last fall, had asked for the statements two weeks ago. Attorney Francis L. Daily, counsel for the gas company, had objected, contending the statements were irrelevant.

The companies whose statements Mr. Grossman sought, in all of which the Insull Utility companies hold an interest, are: Texoma Natural Gas company, lessee of Texas natural gas fields; Natural Gas Pipe Line Company of America, transporting gas from the fields to Joliet, and the Chicago District Pipe Line company, distributor of gas to three Insull operating utilities, the Peoples Gas, Public Service of Northern Illinois, and the Western United Gas and Electric company.

In the financial setup originally presented the commission in justification of the rate sought, the Insull companies lumped together the operating costs and incomes of the leasing and transporting companies. These corporations, they contended, had been organized for fiscal purposes and not for profit.

Upon Mr. Farrell's ruling yesterday Attorney Daily declared his willingness to stipulate as to the accuracy of the figures, but again objected to their admission as a company exhibit, reiterating his contention of their irrelevancy.

"Then I wish to have them admitted as city exhibits," Mr. Grossman said.

"The city reserves the right to impeach or accept them," said Mr. Grossman.

Mr. Farrell then admitted the figures into evidence. Mr. Grossman indicated the city may later demand the right to audit the books of the companies. The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

WORK IN COLD; LOOT SAFE.

Janesville, Wis., May 24.—[Special.]—Burglars worked in the cold to get $700 in cash at the Buehler Brothers meat market. They rolled the office safe into the large ice box in which meat is stored, opened the safe door by working the combination, and fled with the money.

SEEK PHYSICIAN IN GIRL'S DEATH; FIND NEW VICTIM

When police went to the home of Dr. Lou Davis, 3609 North Sawyer avenue, yesterday to serve a warrant charging murder by an illegal operation, they found another young woman there who is alleged to be suffering from a similar operation. Dr. Davis is a well known woman physician having offices in the Logan Square auditorium, 3147 Logan boulevard. Twice previously she has been held on similar charges.

The warrant resulted from the death of Miss Irene Kirschner, 24 years old, 904 Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, on May 19. The coroner's office learned the young woman had been a patient of Dr. Davis. Police were told Dr. Davis had not been home since 11 a. m. Monday.

The young woman patient found in the home was under the care of a nurse. She said she had been there a week and declined to be taken to a hospital.

PRUSSIAN REDS BOO FASCISTI AT OPENING OF DIET

83 Year Old Nazi Holds Gavel at Stormy Session

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 24.—Prince August Wilhelm, son of the former kaiser, began his parliamentary career in the Prussian diet today. He sat wedged in between 162 of Adolf Hitler's National Socialists (Fascists) of bourgeois and proletarian origin.

At this first meeting of the newly elected diet the Hitlerites, now the strongest party, displayed exemplary dignity while their eldest member, 83 year old Gen. Karl von Litzmann, held the gavel. He wore a chestful of decorations as he tried to command the parliamentarians.

Reds Sing Internationale.

The communists, however, interrupted the session with catcalls and boos and lustily sang the Internationale. They introduced motions which they knew would embarrass the Nazis. One hundred motions were filed, but Gen. von Litzmann tabled them until tomorrow, when officers will be elected.

The Hitlerites claim the presidency. Their candidate is Hans Kerrl. The Socialists are trying to prevent his election in favor of a member of the middle parties and the communists also have put up a candidate. The parties attach vast importance to the post of president of the diet because it is vested with special powers. He can dissolve the diet with the support of the premier and the member of the state council. The Hitlerites are trying to win all three posts.

Honor Prince August.

The title of prince still carries special weight in Germany, it became evident today, when the Nazis placed Prince August Wilhelm in the diet's council of elders, though he is one of the younger members of the house.

Only 28 women deputies are sitting in the diet of 430 members. Forty-five women held seats in the old parliament, with a membership of 480. They lost seats at the expense of the Nazis, who boosted their total from six to 162. The Nazis did not nominate a single woman candidate.

Vienna Nazis Attack Jews.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, May 24.—Karl Seitz was reelected mayor of Vienna in today's stormy session of the new city council. He received 65 out of 100 votes. Hitlerites sat in the council for the first time.

Several thousand Nazis threatened to storm the city hall, but the police held them in check. One Jewish shop was wrecked by the demonstrators.

At the council meeting, Adolf Frauenfeld, leader of the Austrian Hitlerites, urged the passage of a law which would prohibit Jews from becoming Viennese subjects.

3 AIR FIELDS CLOSED UNDER INSPECTION LAW

Three air fields at the southern limits of Cook county were closed to flyers yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Carl A. Kohler, the flying representative of Sheriff William D. Meyering, because their equipment does not comply with the newly passed state aviation laws. Two other airports in the county also are closed temporarily. They will reopen, Deputy Kohler said, when suggested improvements have been inspected.

The fields closed yesterday were the Dixie airport, on the Dixie highway, two miles north of the Homewood county highway police station; the Skeeter field, on Burnham avenue, south of the Little Calumet river, and Cody field, at 95th street and Roberts road.

Ten other airports in the county have been inspected and approved. All of these are constantly under the inspection of department of commerce experts and are used by the large transportation companies or as training fields.

Outlook Publishing Co. Petitioned Into Bankruptcy

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—The Outlook company, publishers of the Outlook and Independent, a merger of two of the oldest journals of opinion in America, was petitioned today into bankruptcy. Whether the mazazine will continue to be published is a question which the receiver will decide, Francis Rufus Bellamy, editor and president of the company, said. Mr. Bellamy, who made no estimate of the company's liabilities or assets, was one of the petitioners. He said that action for a receivership had been taken because of a falling off of advertising and the pressure of small creditors.

JAP ARMY ROUTS 4,000 CHINESE IN MANCHURIA DRIVE

Nippon Troops Sweep North of Harbin.

HARBIN, Manchuria, May 24.—(AP)—Japanese troops routed 4,000 Chinese rebels today in a sweeping drive that took the Japanese into Hulan, about forty miles north of Harbin.

The insurgents, whose advance had threatened Harbin, fled to the northwest. They lost 500 captives, three armored cars, and several field guns to the Japanese.

The attackers, under Gen. Shigeru Honjo, commander in chief of the Japanese army in Manchuria, had seven wounded as the only casualties after the battle. Japanese airplanes inflicted heavy losses on the Chinese, Japanese authorities said.

Gen. Ma Leads Chinese.

The Japanese said the insurgents north of Harbin were directed by Gen. Ma Chan-Shan, former Chinese leader who opposed Gen. Honjo in the first Japanese drives in Manchuria last year. They said Gen. Ma was at Hailun.

Part of Gen. Nakamura's brigade, continuing its advance down the Sungari valley from Sanshin, reached Fuchin, less than fifty miles above the confluence of the Sungari and Amur rivers, on the Siberian border. The Chinese, under Gen. Li Tu, fled to the mountains to the southeast, Japanese military headquarters announced.

South of Harbin the Manchurian regular garrison at Laoshaokow mutinied. The troops withdrew southward and were believed to have joined the insurgents.

The Rengo (Japanese) news agency said forty persons were killed and more than 100 injured yesterday in a wreck on the Chinese Eastern railway more than a hundred miles southeast of Harbin.

Civil War Looms in South.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, May 24.—The situation at Canton, where the navy rebelled a fortnight ago, became further complicated today when trouble developed between Chen Chi-tang, Canton militarist, and Li Tsung-jen, leader of the Kwangsi provincial faction.

Lisung-jen has concentrated his forces along the upper West river and is apparently preparing to attack Canton. Chen Chi-tang, in turn, has begun constructing trenches along the lower West river and around the terminus of the Canton-Samshui railway. It is rumored that the Kwangsi forces are in alliance with the rebel navy commanders, who have established their headquarters on Hainan island.

HEAD OF FRANCE VIRTUALLY PICKS HERRIOT PREMIER

Lebrun Calls Liberal Chief Into Conference.

PARIS, May 24.—(AP)—President Albert Lebrun tonight virtually designated Edouard Herriot, the Radical Socialist leader, as first choice to form a new French cabinet.

This became apparent tonight when the president called the noted liberal leader into conference in his palace on prime problems, particularly of foreign affairs, and held a half hour conversation.

Tardieu Meets with Herriot.

After this the outgoing premier, Andre Tardieu, and the retiring finance minister, Pierre Flandin, met with Herriot and the president to submit to Herriot their viewpoint on the foreign and domestic financial situations.

It was understood the details of the formation of the forthcoming government, which probably will be left to Herriot by virtue of the Radical Socialist victories in the recent French election, were not discussed. They will be left for later conferences, it was understood.

Herriot today said he had no information about any plans for a meeting at Luxembourg between some of his friends and a group of French bankers and a party of German industrial leaders.

Insist Meeting Will Be Held.

BERLIN, May 24.—(AP)—Nationalist spokesmen reiterated today that German political and industrial leaders planned to meet French political and financial experts at Luxembourg in an attempt to devise an intermediate solution of the reparations problem on neutral soil.

They did not repeat that the meeting would be held next week, but suggested somewhat reticently that the conversations would be held concurrently with the special annual meeting of the permanent Franco-German committee known as "the Mayprisch committee." This committee, which regularly examines economic questions affecting both countries, will meet at Luxembourg June 4 and 5, some ten days ahead of the Lausanne international debts and reparations gathering.

Find $400 in Pocket of Youth Who Stole Sweater

Laird Drake, 24 years old, who sells antiques, was arrested yesterday on complaint of a loop store that he stole a $5 sweater. Drake lives at 5634 Blackstone avenue and is a former university student. At the South State street station last night Drake bemoaned the impulse which prompted the theft. "It was so unnecessary," he confessed. "I could have bought the sweater easily." Police confirmed his statement. When arrested Drake carried $400 in his wallet.

$1,724 STOLEN FROM HOTEL ROOM.

Mrs. Minna M. Elliman of the Croydon hotel, 616 Rush street, yesterday reported the theft of a $1,500 bracelet and $224 in cash from her room. She told police that she believed the theft occurred while she was out of the room Monday night.

A police detail at all eighteen branches of the Peacock Cleaners and Dyers was ordered last night by Commissioner Allman following complaints by officials of the concern, and the slugging of a driver.

The driver, Charles Gaflisch, 35 years old, was beaten unconscious by two hoodlums at North avenue and Clark street as a crowd looked on. The sluggers drove up in a car and struck Gaflisch with blackjacks. They escaped, warning witnesses not to follow. Gaflisch was taken to the Alexian Brothers' hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture.

His employers told Hudson avenue police that the slugging was due to labor trouble. They told Commissioner Allman they had received threats that their stores would be bombed if they maintained their present scale of prices.

Two other incidents were added to the cleaners' war early this morning when hoodlums threw a stench bomb through the window of Max Adamski's tailor shop at 7836 South Shore drive and hurled a brick through the window of the Purple Cleaners and Dyers' store at 2610 North Clark street. On Monday night the Checker Cleaners, Inc., branch store, 2706 Division street, was bombed.

REICHSTAG BODY VOTES TO WARN POLAND ON DANZIG

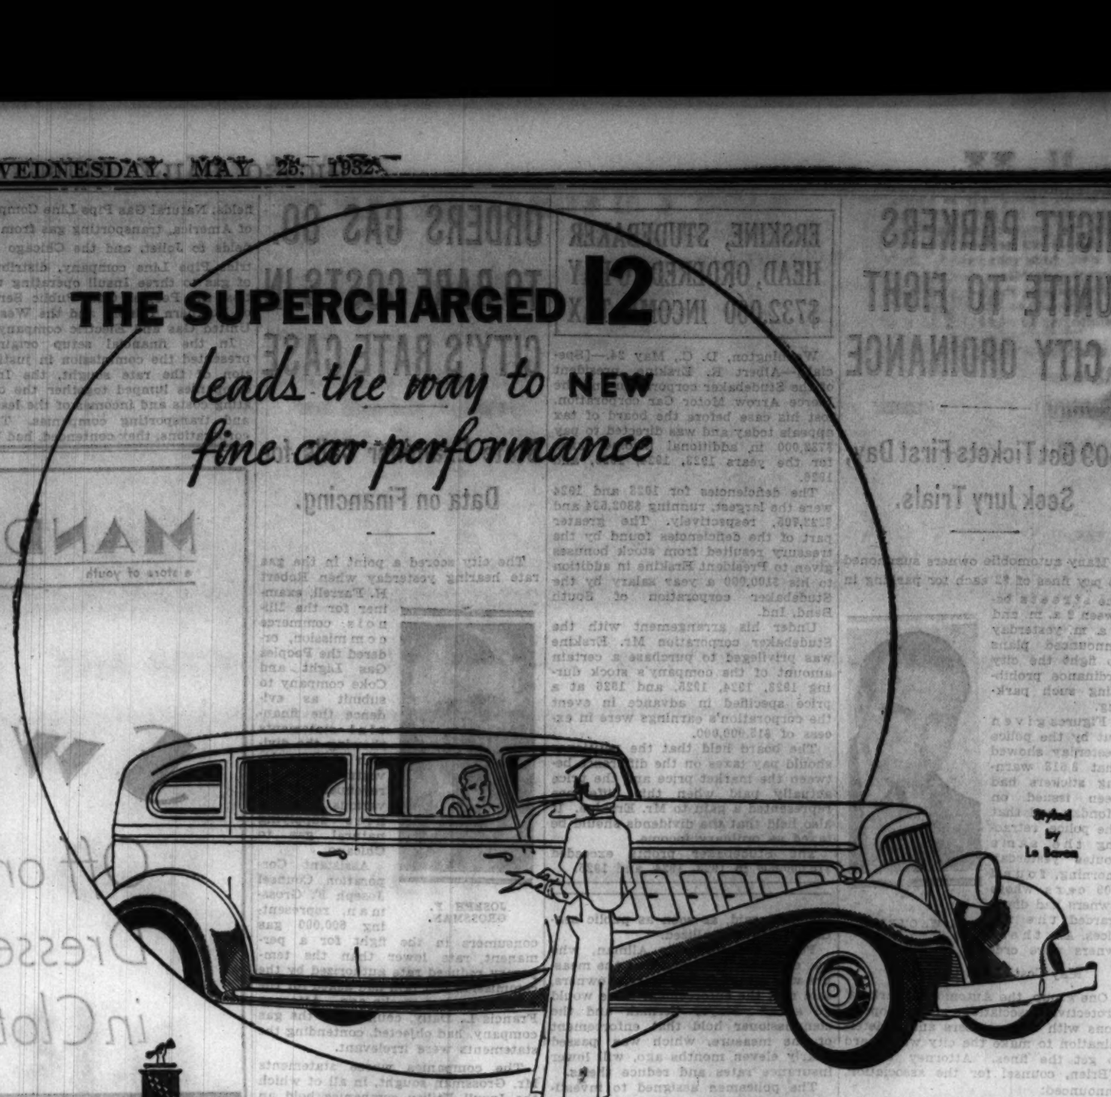

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 24.—The reichstag's committee on foreign affairs, after hearing a confidential report from Chancellor Bruening, today passed a resolution requesting the government to protect the German residents in Memel and Danzig against interference of all kinds. The Hitlerites [Fascists] presented a motion requesting the government to warn the "Polish republic that any attack against Danzig would be considered by Germany as an attack on the vital rights of Germany and would be answered as such." The motion was accepted by a vote of 11 to 10.

Breaks Ground for New $1,500,000 U. S. Building

William H. Cruden, government merchandise appraiser in Chicago, yesterday broke ground for the seven story $1,150,000 United States Appraisers' Stores building at Canal and Harrison streets. Former Congressman E. W. Sproul spoke at the ceremony. The B. W. Contracting company, which has the foundation construction work, was represented by Joseph Beuttas, president, and Nimmons, Carr & Wright, architects, who drew the plans for the building, were represented by George C. Nimmons and George Wright.

THE SUPERCHARGED 12 leads the way to NEW fine car performance

DRIVING the Supercharged Franklin Twelve is exciting fun. The Supercharger makes performance so smooth—so lively—so anxious to go that you want to drive. Every time you lead a parade of cars away from a stop light you find new joy in supercharged acceleration and supercharged power, which is really more like even-flowing, turbine power than ordinary automobile power. Every time you whiz up a steep hill your heart beats a little faster.

The only place you can get supercharged, air-cooled power is in the fastest, most modern planes, and in the Franklin. Taking cool, fresh air from the outside, the Supercharger forces this, at a rate as high as 110 miles an hour, into the carburetor where it is then mixed with gasoline vapor. This charge, still under pressure, is then packed into each cylinder equally and in maximum quantity. The results are amazing.

Take a half hour ride in the new Twelve or the new Airman. Both have supercharged air-cooled airplane engines. The new Twelve is 150 horsepower—144-inch wheelbase. The new Airman is 100 horsepower—132-inch wheelbase.

• Constipation is Serious • Drugs and Cathartics won't Correct It • Famous Doctors advise Yeast •

WORRIED? Health slipping away? You may not know what's wrong. But doctors do!

INTESTINAL FATIGUE . . . constipation! That's often the unsuspected cause of headaches, lassitude, that tired feeling, "the dumps." Correct this trouble! "Tone" and purify intestines with fresh yeast!

Frank SPEECH is needed on this Subject!

HERE is a disease that is far more prevalent than tuberculosis . . . than cancer. It is perhaps the commonest—yet often the most unrecognized—of human ills.

Is it any wonder medical authorities today are saying that frank speech is needed on the subject of Constipation?

* * *

And, in time, we pay the inevitable price. Our intestines grow weak—fail to function properly. We are constipated!

Even occasional constipation is serious. Neglected, it becomes more and more frequent. And if it should become chronic, look out for really dangerous ailments . . . colitis, hemorrhoids (piles) . . . perhaps an operation!

If you neglect CONSTIPATION you'll pay for it in years of suffering later! Why not start eating Fleischmann's Yeast NOW?

Now you want to correct constipation, of course. But here is where so many people make a mistake: Instead of really overcoming it, they resort to cathartics, laxatives, pills, drugs, etc., that may help for the moment, but ultimately make it even worse.

That is why doctors say: If you want to correct constipation naturally, eat fresh yeast. A food, yeast has been used for constipation for generations. It is the one practically perfect remedy for internal sluggishness and kindred ills.

Strong words. But true. For fresh yeast—Fleischmann's Yeast—has a really remarkable effect.

Eaten daily, it softens the wastes that have clogged your system . . . fosters internal secretions . . . stimulates and actually strengthens the muscles of the intestines!

What happens? The poisons that were seeping into your blood are harmlessly cleaned away. Elimination becomes easy, regular. Appetite improves. You digest your meals more easily. You feel worlds better—look better—in every way.

* * *

If you're skeptical, try it! You can get Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, restaurants and soda fountains. Eat 3 cakes a day, regularly—before meals or between meals and at bedtime—just plain or in water (about a third of a glass). Each cake is rich in vitamins B, G and D.

*IMPORTANT—Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow Label. It is yeast in its fresh, effective form—the kind famous doctors recommend. Ask for it by name!

HOW THE 'HORNER PLAN' CONSERVES ESTATES OF VETS

A Highlight in Career of Probate Judge.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Since the armistice $7,500,000 in ex-service men's estates has been administered under the Horner plan in Cook county, without cost to the widows and orphans, according to a report issued yesterday by the clerk of the Probate court. The figures serve to direct attention to one of the high lights in the public career of Judge Henry Horner, of which, modestly, little has been said in the political campaign for governor.

Upon the signing of the armistice a new problem arose in probate practice, the administration of the estates of deceased soldiers and veterans mentally incompetent as the result of service injuries. Before the government had even perfected the machinery for handling the claims of veterans, Judge Horner rose to the emergency with a plan for protecting disabled veterans and the heirs of deceased soldiers and sailors, which became known the country over as the "Horner plan.

Other Courts Copy It.

It included the administration of these estates without expense of any kind to the beneficiaries, and it was copied by courts all over the country through the influence of the American Legion.

Judge Horner got the bar association to furnish free legal aid to soldiers' heirs. He called the trust companies into his court and got them to handle funds without charge in such cases where trust services were required. He saw to it that court costs were cut off. In cases coming before him he refused to allow agents or lawyers to collect any fees for services in connection with the collecting of compensation, holding that the government had set up machinery for paying these claims and no skilled attorneys were needed.

Col. Sprague Praises Plan.

Col. A. A. Sprague recently said of this accomplishment:

"The Horner plan has saved our ex-soldiers and ex-soldiers and their heirs many hundreds of thousands of dollars. It has been pronounced by American Legion officials, by the Chicago Bar association, and by numerous civic organizations as the greatest single benefaction conferred upon the sorrowing kindred of those soldiers."

At present 1,193 estates of veterans are being administered without charge. Between 25 and 30 new cases are filed each month. The legal services rendered free, both Cook county and federal, is figured at $10,000 a month.

Ends "Swell Funerals."

Another accomplishment deemed characteristic of Judge Horner is his rôle of protector of widows and orphans from "swell funerals" which in years past often ate up the bulk of a small estate.

Soon after the judge was elected to the bench a Jugo-Slav laborer died in Chicago, leaving $1,200 to a widow in the old country. When the estate came up one of the first bills filed was for $950 for the funeral expenses. The judge called in the undertaker, who said that the funeral had been ordered by a friend of the deceased, who suggested no expense be spared in giving the laborer a funeral that would make his family proud. So the undertaker hired a band and a score of automobiles and arranged what he called a "swell funeral."

Bill Is Cut to $200.

Judge Horner put him on the carpet and cut the bill from $950 to $200. He followed up by calling in the officials of the Undertakers' association and laid it down that any undertaker who induced a grief stricken family of small means to spend an unreasonable amount for a funeral would have to stand the extra cost himself.

The Undertakers' association at once went on record that the judge's views were ethical and that elaborate and costly funerals for persons of small means, eating up legacies in burial costs, should cease.

The judge later, as the principal speaker at an undertakers' convention, urged the undertakers to reduce funeral costs for persons of small means. The undertakers responded by slashing their prices and printing Horner's speech in pamphlet form.

As a commentary upon recent tabulations from Washington showing some congressmen with relatives on the pay roll, the boost at the county building is that in the seventeen years he has been on the probate bench Judge Horner has never appointed a relative as administrator. The rule is strict—let the family select, so long as they select some one competent.

Fewer Employés Now.

Likewise in the days of soaring cost of government and increasing armies of pay rollers at Washington, the Probate court has another record to which it points. The volume of business has increased approximately 40 per cent in 17 years, but the number of court employés has decreased. In 1915 it had 69 employés, now it has 37—due largely to the introduction of photostatic records.

Another thing under Judge Horner, the Probate court has paid all its expenses from fees and has turned back an average of $100,000 a year into the county treasury. Last year the net earnings were $335,712, and $95,329 was turned over to the county after all expenses were paid.

New York, May 24.—(AP)—Decision upon the application of Mrs. Grace Nova Levine to have Charles Levine, first trans-Atlantic airplane passenger, pay her $52,000 yearly alimony and $25,000 counsel fees was reserved today by the Supreme court.

Mrs. Levine charges that Levine abandoned her and their daughters, Eloise, 14, and Ardith, 8, in May, 1930, and has since failed to contribute anything to the support of herself or of them. She said her fortune is depleted and that she has had to borrow money from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nova. In the meantime, she said, her husband is globe-trotting in luxury on his fortune of at least $4,000,000 in Liberty bonds and other governmental bonds.

Asks Arrest of Own Son for Stealing Automobile

Champaign, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—Dr. Joseph Scheurich, Philo, Ill., today had a warrant issued for the arrest of his son, Francis, on a charge of stealing an automobile from his home last week-end. According to State's Attorney Cline the youth served four years in an Iowa prison and has been on parole during the last four months.

78 U. S. GOLD STAR MOTHERS LAND IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 24.—(AP)—Seventy-eight American Gold Star mothers, the first group to make a pilgrimage of the battlefields in 1932, arrived in France today aboard the Leviathan after a pleasant crossing. All were in good health. They were met at Cherbourg by American army officers and a corps of trained nurses and were brought to Paris in a special train.

Between now and Aug. 25 from 700 to 800 Gold Star mothers will visit France. Each group will remain fifteen days.

The pilgrims who arrived today will rest until Thursday, when they will place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Later they will be the guests of the United States government at a tea at a fashionable Champs Elysée restaurant and will be officially welcomed by the French government. Friday they start their tour of the American cemeteries, traveling in auto buses. Each pilgrim will receive a wreath and an American flag to place on the grave of her soldier.

Revised Estimate Shows 52 Lost in Fire on French Ship

PARIS, May 24.—(AP)—Owners of the motorship Georges Philippar, which burned last week in the Gulf of Aden, today published a revised list of the missing. The new list contained 52 names. Apparently none of them was American. On the list were 19 women, 11 men, and 3 children who were passengers. There was a separate category including the names of 14 natives of the far east.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

THE HOUSE VOTES AGAINST BEER.

The beer proposed in the O'Connor-Hull resolution, defeated in the house of representatives by a vote of 169 to 228, was the light beverage which Ontario released for public sale when the province began to modify its absolute prohibition. It did not prove to be a very satisfactory substitute for ale with Canadian ale drinkers, but it was a palatable beverage for any one who preferred lager to the headier brew and it certainly could be regarded as nonintoxicating in use.

It is such a beverage that the house of representatives, following in the track of the senate, has denied the American people, and the denial proves that congress is still remote from common sense in this matter. There are, however, evidences of changes, as shown, for example, in the vote of Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana, a Republican dry, who is frequently a spokesman for the administration. Wood yielded to changing sentiment and, as he said, to the need of discovering new sources of government revenue. The estimated tax yield of the beer sales went as high as 500 million dollars and, as the proponents reminded the objectors, if the saving of grain was the objective of war prohibition the consumption of it would be the consequence of making this light beer.

Congressional stubbornness and unreason are breaking down slowly, too slowly for the political good of many of the present members of congress, but such is frequently the case when the legislative body has been dominated a long time by well organized lobbies bolstered up by moral pretensions. Congress has been under the odium theologicum so long that it is still dazed and may be unaware of the collapse of the prohibition control to which it has been subjected.

Another election or two will change either votes or memberships in congress. Public sentiment is running swiftly against the dogma incorporated in the eighteenth amendment and against the practices permitted under the Volstead act. If the legislators in Washington are not sufficiently conscious of this there are indications that they are not wholly unconscious. As might be expected, the greater responsiveness is in the house, to which there are elections every two years. The house in March defeated the Cullen tax bill amendment on beer, 216 to 132, without a roll call. With a roll call on the O'Connor-Hull resolution the opposition to prohibition gained thirty-seven votes and the drys twelve. A majority of those voting Monday was 199. Another such a gain as that recorded between March and May and national prohibition will begin to lose roll calls.

FEDERAL MINIONS.

Senator Glass in the debate on federal relief to the states said he would rather trust the people of Virginia to levy their own taxes and take care of their own unemployment than to submit that they be taxed by the federal government and have the relief doled back to them "by federal minions." Senator Borah disagreed. Mr. Glass may know his minions, but Mr. Borah knows his onions. Idaho is one of the states which already gets more from Washington than it gives. It is one of fourteen in that fortunate category.

Senator Glass was willing to compromise. He said he would have no objection to voting to tax the money of forty-seven states into Washington, but he would refuse his consent to so tax Virginia. But when the matter is done Virginia will be in it. However, there is a point where both Mr. Borah and Mr. Glass agree as to federal minions and it has more than a little to do with the case. The states began to lose their responsibility and dependability when they gave Washington jurisdiction over the personal habits of their citizens. This confession of the futility of the individual and of the fatuity of the state prepared the way for the surrender of all state solvency and sovereignty. Mr. Glass holds tight to the one error and tries to reject all its consequences.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

The national commander of the American Legion will review the R. O. T. C. brigade of the University of Illinois on Military day, tomorrow. Awards and commissions will be presented and the occasion will be inspiring. A persistent effort of pacifists to abolish military training at the universities has thus far failed to defeat this high function of popular education, and it is well for citizens who do not want this nation to be helpless against foreign and domestic enemies to be on guard and to show their appreciation of the service of teachers and students in this phase of citizen training.

The training at Urbana has for years produced a body of citizen soldiers of which the state may well be proud. The young men who have had its benefits will make the combat officers of national forces if called to war. But if no such sacrifice is demanded of them they have had an invaluable physical and moral preparation for the life of the citizen. It was Abraham Lincoln who signed the act granting the states land for educational purposes, and what in the jargon of the pacifist is called militarism was far from his nature or wish. But Lincoln had reason to know that the defense of the republic was an essential duty of good citizenship and he approved the measure which wisely included military tactics among the objects of democratic education. This generation of Americans has as much reason to value such preparation as Lincoln's.

We congratulate the young officers of the university brigade, their parents, and the state of which they will be a bulwark and stay in peace or war.

IF THIS IS A LARK, WHAT'S A RIOT?

Six companies of the Illinois National Guard were sent to East St. Louis to handle a situation in the railroad terminals and on the B. & O. line at Caseyville to the east created by some four hundred men described as unemployed veterans of the war. They were bound for Washington to demand money and they were traveling by forcing railroad men to haul the freight cars they seized and occupied.

The idea for this descent upon Washington by casual appropriation of railroad property was born out on the west coast. As the party grew in numbers its success in taking over freight cars was more assured. Evidently the railroad men on each division thought the easiest way to dispose of the crowd was to get it on to the next. The bummers were said to be in good humor, but there was the nucleus of a destructive mob.

When the crowd was across the Mississippi the B. & O. railroad stopped the hauling of the seized freight cars, whereupon the men soaped the rails to prevent car movement and prevented the dispatch of perishable freight which would be lost unless moved.

The fantastic idea of this pilgrimage appeared to rest upon the assumption that the men were entitled to interfere with the operations of the railroads, to take possession of railroad property, force compliance with their demands and destroy the goods of others because they said they were ex-service men. Their purpose in going to Washington was to make a noisy demand for something the government is not justified in considering. Their conduct in Illinois has required the calling out of National Guard outfits, which is the precaution taken against mobs and rioting, and the communities on which they have descended are trying to get rid of them by sending them ahead in motor trucks. They will be a disturbance wherever they go, if not a potential danger. They have nothing to gain by their crazy trip, and whatever region they invade will be put to the trouble of getting rid of them. The authorities have been astonishingly weak to allow them to get so far across country by lawlessly imposing on the railroads and upon localities which have a right to protection against such invasions.

[Manchester (Ia.) Press.]

For some time past the Cedar Rapids Gazette has been publishing interviews with well known farmers of eastern Iowa in the form of questions and answers dealing with moot problems of the day. One of the men thus interviewed last week was our old friend, Henry Brayton of Ryan, who, in response to the query, "Has Brookhart been a good senator," said: "I believe he has. We must have some fighters. There's virility in the man and I think he's honest. He learned his politics in a good school."

Now, we would like to ask Friend Brayton on what basis he makes this estimate of Brookhart. He says he is a fighter. A fighter for what? What has he ever fought for that resulted in any practical accomplishment or relief or benefit to his state or the nation? We challenge any supporter of Brookhart's to point to one solitary thing he has ever done in or out of congress that amounted to anything more than talk and promises and speculation. What good does it do to have a man in the senate who antagonizes everybody else in it, who fumes and spouts and rants in support of fantastic schemes which not one of his colleagues takes seriously, and whose visionary ideas and absurd notions of farm relief have made him the laughing stock of Washington?

Brookhart a fighter! Yes, a fighter against sound, practical forms of aid to agriculture. A fighter against economy in government, against reduction of the topheavy federal pay roll, against his own party and its President, against every effort made to cut costs and give the taxpayer relief. Where and when has Senator Brookhart raised his voice, in the senate or out of it, in favor of reducing the cost of running this government? A fighter! Yes, a fighter for more pay for his own family, six members of whom he has fattened on the public pay roll. He is the professed champion of the farmer, but has he uttered one word of protest against the $50,000 and $75,000 salaries being paid to officers approved by the federal farm board? Is that man a friend of the farmer who wants to take the farmer's tax money and build paved transcontinental highways at an outlay of two billions of dollars? Is that the kind of a "fighter" the farmer wants to represent him and spend his money?

What kind of a man should Iowa have in the senate of the United States? Well, first of all, he should be a reasonable, thoughtful, studious and friendly man, one who secures and retains the good will and respect of his colleagues—a man of positive opinions, but not one so bigoted and arrogant that nobody can work with him. He should have enough patriotism to recognize the tremendous importance at this time of economy in government and be willing to work for genuine and substantial relief of the taxpayer. He should be a broadminded man, sensible, modest, willing to give and take, glad to cooperate with any one who has a definite, helpful program in view. Coming from Iowa, his first concern should be for the farmer and his welfare, and he should not go off on crazy tangents and nurse absurd schemes which have no promise of fulfillment. Such a man could wield a mighty influence in Washington. He would represent his state with dignity and credit, and his words would be listened to with respect. Who are the men of real influence in the senate, the men who get things done? They are the men of that type—not the swashbucklers, the ranters, the bombastic followers after dreams and visions. Surely there is such a man as we have described in the great state of Iowa. Let us find him and attempt to restore to our state some of the prestige which was once its glory.

FLYING HIGH.

The visitor had been talking of aviation when little Jane interrupted: "I was up in the air once myself, but I forget now how it feels."

"Why, Jane," spoke up her mother, "you were never in the air in your life."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

From San Diego away out in California comes the strange tale of the only hitch hiker we would be willing to take into the old bus and give a free ride on the back seat. A motorist out there driving along the road five miles from the ocean was startled by a weird looking hitch hiker standing somewhat out in the traffic lane, as all hitch hikers do, and wigwagging his thumb. It was the regular hitch hiker thumb wobble, but the motorist thought the hitch hiker was a trifle too big for his back seat and was a little afraid of hitch hikers, anyhow, for fear they might slam him over the head with a club and borrow his car, so he swerved away and drove hurriedly past the wigwagger. And then he saw that the hitch hiker wasn't a college boy walking home to his dying mother or a white collar worker trying to get to the bedside of a sick wife, but a sea lion. The sea lion was waving his front right hand flipper and the motorist thought, of course, it was a hitch hiker wriggling his thumb.

The man in the car couldn't take the sea lion hitch hiker in and give him a ride, but that's where he was wrong. A sea lion is one hitch hiker that it would be perfectly safe to take in. He might eat up the cushions, but at least he wouldn't whack us over the back of the head with a sockful of sand or shoot us with a gat, a sea lion having no pockets in which to carry a sockful of sand or a gat. Also he has no socks, as he never wears them.

But the chief pleasure of picking up a sea lion hitch hiker would be that he wouldn't keep saying, "Oh, what a swell driver you are. My goodness, I never saw such a swell driver. My, but you do handle this car mighty well. And what a fine car it is. Brand new, of course. What, two years old, going on three? This car! I can't believe it. Well, you certainly keep it in fine shape; why, it's easily the best car on the road. I suppose you'll be stopping for lunch pretty soon. Well, I can't have any lunch. Nope, I haven't got a nickel and I've had nothing to eat for three days. If I could only have a hot dog and a cuppa Java I'd think I was settin' down at the Lord Mayor's banquet in London. But not for me. Nope, I can't even buy a hot dog and a cuppa Java. My, my, what a swell car this is and what a wonderful driver you are," etc., etc., etc.

No, a sea lion wouldn't talk to us like that and he wouldn't try to bum a cigaret. He would just loll back on the cushions and fan himself with his flippers and look happy. And then, too, if we had a little accident the sea lion wouldn't sue us for fifty thousand dollars in spite of the fact that we haven't got fifty thousand dollars. Or if he got killed his wife wouldn't claim two hundred thousand dollars in damages. Mrs. Sea Lion would just say "Whoof" when the ambulance chasers tried to persuade her to bring suit and dive right back into the ocean. And if the ambulance chasers said, "Why, listen, Mrs. Sea Lion, if you got them two hundred thousand dollars you could buy a sealskin coat," Mrs. Sea Lion would not be in the least interested, she already having a sealskin coat.

No, say what you will, if we have to pick up a hitch hiker it must be a sea lion. That's the only kind that we'd like to see climb into our bus.

(In memory of M. H.)

These crumpled fragile ashes
Are all that's left of her—
Her little shoes, her golden gown,
Her funny woolly fur.

Her pause at a bird's stilled wings.
All lovely passing things.

Bed them in an autumn fire
Or lay them by the rose,
Or give them to a cloudy night

CAMPASPE.

SIX COMPANIES of the National Guard have been sent under arms into southern Illinois to repel four hundred ex-veterans who are trying to go to Washington to plead with congress for immediate payment of their bonus. This trip of the veterans must remind them of the last time when they went east in a body and were given free clothing, free food, and a free ride. Bands played, people cheered, and pretty girls bedecked them with flowers. That was the time the vets were sailing for France, and it must remind them of their present expedition merely because it was so different. The halting of the veterans by six companies of the state guard rather reminds one of Mr. Kipling's poem:

For it's Tommy this an' Tommy that an' Tommy wait outside;
But it's "Special train for Atkins" when the trooper's on the tide—
The troopship's on the tide, my boys, the troopship's on the tide,

AN ABORIGINAL TRIBE has been discovered in Australia who speak only in hisses and grunts. Too bad we can't select the members of congress from that tribe. Ah, if Senator Hooey Long was only one of those people, it would be so much pleasanter to hear Hooey stand up and grunt for a couple of hours than to make one of his silly speeches. And the rest of the congressmen should also be members of the Australian aborigines because they could then give him the Bronx cheer in spite of the traditions of senatorial courtesy.

DO YOU HEAR that hammering and sawing noise these soft, still nights? That's the Republicans and Democrats making their party platforms. And hark to that rasping, buzzing sound! Some of those planks must be hard to trim down. Lumber gets that way when it's wet. R. H. L.

PROTECTION AGAINST CONSUMPTION.

A DOZEN years ago it was the common belief that a child who gave a positive reaction to tuberculin was in danger. Now most physicians hold to the contrary. There are two types of consumption. The infantile type has one location in the lungs, the range of fever is high, the progress of the malady is rapid, and the diseased lungs are somewhat like those of pneumonia. In the adult type the disease starts at the top of one lung, the range of fever is low, the progress of the disease is slow. The person who has the infantile type of the trouble in his adult years is out of luck. If a child has had a mild infection in babyhood or early life he is thereafter protected against consumption of the infantile type. If he develops the trouble it is of the slower, less dangerous, and more curable adult type.

That, after a fashion, is the present day view of the question. Acting on this view several men in various parts of the world have been working on ways of protecting adults against the infantile form by different plans of immunizing in youth.

In Norway Dr. Heimbeck conceived the idea of giving a tuberculin test to every young woman who entered his tuberculosis sanitarium for training in nursing. Those who did not react to tuberculin were vaccinated against the disease. He reports favorably on his method, claiming the young women in training no longer become tuberculous, as they once did. If any other sanitarium or hospital has followed his plan in all of his steps the writer does not know of it.

It is the accepted and customarily used plan with nurses on service in training in hospitals where either smallpox, typhoid fever, diphtheria or scarlet fever is being cared for. To a limited degree a similar method is in use in hospitals where measles is being nursed. However, vaccination against consumption is not on the established basis that vaccination against the other diseases is on.

In one hospital in St. Paul they carry out the first step in the plan. They give a tuberculin test to the young ladies entering training for the degree of registered nurse. They repeat the test when the nurses are ready to graduate. They find that one-third of the applicants give a positive test when they start their course of training. All of them give a positive test when ready to graduate.

In other words, two-thirds of the young ladies pick up an infection while they are being trained and exposed for long hours in hospital wards. Since only about one in twenty develop clinical tuberculosis it follows that the remainder contracted a mild infection which they were able to overcome and which, thereafter, protected them. To reduce it to figures—out of each 99 beginners 23 gave a positive reaction on entrance. When the group came to graduate 5 had broken down with consumption, 23 were protected before entering and 61 had become protected by their exposure in the hospital wards.

PINWORMS.

Mrs. F. A. writes:

"Mother" wrote asking what to do for her daughter, who has a case of pinworms. This is the method we used:

1. Absolute cleanliness is essential.
2. Check up on diet, especially lettuce and raw vegetables of any kind.
3. Upon retiring, a stiff dose of castor oil.
4. Before breakfast, one santonin tablet and two one-half grain tablets of calomel.
5. Three hours later, a dose of Epsom salts.
6. Upon retiring, an enema of clear water to empty the lower bowel.
7. Now take an enema of quassia chips, trying to hold as long as possible without discomfort. The quassia enema contains only a pint of water.
8. After each bowel movement be sure that the rectal entrance is clean. Wash, and then apply some soothing ointment.
9. If at all possible, obtain a small pane of glass. Place in toilet bowl and when stool is passed look and see if you can find any worms.

This treatment is used for two days. The enemas are used for a week, then dropped for a week. It is absolutely necessary that one keep oneself clean at this period or there will be reinfection. I have had two cases of pinworms and know what it is. I have not eaten lettuce for four months.

NEED OF TRAINING.

Miss L. S. writes:

1. There is a disease in which the face is purplish red. What is its name?
2. When I wish to look especially nice I turn purplish red. My face is hot, my hands are cold, and I am extremely nervous. I sleep well and have no headaches. I have tried dieting. Will leaving off bread help me? Am I going to die soon?

REPLY.

1. The disease is known as polycythemia.
2. My guess is that your trouble is not polycythemia, that there is nothing organically wrong with you, that you will not die soon, and that dieting will be of no service. However, let a physician examine you, and particularly your blood. My guess is that you are a blusher, that you have an excitable vasomotor nervous system, and that your need is training in poise, calm, self-confidence, self-control, and indifference.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

REPUBLICAN—1908.

CHICAGO, June 19.—William Howard Taft, favorite son of Ohio, and the personal choice of President Roosevelt, was yesterday nominated on the first ballot for President of the United States by the Republican national convention which began at the Coliseum on June 16. He received 702 out of the 980 votes cast. The vote on others was as follows: Philander C. Knox, 68; Charles E. Hughes, 67; Joseph G. Cannon, 58; Charles Warren Fairbanks, 40; Robert M. La Follette, 25; Joseph B. Foraker, 16; President Roosevelt, 3.

The nomination of the secretary of war followed a wild demonstration lasting 47 minutes for President Roosevelt on the previous day when the delegates and spectators cheered his name and achievements in the face of the most positive assurances that he would not accept renomination. A similar demonstration was averted yesterday by Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge, who instructed the sergeant at arms to prevent a parade of delegates with Roosevelt banners.

DENVER, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan is the nominee of the Democratic party for President for the third time. He was nominated early this morning in the national convention held in the great convention hall built especially for the convention and as a permanent meeting place for large gatherings.

Neither Judge Gray of Delaware nor Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota, Bryan's chief competitors, showed any great strength. Bryan received 892½ votes to 46 for Gov. Johnson and 59½ for Judge Gray.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 25, 1916.

LONDON. — Fort Douaumont is again in German hands. Once more Germany's might has been demonstrated by the recapture of the position that has been described as the "front door" of Verdun. It was taken despite the most desperate valor of the defenders. The position is held by what remains of two divisions of Bavarians. Foot by foot all last night and today they fought their way back into the ruins of the old fort. While this was going on fresh German assaults were launched west of the Meuse at Dead Man hill and the Germans captured the village of Cumieres, thus securing a new leverage on the hill. The German losses in the last few days have been appalling. In dead alone they are estimated at 10,000. The dead lay in great heaps as Fort Douaumont again fell into German hands.

BERLIN.—Continued success for the Austrians in their battles with the Italians is reported in the Austro-Hungarian official statement. It says: "North of the Sugana valley the Austro-Hungarians have occupied the ridge from Salubic to Borgo; on the frontier ridge south of the valley the Italians have been driven from Pompel mountain. Since the beginning of our attack 24,400 Italians have been made prisoners, among them 524 officers, and 251 cannon, 101 machine guns, and sixteen bomb throwers have been taken."

LONDON.—In a speech in the house of commons on the question of peace and the propriety of "employing the American press as a platform," Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, set aside all ideas that peace negotiations were possible now.

CHICAGO.—Military training in the high schools was established by the board of education. The vote was unanimous. The action followed a poll by THE TRIBUNE of the parents of high school boys which showed that 87.2 per cent of the parents favored the plan which had been previously advocated by THE TRIBUNE.

Every Man's University

Questions and answers prepared by members of the faculty of the University of Chicago outline what they consider a well educated person ought to know. Today's instructor, Arthur Pearson Scott, associate professor of history.

TODAY'S QUESTION:

In which one of the fine arts does the greatest contrast appear between modern developments and the attainments of the classical period?

YESTERDAY'S QUESTION:

ANSWER:

Against the rather cold rationalism of the 18th century there set in a reaction which emphasized the emotional side of life. It went in for poetry, and the beauties of nature, and rather idealized the past, particularly the Middle Ages. In Germany, some of Goethe's earlier work was romantic in tone. In England, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Byron, Shelly, Keats and Sir Walter Scott, and in France, Victor Hugo, belong in general to the same tradition. So do most of the American writers of the earlier 19th century, like Cooper, Hawthorne, Poe and Melville.

CITIZENSHIP.

Pekin, Ill., May 22.—[Friend of the People.]—1. If a foreigner who has not become an American citizen or who cannot become an American citizen marries an American girl, does the girl lose her citizenship? 2. If a foreigner came to this country as a sailor under the American flag six years ago, can he become an American citizen and what are the details to become one? G. P.

1. An American woman marrying an alien ineligible to citizenship after March 3, 1931, does not lose her American citizenship.
2. If the sailor made a legal entry, he may be naturalized in the usual manner. He should file a declaration of intention [first paper] and two years later apply for final papers.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director, U. S. Dept. of Labor.

BREACH OF CONTRACT.

Aurora, Ill., May 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A owns 230 acres of land on which was placed a federal loan of $11,000 and a second mortgage of $21,500. Later 80 acres were sold for $12,000 and the money turned over to the banker to be applied against the second mortgage. This was never done and the money was applied by the banker without A's consent to other bank indebtedness. Can it be proven that the banker has violated any banking laws in this connection? R. A. L.

It would be a violation of contract, rather than a violation of banking laws. If you wish to proceed for breach of contract you should employ an attorney.

WHY THEY CAME.

Chicago, May 21.—The statement made by C. Hoogstraal in the Voice of the People today, that the Netherlands were always in the vanguard of nations that fought for freedom of conscience, is correct. However, there is a difference between freedom of conscience and freedom of religion. In this, also, Holland occupies a position of honor among nations, but there have been a few lapses. One of these occurred when King William I., a headstrong, would-be autocrat, interfered with the Separatists who declined to coöperate in the matter of his creating a state church.

This happened in the year 1837 and the years immediately following. During that period, it is true, the Separatists were not hanged or burned or quartered or broken on the rack, but they were fined or arrested for unlawful assembly, they were jailed for nonpayment of fines, meetings were forcibly broken up by the police, the leaders were roughly handled. Moreover, public sentiment was artificially worked up to such a pitch that many found it impossible to continue earning their daily bread.

In this extremity they petitioned the king, requesting that they be allowed to settle in some part of the Dutch colonies with the understanding that they be left alone in the exercise of their religion. This request was refused. Emigration to Michigan was the next step.

Mr. Hoogstraal should read up on the separation of 1837 in order to refresh his memory or his knowledge of Dutch history. Volumes have been written on the subject, both in Dutch and in English. T. D. PALS.

WET AND DRY ARITHMETIC.

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 20.—I am still a member of THE TRIBUNE family and in my way of thinking still retain my right to complain if there is a reason.

I have taken a great deal of interest in your first page article of May 19 regarding the vote on the Tydings and Bingham bills proposing, in one case, 2.75 per cent beer, and in the other 4 per cent beer. I also note that the proposal was to tax beer 24c a gallon and that the net revenue receipts would be $500,000,000, out of which half billion it was expected to pay $200,000,000 toward amortizing the bond issue and turn the balance into the treasury, which would be between 200 and 300 millions of dollars.

I am first reminded that this would be in effect, if passed, in fifteen states only. As has been stated in your paper many times, beer is the workingman's drink, as other folk drink the more expensive liquors. It is very obvious that in order to realize the half billion dollars in gross revenue somebody would be obliged to consume more than 2,000,000,000 gallons of beer. Some one has figured out that that would mean three and one-eighth gallons a day to every man, woman and child in the fifteen wet states. In these fifteen wet states they are not all workingmen and in the workingman's family there are a great many children under beer-drinking age. There are also a large number of workingmen and their wives who do not and would not drink beer.

I have always tried to do my part since I have been an American citizen and I want here to state that "with a great price I obtained this freedom," but I am not quite patriotic enough to drink the nineteen gallons of beer a day necessary to take care of my family's quota.

Now, there is something more you have not said anything about in your discussion and that is—that in order to collect the amount of revenue provided for there would be, as always, a great retinue of excise tax men and others connected with the enforcement of the law, to say nothing of the legion of men engaged purely in the business of detecting and punishing its violation.

I am still asking that my paper, in the discussion of any matter that is of great moment, be fair and state with equal clearness and frankness, both sides of the question. Hoping to continue our relationship of publisher and reader, I remain HARRIS S. WHITNEY.

A FRIEND FOR YEARS.

Chicago, May 21.—I would like to know why a man must be a fool in order to be going to the University of Alabama? And besides Patrovsky is a law student there and also he is a Bohemian, but I don't think he's a fool. I have known him for years and I find him a smart young man. I don't know why he picked out that certain school, but he must have good reasons of his own.

And listen, MacCartie, I would like to know what you mean by "Bohunk." I guess you don't know we have a "Bohunk," as you call it, for our mayor of Chicago. After you read this I hope you will see we have a good number of "Bohunks" in very high offices. I also wish to thank THE TRIBUNE for publishing Patrovsky's letter in the Voice of the People. PAUL OSTRIHON JR.

A HEAVILY CENSORED REPLY.

Berwyn, Ill., May 21.—There are reasons why a Bohunk named Patrovsky went to the University of Alabama to study law, but why explain them to a sludge head like MacCartie? As for THE TRIBUNE being gullible in printing a letter from an alleged Chicagoan, and a Bohunk, at that, named Patrovsky, THE TRIBUNE is gullible in assuming that MacCartie is funny, or what is the object of printing his snipes?

The whole idea is, this nation is composed of a multitude of races, including MacCartie, although he may be a Siwash, and a dirty Siwash—there are no other kind—and we come to a pretty lousy, cheesy pass when we have to make snide cracks about each other, and call each other Bohunks, Polacks, Squareheads, Wops, Ginnies, Kikes, and common decency dictates that we ought to be more broad minded and cut out such buffoonery, if it is funny. I don't see anything funny about it. I'm part Bohunk and part Swiss.

As for studying law at the University of Alabama, they teach the same tripe there as they do in Illinois. All you have to do is compare some of the so-called statesmen who learned their law in Illinois and those who got their knowledge in Alabama, and you'll find that the punks and the able men run about fifty-fifty. A wise Providence figured it out that way. If we were all as smart as MacCartie, hell's bells, we would be throwing pineapples and pop bottles through each other's front windows. FRANK J. SCHINDLER.

ALABAMA FOREVER.

Chicago, May 21.—I just want to tell MacCartie, whose letter appears in THE TRIBUNE this morning, that if some of the damn fools I have met in Chicago in the last fifteen years I have lived in Chicago would attend the University of Alabama or some other institution of learning, even in the south, they would learn something, and perhaps lose some of their ego and stc. It would be well for any who leave Chicago to attend Alabama to be very careful because the Bruce Insane hospital is adjacent to the university and somebody might make a mistake. WORRELL L. IRVIN.

COOLIDGE.

Oak Park, Ill., May 21.—As the greatest Republican newspaper in the west, why don't you boost Coolidge for the Republican nomination for President? He is the only man who can beat any Democratic nominee hands down and with the faith of the people with him he will lead us out of the depression. REPUBLICAN.

URBANA IS FIRST CITY TO RECEIVE PAVING BY STATE

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Urbana, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The state highway department came into this university town today with its first contribution of pavement on streets of a municipality worn out by through traffic.

Bids were opened on a mile of thirty-six foot concrete for University avenue, which carries the Illinois 25 markers, and a twenty-six foot bumpy brick pavement will be removed. The state will pay for the center twenty feet of concrete and a portion of the curbing, a total of approximately $32,700. The property owners, through a special assessment, will pay $17,848, covering the cost of the sixteen feet of pavement to be used for parking.

"We're glad to get this pavement from the state," said Mayor Reginald C. Harmon, "but it's only a pittance compared with what Urbana deserves from the state in return for the gas tax and motor registration fees paid by the motorists of this city.

Get but Small Share.

"Urbana, and virtually all other cities of the state, are in a position no different than Chicago. The state highway treasury has been enriched by taxes paid by city motorists. In former years all of the state road money has gone for country roads and now the municipalities are going to receive but 7 per cent of the department's total expenditures.

"Urbana, with a population of 13,053, has approximately 2,740 automobiles. The owners are paying $80,500 a year to the highway department in gas tax and license fees.

"The motorists of this city have contributed $400,000 for the state bond issue routes. Their portion to finish the rural system is $88,600. Their portion of interest and principal on outstanding bonds for rural roads will amount to $421,000. This will make a total of $909,600 as the cost of the bond issue system to the vehicle owners of Urbana."

Cities Pay 85 Per Cent.

The Illinois Municipal league estimates that 85 per cent of the revenue of the state highway department is derived from automobile owners residing in municipalities. The league advocates a distribution of the 3 cent gasoline tax equally among cities, counties, and state. At present the counties get 1 cent and the state gets 2 cents. In Chicago, according to the Chicago Motor club, the state collects $20,842,000 a year. The automobile owners of the city have paid $103,355,000 to date for rural roads and by 1959 will have paid $233,044,000 to complete the bond issue system and to retire the bonds.

To date the highway department has spent nothing on the streets of Chicago in return for this $233,044,000 partly paid obligation of the city vehicle owners for rural pavements. The state's program this year calls for $2,000,000 worth of construction in Chicago. The first bids are to be received on June 15 for two and a third miles of forty foot pavement on Higgins road from the city limits to Austin avenue.

COUNTY IN IOWA CUTS COSTS AND COLLECTS TAXES

Has Balanced Budget Despite Stringency.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 24.—[Special.]—Linn county, of which Cedar Rapids is the county seat, claims a national record in the collection of taxes for the years 1928, 1929, and 1930. Of total assessments in the three year period, $11,871,253, all but $120,499 was collected, leaving the uncollected portion of all tax bills little more than 1 per cent.

In 1928 the levy was $3,553,003 and collections were $3,525,328. In 1929 the levy reached $3,936,699 and $3,901,643 was collected. The levy for 1930 was $3,881,551 and collections $3,335,776. The figures are regarded as more impressive in view of the fact that the 1929 taxes were collected in 1930 and the 1930 taxes in 1931, the latter two years of general depression.

Best Record in State.

Local statisticians have compared figures from other Iowa counties and know that Linn has the best percentage of return on levies. They are confident also that no other county in any other state has made a better showing.

J. M. Hutchinson, assistant cashier of the Cedar Rapids Bank and Trust company, said that in his opinion the cold figures demonstrated that Linn county is not anywhere near bankruptcy, and that there is hope for all other taxing bodies which make a conscientious effort to balance their budgets.

"The achievement here is remarkable," said Mr. Hutchinson, "when one considers that all our wealth comes from the soil and that the drop in farm commodity prices has not made the financial affairs of the farmer any easier.

Practice Public Economy.

"This county, like all other local governments in the United States, increased its funded debt substantially by the development of public works, including war memorials, during the last decade. We well realize that the debt has been incurred and that there is one thing for us to do and that is to retire it. We are not trying to bring back the past, but we are endeavoring to build for a sound future.

"I believe that if the federal government would adopt the same policy the depression would be well on its way toward the end."

The banker added that drastic economies had already been effected in municipal expenditures all over Iowa. Budget reforms adopted early this year by the state and county governments, he said, had been helpful in accomplishing this end.

LEIF ERIKSON MEDAL GIVEN TO EXPLORER HEDIN

Baron Sven Hedin, Swedish explorer, was given the Leif Erikson medal yesterday at the Arts club. The medal is conferred for outstanding contributions in the field of exploration, geography, aeronautics, or astronomy, and was given in recognition of Baron Hedin's explorations in the interior of Asia.

The honor was conferred at a meeting of the directors of the Memorial of Leif Erikson in America. The medal, designed by Oskar J. W. Hansen, Chicago sculptor, is the official emblem of the organization.

J. E. Edwards, chief inspector for the state department of registration and education, addressed 300 members of the Chicago Dental society at a dinner last night in the Palmer House. His subject was: "Enforcement of the state dental practice act."

"Get the important violators and the little offenders will mend their ways; that has been the policy of the department," Mr. Edwards said. "Records show that only 15 or 20 per cent of prosecuted violators were convicted under a former administration. Under the present administration 90 per cent of those prosecuted have been convicted.

"Although the dental practice act was designed primarily to protect the public, ethical practitioners receive equal benefit, for enforcement of the act increases the confidence of the public in the honesty and efficiency of the profession."

SLAYING SUSPECT RELEASED.

Clarence Flynn, 26 years old, arrested as a suspect in the slaying of a Madison, Wis., policeman, was released yesterday when witnesses to the murder failed to identify him.

JUDGE TO OFFER MORE ALIMONY DEBTORS LIBERTY

Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday announced that he would call six more members of the alimony club at the county jail before him today and free the men if they promised to try to make up their alimony arrears. Twelve other prisoners in alimony row who will be given opportunities for freedom this week.

"It is my belief that no man should be sent to jail who does not wilfully violate the orders of the court," said Judge Sabath. "Jail sentences as far as I am concerned are extreme measures taken when every other effort to make men support their wives and children has failed.

"All of the men I sent to jail on Monday were wilful violators. One of them, Martin W. Ellis, an Oak Park salesman, paid up as soon as he was taken in custody and he was not sent to jail. The others had failed to show that they made even the slightest attempt to comply with the court orders.

"Even after men have been sent to jail they must not be regarded as without rights. They quickly learn a lesson and I think that having learned they should be freed."

Oppose Federal Work at Present on St. Joseph River.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—(AP)—An unfavorable report on the St. Joseph river, Michigan and Indiana, with regard to any federal improvements at present, was made to congress by the war department today following a navigation, flood control, power development and irrigation survey of the stream.

RECTOR DENIES SEDUCING GIRLS; BLAMES GOSSIP

"All I Ever Did Was Help Them," He Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 24.—The Rev. H. F. Davidson, 62 year old rector of Stiffkey, who is accused of immorality, testified in his trial before the consistory court today that he has frequently been accused of being a white slave agent.

"I have been accused of everything under the sun," the clergyman said, "and that I took girls to my rooms and after a prayer sold them to the Argentine. I have been accused of that while this case has been going on and I was told it was going to be proved in court."

Makes Blanket Denial.

The Rev. Mr. Davidson denied the accusations of misconduct with any of the hundreds of girls he has admitted he accosted on the streets or in restaurants in a severe cross-examination.

"I was gossiped about by evil-minded persons in connection with every young girl I ever helped," he testified.

The prosecution suggested that the Rev. Mr. Davidson had seemed most anxious to meet girls between the ages of 16 and 20. To this the clergyman replied that his preference was 14 to 20, as in that period "girls were most impressionable."

"That is why I have always striven to get the highest principles inculcated into girls between those ages," the rector volunteered. "When I took Rose Ellis, a waitress, to Paris, it was only to get her a job away from her London associations. I was never guilty of immoral conduct with her over a period of ten years."

Later he admitted that the name "Mormon" often had been playfully applied to him while he was a student at Oxford.

"I have often joked about it myself," he said. "I can recall that some students used to speak of 'Davidson and his harmless harem.'"

Bishop William W. Perrin, whom the Rev. Mr. Davidson has known since the latter was a boy of ten years, was called into the courtroom today to confront the rector with the suggestion that the rector was lying when he denied that he had been turned out of the Actors' Church union.

Smiles at Bishop.

Informed of what the bishop intended to say from the witness box, the rector rose, bowed and smiled at the bishop after he had been asked if, in the bishop's presence, he maintained that he was still a member.

"I still consider myself a member," the clergyman said as he sat down.

CROSS-BILL FOR DIVORCE IS FILED BY MRS. KEGEL

Mrs. Marie Sahlin Kegel yesterday filed a cross-bill for divorce against Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, former city health commissioner, and asked the custody of their 5 year old adopted son, Bobby. The doctor's suit for divorce was brought several months ago and charged his wife attempted to poison him.

Mrs. Kegel's bill recited that while they were dancing in a New York restaurant following their remarriage in November, 1930, Dr. Kegel squeezed her during a fit of temper so that she was forced to leave the dance floor because of the pain. The bill also charged Dr. Kegel struck his wife on several occasions and once dragged her from bed by her hair when she refused to discuss a book he was reading.

Mrs. Kegel now is in a hospital convalescing from a nervous illness. Circuit Judge Daniel P. Trude will hear the divorce soon.

LAWYERS MOVE TO SHORTEN TAX TRIAL OF PASCHEN

Hope that the Paschen trial may be shortened by a stipulation of certain portions of defense testimony was expressed late yesterday after government and defense counsel had held two conferences. The attorneys planned a third meeting this morning. Christian P. Paschen, former building commissioner, has been on trial more than three weeks before Federal Judge Barnes, charged with evading $114,000 income taxes in 1927 and 1928.

Cassius Poust, Paschen's chief counsel, and Assistant United States Attorney Sam Clawson were urged by Judge Barnes to try to arrive at a stipulation whereby some of the defense evidence could be read into the record without detailed identification and qualifying testimony.

Late yesterday Mr. Poust succeeded in showing that not all of Paschen's business transactions were successful. This point was made by H. G. Peiniker of New York, who was Paschen's Detroit representative for about six months in 1927. During that period, he testified, the expense on work performed by Paschen's company exceeded the sales by $12,512. Poust contends, in answer to the government's charges, that Paschen's income for 1927 and 1928 was more than $1,200,000, that he suffered many business losses, had tremendous expenses and that his political ventures were costly.

ROAD BUILDER PAYS $34,000 FOR BRIBERY IN MICHIGAN SCANDAL

St. Joseph, Mich., May 24.—[Special.]—W. J. Lang of Chicago, president of the Lang Construction company, paid $34,000 in the Berrien county Circuit court here late today in fines and restoration of bonds after pleading guilty to giving bribes in connection with building county roads. Other charges against Lang were dismissed.

Jacob Rose, La Porte, Ind., truck dealer, and Bryan Wise, Benton Harbor road contractor, former Berrien undersheriff, also pleaded guilty to giving bribes and were fined.

Lang's fine and costs totaled $4,000. He paid the county $30,000 in addition by returning that amount of the Niles, Buchanan road bonds he bought last year.

Wise paid $100 fine and $300 costs. Rose paid fine and costs of $2,000.

BRITAIN PRAISES KEMAL FOR PART AT GALLIPOLI

ISTANBUL, May 24.—The British government today presented to President Mustapha Kemel Pasha a copy of the official British history of the Gallipoli campaign, in which he led one of the crack Turkish divisions.

The two volume work, compiled by Brig. Gen. Aspinall-Oglander, is inscribed to Mustapha as a "great general and noble and valiant adversary." In the second volume there is a warm tribute to President Kemal's part in the campaign.

"Seldom in history," the book says, "can the exertions of a single divisional commander have exercised so profound an influence not only on the course of a battle, but, perhaps, on the fate of a campaign and even the destiny of a nation."

"USE, Rumford by level measurements . . . But even if by chance you use too much, it will not impart the slightest "baking-powder-taste"

"LOOKING BACK TO 1932"

(No. 9 of a Series—Conversations in the Future)

"YES! I had it all done in 1932 and, believe me, I saved a lot of money!"

"You know, Dick, when a man owns a house, he can always find places to improve it . . . if he looks for those places . . . and believe me, I did a lot of looking back in 1932 . . . and I'll tell you why.

"In the first place . . . the cost of building material was down plenty . . . and I figured there were wide-open opportunities to improve my property at tremendous savings.

"I had a new roof put on . . . one that should last for many years . . . because at those 1932 prices I had a much better one put on than I could ordinarily afford.

"My garage is another example of my 1932 economy plan of spending to save.

"The beautiful interior of my home portrays evidence of the decorating and painting that was accomplished at very nominal cost.

"When I compare today's prices with those of 1932, I compliment myself on my foresight in having a new heating plant and a new gas range installed . . . as modern in their efficiency as science can produce.

"My wife always wanted a sleeping porch, and I had one built in '32 for comparatively very little money. Incidentally, that sleeping porch has provided us with an extra bedroom.

"And look at the landscaping I had done in 1932 . . . something to be proud of . . . shrubbery and trees that today add greatly to the beauty of the place. My garage is also well stocked with sundry garden implements that I picked up in 1932 at prices that cannot be duplicated today.

"All in all, Dick, I am mighty proud of the fact that I took advantage of the good old bargain days of '32!"

JOBLESS RELIEF POLICIES UPSET COUNTY BOARD

Business Is Forgotten in Attack on Commission.

Members of the county board, in a meeting of the board's public service committee yesterday, indulged in a flurry of criticism of the unemployment relief organization in Cook county. Their principal charges were that the organization is employing social workers who are not residents of Illinois and that salaries of some of the relief executives are excessive.

The discussion started when Joseph F. Moss, director of the county bureau of public welfare, recommended to the committee that in advertising for bids for rations for June, July, and August, the quantities be increased so as to provide a month's food, instead of 31 days' rations a month, the practice in the past, for the 100,000 families on the relief rolls. The funds for the relief work are received from the Illinois emergency relief commission.

Kelly First to Open Fire.

County Commissioner Peter M. Kelly was the first to open fire. "I understand a good many of the executives in the organization are not even Illinois residents," he said. "I'm told that 43 of these people in the old joint emergency relief committee organization [now working under the bureau of public welfare] are nonresidents."

The statement threw the meeting into an uproar. Commissioner Frank J. Kaspar outtalked the others with a motion to fire all nonresident employés.

"What if only 43 of the 1,200 members of the organization are nonresidents," interjected Commissioner Amelia Sears. "The county board members don't seem to realize the seriousness of the present situation. The organization is running smoothly, and 100,000 families are dependent upon its functioning so."

The commissioners passed Miss Sears' substitute motion for a subcommittee to make a thorough investigation of the nonresident charges before taking action. Apparently the proposal to increase the food allowance was lost in the shuffle. No action was taken on it.

Asks About High Pay Reports

Commissioner Charles Weber asked Mr. Moss if it were true that some executives of the relief organization were getting as much as $6,000 a year. Mr. Moss replied that $4,000 was the highest salary paid, to his knowledge.

Mrs. Edward J. Fleming, another commissioner, said she had heard that executives of private charities were being paid from public funds sent to the agencies by the relief commission. This is not true, said Edward L. Ryerson, chairman of the commission, later. He did not attend the meeting.

Mr. Ryerson said the field workers who investigate requests for aid are paid from the relief fund, but all the private charities pay their executives from private funds. The top salary of the relief organization, $4,200, he said, is received by only one man. He is not a social service worker, but the commission's auditor, a certified public accountant.

Answers Nonresident Charge.

In reply to the nonresident employé charge, Mr. Ryerson said: "We have some nonresident employés, but on May 1 we adopted a resolution that no more be employed. That has caused even more protests than those of the county commissioners against the nonresidents. Among the protests was a letter from Mr. Moss, stating that it would be impossible to get the necessary social workers if nonresidents of Illinois were barred.'

The county board finance committee voted yesterday to advertise for bids on $200,000 worth of the bond issue authorized for the county hospital nurses' home.

Former N. U. Professor Ordered to Pay Alimony

Dr. George Carl Fisher, 7538 Kingston avenue, a former professor in the Northwestern University Medical school, was ordered yesterday by Judge Joseph Sabath to pay temporary alimony of $25 a week to Mrs. Miriam C. Fisher, 7020 Chappel avenue, pending trial of their divorce actions on June 6. Dr. Fisher charged his wife with infidelity in a bill filed in the Superior court by Socrates and Davis. She replied with a cross bill charging cruelty. Mrs. Fisher is a niece of Clifford Chickering, retired president of the Chickering Brothers Piano company.

HAWLEY OF TARIFF FAME TRAILS WET FOE BY 174 IN PRIMARY

Mott, a wet, attacked Hawley's tariff measures in his campaign for the First district Republican nomination. He polled 30,314 votes. Hawley received 30,740.

The Democrats staged even a closer battle in the same district. With an official count awaited, William A. Delzell had 12,077 votes and Harvey Starkweather 12,047.

CALLS FOR ACTION TO REDUCE NEGRO DELINQUENCIES

Speaker Tells League of Rising Rate.

A study of the increase in juvenile delinquency among Negroes in Chicago and recommendations for remedying conditions were presented by a member of that race yesterday before a conference of the Chicago Urban league at the Central Y. W. C. A. The speaker was Earl R. Moses, a graduate of Oberlin college and director of research for the league, whose findings are the result of a two and a half year's survey.

"We find that crime and delinquency in our race is not a result of inherent traits," said Mr. Moses, "but rather that these social ills may be blamed on the conditions under which the people live."

In 1900, when the Negroes constituted 1.8 per cent of the total population, Negroes made up 2.5 per cent of the total delinquents, according to Mr. Moses. However, in 1930, with Negroes numbering 6.9 of the total population, the delinquents of this race had increased to 21.2 per cent, showing that the ratio is mounting. Females outnumber the male offenders, Mr. Moses said.

Judge Gives Court Figures.

Earlier in the conference, Judge J. William Brooks of the Boys' court had revealed that in the last ten months Negro youths have made up 21.6 per cent of the offenders in his court.

Negro delinquency decreases as the Negro communities move outward from the loop, according to the report. "The higher rates of delinquency prevail in areas of disorganization, and the lower rates of delinquency are in organized Negro communities," said Mr. Moses. Of the total Negro male delinquents in 1929, 77.2 per cent were born in the south. More than one-fourth came from Mississippi.

Improvements Are Asked.

Recommendations for improvement included: Better housing facilities, razing of deteriorated buildings, more adequate recreational centers, and additional private and public provisions for fostering placements for dependent children, pre-delinquents and delinquents, who are or who may be wards of the Juvenile court and of the St. Charles school for boys.

Men Drive Girl to Bridge Where She Leaps to Death

Charleston, W. Va., May 24.—[Special.]—Waving good-by to two men who sat in a yellow roadster, Mabel Snodgrass, 25, early today stepped upon a bridge wall here and plunged to her death in Elk river. Two workingmen, Howard Simpson and Thomas Meeker, told police they were walking across the bridge when they saw her leave the car, go to the center of the bridge, wave to the car occupants and jump. The auto then drove off rapidly. A widespread hunt has been begun for the car.

125,000 VISITORS EXPECTED NOW FOR CONVENTIONS

Flood of Reservations Brings New Estimate.

A flood of hotel reservations during the last fortnight led Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the citizens' nonpartisan committee, yesterday to increase earlier estimates that 100,000 delegates and visitors will come to Chicago for the Republican and Democratic national convention next month. Both conclaves, he declared, will draw more heavily than first believed. The new estimate is for a total of 125,000 visitors.

E. J. KELLY. [Smith Photo.]

Mr. Hurley urged delegates and others who plan to attend to make their reservations without delay to avoid confusion later.

"There will, of course," he said, "be plenty of hotel space for every one, but delegates and party workers naturally must stay at those hotels most convenient to their party headquarters and to the convention hall. Our survey shows an unprecedented flood of reservations during the last two weeks."

Plan to Vacation Here.

Former estimates, based on hotel reservations, were that the Democratic convention would bring 65,000 to Chicago, and the Republican, which will have no contest over the presidential nomination, about 35,000. Letters from prospective visitors indicate that thousands are coming for both conventions as a vacation. The impending battle in the Republican convention over a prohibition plank, the fight over an agricultural plank, and a plan for reduction of bureaucracy and high cost of government, it appears, will materially swell the attendance.

The liberals, who are for an antiprohibition plank, are arranging a two day demonstration and a mass meeting the night before the Republican convention opens June 14. The dry forces likewise are planning rallies.

Names E. J. Kelly Chairman.

E. J. Kelly, president of the south park board, was appointed chairman of the official entertainment committee for both conventions yesterday. Mayor Cermak will be honorary chairman. Vice chairmen include Vincent Bendix, George Rossetter, Albert J. Horan, Clayton F. Smith, Emmett Whealan and Harry A. Wheeler. The committee has some 150 members.

"Delegates and visitors to both conventions," said Mr. Kelly, "will find that Chicago has prepared more for them in the way of entertainment than has any other convention city in many years. Special Republican and Democratic days will be held at the World's Fair to show them the new buildings in advance of the opening next year."

BEGIN PLACING LIGHTS, BUOYS IN ILLINOIS RIVER

Peoria, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—Development of the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway will mark another stage today and tomorrow when lights and buoys are to be placed in the Illinois river between Starved Rock and Ottawa for the first time.

An order to mark this section of the river was received several days ago at the United States engineer suboffice and the work was begun today under the direction of Capt. Herman H. Pohl, engineer in charge, and Maj. J. R. Fuller, assistant civilian engineer. Coincident with the river being marked for the first time, the United States steamship Comanche, government steamer stationed here, will make its first trip above Starved Rock.

Towing equipment, the steamer left this morning to mark 14 miles of the lakes-to-the-gulf route. The work will be finished within two days, Capt. Pohl said.

The river above Starved Rock was opened for navigation April 1. Construction companies were the first to use the new Starved Rock pool in moving equipment to scenes of operation near Marseilles. Work of installing protection pilings for bridges at Meredosia and Beardstown has just been completed, Capt. Pohl said.

EUROPE SEEMS TO BE IN FOR SLIM TOURIST SEASON

LIVERPOOL, May 24.—"She's a male ship this trip," said an officier of the Cunard liner Laconia as the vessel arrived today. Virtually all of the Laconia's 1,066 passengers were men.

This is the more remarkable since the week before the derby is usually the start of the American influx. One passenger explained it this way, "We are compelled to cut out the women folk this year. Most of us are just snatching a brief holiday of ten days or so in Europe, doing a bit of business and then going home until things improve. The old idea of a family holiday of several months in Europe is a thing of the past."

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: After All

Comes to Chicago Area from Kansas City.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf of Kansas City, who will succeed Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes as head of the Chicago area of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be well received by Chicago Methodists, according to Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple.

BISHOP WALDORF.

Dr. Thompson has just returned from the sessions of the general conference at Atlantic City, where the bishops of the church received their assignments for the next four years. Bishop Hughes was appointed head of the Washington, D. C., area of the church.

Bishop Waldorf will move to Chicago immediately following the close of the general conference to take up his new duties. He is 57 years old. Since his elevation to the Methodist episcopate 12 years ago he has been continuously in charge of the Kansas City area of the church, which includes the states of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

Pastor in New York State.

Before becoming a bishop Dr. Waldorf had been pastor of a number of smaller churches in western New York. Later he was made pastor of the large Centenary church at Syracuse, N. Y. This was followed by pastorates in Buffalo and Cleveland.

Dr. Thompson said that strong pressure had been brought on the episcopacy committee of the general conference to have Bishop Hughes retained in the Chicago area, where he has served eight years.

It was pointed out, however, that Bishop Hughes' Chicago friends became hesitant in holding him back from the "advancement his service here had merited." Bishop Hughes becomes leader of the board of bishops in addition to being head of the Washington area, which is regarded as the center of Methodism. Bishop Hughes was elevated to the episcopacy in 1908 while he was president of De Pauw university at Greencastle, Ind.

Accomplishments of Conference.

Dr. Thompson outlined several important accomplishments of the general conference. Among these he pointed out the "democratization of the episcopacy." He said there had been a tendency to regard the office of bishop as a higher order of the ministry such as in the Episcopal church, where three orders prevail—bishops, presbyters, and deacons. However, in Methodism only deacons and elders are recognized. Dr. Thompson said the conference "clearly emphasized the fact that Methodist bishops are elders who occupy the administrative office of bishop or general superintendent."

Salaries of officials and bishops were leveled closer to the financial support given to pastors, Dr. Thompson said. This move together with reorganization which "safeguards the church against bureaucratic influences" have been advanced steps of the church. Another important move, Dr. Thompson indicated, was the elimination of one-half of the Christian Advocates published weekly by the church. Among the four Advocates discontinued is the Northwestern Christian Advocate, edited by Dr. Dan B. Brummitt in Chicago.

Charges Whiteman Liquor Parties Damaged House

Hollywood, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—Paul Whiteman, orchestra leader, today was sued by Robert C. Kerr for damages asserted to have been caused at liquor parties during Whiteman's last stay in Hollywood during 1930, when he rented Kerr's house. Installation of a miniature bar and spilled drinks damaged hardwood floors and ruined rugs, the suit charges. Other things listed as damaged include piano, davenport, linens, washing machine, roof and garage doors. Whiteman paid $241 for some damages, Kerr says, but he asks $403 additional.

Brazilian Mobs Wreck Two Newspapers; Call Troops

SAO PAULO, Brazil, May 25.—Troops were called out in this city last night following riots in which two newspaper plants were destroyed and street clashes occurred. The riot followed several days of political agitation in which elements opposed to the politics of the state government demanded a reorganization of the government.

'TORTURE CONFESSION' ADMITTED BY JUDGE IN DR. PARKER TRIAL

Peoria, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The confession which Arlo Stoops accused police of hammering out of him was freely and voluntarily made, Judge Henry J. Ingram held today in the trial of the alleged kidnapers of Dr. James W. Parker in the Principal court.

The court referred to three photographs Stoop testified were made after he had gone through the police third degree at the detective bureau in the city hall.

"I see nothing in the photographs to indicate to me that the defendant received the treatment to which he has testified here," Judge Ingram ruled.

The ruling marked another important victory for the state. Stoops' confession was made in the presence of his brother, Raymond Stoops, and Cecil Minninger, and what he said about their part in the kidnaping will be read to the jury. Most of the defendants were questioned apart from the others and the court has ruled that what one said about the others out of their presence cannot be admitted in evidence.

Stoops testified he was struck on the nose with the butt end of a revolver while the detectives were trying to get him to answer their questions. He was kicked in the stomach, he said, his eyes were blacked and detectives stood on opposite sides of him and punished him for an hour.

MRS. L. F. JELKE, MANUFACTURER'S WIDOW, DIES, 73

Mrs. Louanna Frazier Jelke, widow of John F. Jelke, oleomargarine manufacturer and philanthropist, died yesterday in her home, 3400 Sheridan road. She was 73 years old.

Mrs. Jelke's family came to America from Scotland in 1740 and settled in Virginia. After fighting in the colonial and revolutionary wars, her ancestors pushed across the mountains to Kentucky and from there to Illinois in 1830. She married Mr. Jelke in Cincinnati in 1879 and they moved to Chicago ten years later.

Mrs. Jelke was a member of the Casino, Woman's Athletic, and Arts clubs of Chicago and the Woman's National Golf club of Long Island, N. Y. She was active on the board of the Passavant hospital, in which she and Mr. Jelke equipped a floor, and in the affairs of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of which she had been a member for 40 years.

Funeral services at 3 o'clock tomorrow at the residence will be private. Burial will be beside Mr. Jelke, who died on Dec. 4 last year, in the family mausoleum at Lake Forest. Two sons, Frazier and John F. Jelke Jr., survive.

RITES TOMORROW FOR W. B. WANZER, DAIRY PRESIDENT

Funeral services for William Bradley Wanzer, president of Sidney Wanzer and Sons Dairy company, will be held tomorrow from the Normal Park Presbyterian church, with burial at Dundee, Ill. Mr. Wanzer, who was 68 years old, died early yesterday at his home at 364 Normal Parkway after a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Wanzer also was president of the Milk Dealers Bottle exchange, a member of the Illinois Milk Dealers association, and a trustee of the Englewood Hospital association.

He is survived by his widow, Flora Belle, and four children, Mrs. Claribel Riesenberg, Mrs. Elsie Reiling, Sidney Wanzer III., and Phylis Kathryn Wanzer.

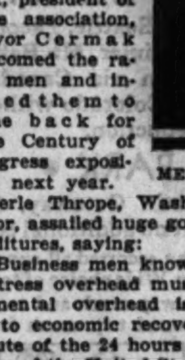

Woman Plunges 20 Floors from a New York Hotel

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Miss Helen Slater, 55, of Saylesville, R. I., plunged twenty stories to her death this morning on a three story extension of the Hotel Lincoln. The crash of the body startled guests in the lobby and awoke others in rooms across the areaway. Miss Slater was suffering from asthma and high blood pressure, and had been in this city since Saturday to consult a specialist. It is thought she may have had a dizzy spell and fallen. The death was recorded by police as "fell or jumped."

THORPE ASSAILS 30 PCT. OVERHEAD OF GOVERNMENT

Taxes Must Be Cut, Radio Men Told.

National governmental extravagance, the status of television and radio broadcasters' problems were discussed yesterday at the annual convention of the Radio Manufacturers' association at the Stevens hotel. Following a brief talk by J. Clark Coit, president of the association, Mayor Cermak welcomed the radio men and invited them to come back for the Century of Progress exposition next year.

MERLE THORPE.

"Business men know that in times of stress overhead must be cut. Governmental overhead is the greatest bar to economic recovery. For each minute of the 24 hours the productive forces of the United States pay $35,000 a minute. Some 250,000 independent tax gathering and tax spending units will collect this year 15 billion dollars from all of us who will earn between 52 and 55 million.

An Overhead of 30 Per Cent.

"No business could survive with a 30 per cent overhead. At the same time during each minute of the 24 hours the federal government spends $5,000 more than it takes in, or a daily deficit of $7,200,000. There are two ways to balance a budget. One is to get more income through sales and the other is to cut expenses.

"Those who represent us in our business of government seem to think there is only one way to balance a budget, and that is to get more income through taxation. They overlook, because of political expendiency, the other method.

"Business has a bleak future unless it realizes that 15 billion dollars must be collected from the people before there is a nickel left for a loaf of bread or $50 for a radio. When business realizes this it will relieve congress, and the state, and the local governments of the pressure of demands for their particular interests, and demand as a national policy that this tremendous overhead be cut without fear or favor.

Finds Hopeful Signs.

"There are two hopeful signs on the horizon. One is that in 2,500,000 small businesses we find readjustment, elimination of waste, new methods, new selling plans, and from these businesses at the cross roads will come recovery as has been the case in the past.

"In the second place, those pessimists and cynics who profess to believe that we shall never return to prosperous times are not taking into account the American urge for better things. The urge for a higher standard will result sooner or later in a return to normal."

In a discussion of television, Harold M. La Fount, a member of the federal radio commission, said:

"We are not yet convinced that television has emerged from the laboratory and is ready to matriculate into the more severe course of adult entertainment and education."

Other speakers were Paul W. Morency of Hartford, Conn., and George Graham, vice president of the Rockne Motor corporation.

Woman Ends Her Own Life by Hanging Self in Cell

Mrs. Ruby Clark, 29 years old, 2124 South Michigan avenue, who was being held in the woman's annex of the Racine avenue police station, hanged herself in her cell last night. Her husband, John, and a friend, Miss Nancy O'Brien, of the same address, told the police she had been in ill health. She had been arrested earlier in the day in the Citizens' State bank of Chicago, 3228 Lincoln avenue, when she attempted to cash a bogus check. Miss Sarah Kroll, the matron, found her body when she went to her cell to bring her food sent by her husband.

DR. E. B. APPLEGET, 85, HIT BY AUTO, DIES OF INJURIES

Dr. Eugene B. Appleget, retired physician and business man, died yesterday at his home, 4426 Berkeley avenue. Dr. Appleget was 85 years old. His death resulted from injuries received on Sunday when an auto struck him at Cottage Grove avenue and 43d street.

DR. E. B. APPLEGET

Dr. Appleget had been a resident of Chicago forty years. He was born in Hightstown, N.J., and was graduated from Princeton in 1871. Later he attended medical school and practiced several years in Lincoln, Neb. For years he was engaged in the coffee business here. He retained contacts with his alumni class and returned to Princeton for the 60th reunion last year. Until his death he was the second oldest living graduate of the university.

MICHIGAN BANK ROBBERS KILL DEPUTY SHERIFF

Slain While Pursuing Gang Fleeing in Car.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 24.—[Special.]—Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp of Lowell, 38 years old, was today shot and killed and a 10 year old boy was wounded by four bandits who a short time previous had robbed a branch of the Grand Rapids Savings bank of $6,072.

James Gallagher, Detroit, who was taken in custody by state police soon after the shooting of Knapp, was identified as one of the four bandits who robbed the bank. When identified, Sheriff Fred Kelly, Kent county, said Gallagher broke down and admitted "he might" have had something to do with the bank robbery but denied being implicated in the killing of Knapp.

Bandits Open Fire.

Following the robbery the bandits made a quick getaway in a large sedan. Their route over M-21 was through Lowell, and Knapp was notified to be on the outlook for them. Riding a motorcycle, he drove alongside the automobile as it neared Lowell. He motioned the driver to stop, but instead the bandits opened fire, a bullet penetrating Knapp's chest. He died later in a hospital.

Kenneth Smith, 10, who was standing on the street in Lowell, was struck by a stray bullet.

Less than one minute was required by the bandits in robbing the bank. They forced Cashier John Smitz to shove out what money was on the counters and made no attempt to enter the vault. Two tellers and two women clerks in the bank were not molested.

Loot Illinois Bank of $400.

Lovington, Ill., May 24.—Five bandits armed with three machine guns early yesterday took $400 from the Hardware State bank after taking five prisoners in two hours and wrecking the village telephone exchange. They drove into town early today and seized Night Watchman Wilbur Redding. He was forced to direct them to the home of Homer White, the bank cashier. White and his wife were forced into the bandit car and their 5 year old child left sleeping in the home.

Their next stop was the telephone exchange where they seized the operator and wrecked the apparatus. The girl operator, Mrs. White, Redding, and Boone Dawson, night watchman at the courthouse, were dragged into that building and tied up. The bandits then stole tools from a garage and took White to the bank where he was forced to open two safes. After a leisurely inspection of the cash book to make sure he was not holding back funds, they departed without molesting the time lock protected vault.

WIDOW WHO RAN $38 INTO MILLION IS NOW BANKRUPT

Her Coffee Shops Go Into Receivership.

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—The coffee shops that Alice Foote MacDougall, a widow of forty with three children to support, built from a capital of $38 and three bags of coffee into a million dollar business, went into receivership today.

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey read the plea submitted to him that the public taste in restaurants is changing and appointed Allen MacDougall and the Irving Trust company as equity receivers.

Under their plans the coffee shops that in the boom years coined large dividends from coffee, waffles and the interior decorator's art, will be reorganized.

Started on Shoestring.

They plan to "change the type of service" — rendered, erstwhile, by gypsy costumed waitresses of regal manner—so that prices can be lowered, so their petition said.

Mrs. MacDougall, they set forth, cannot devote the time and energy of other years to the concerns because of illness and advancing age.

The MacDougall coffee shops, started on a shoestring in the few feet of space in the Grand Central terminal, have been falling off in profits for the last three years, the papers say.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today against the Foote corporations which control the coffee shops, at the same time as Judge Caffey appointed equity receivers for the firms.

Firms Involved.

The four firms involved are the Midtown Coffee Shop, Inc.; Coffee Shops, Inc.; The Maiden Lane Grand Central Coffee Shops, Inc., and the Marionette Coffee Shop, Inc.

The petition for equity receivership traces the financial fortunes of the coffee shops from 1915 to 1930. Starting with gross profits of $588 for the first year of operation, they grew until in 1929 they brought in $1,386,331.

Alexei Tolstoi Details Life of That Day.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Peter the Great," by Alexei Tolstoi [Covici Friede]. Published today.

ALEXEI TOLSTOI, kinsman of the famous Count Leo Tolstoi [but in exactly what relationship I have been unable, after much research, to determine], has followed in the footsteps of his illustrious relative and has done in "Peter the Great" another panorama of Russian society like "War and Peace." "Peter the Great" will not, however, one hastens to say become the great masterpiece of the Tolstoi name, to the detriment of "War and Peace" and "Anna Karenina," two masterpieces of all literature.

ALEXEI TOLSTOI.

"Peter the Great" is in comparison to them the form without the substance. It is a vast picture of a past day in Russia, with detailed figures, with the background meticulously drawn, but without the throbbing pulse of life that made the elder Tolstoi's novels as great as there is greatness.

"Peter the Great" begins with the description of the Russia of the day when the child Peter was declared as joint head of all of the Russias and it ends with Peter's return from his foreign pilgrimage to order one of the most wholesale butcherings in the whole of his history—the decapitation by one suspected group of noblemen of another group of suspected revolters. Thus Peter planned to create such a blood feud between the two groups and their descendants and adherents as to assure his own safety. The author describes that slaughter in its gory detail.

Savagery Told in All Detail.

Nor does the life of the years between the beginning and the end of the book have any glamour or beauty in the author's intermediary pages. Russia—savage in every manifestation of savagery, he describes without mincing words.

To a nation like ours whose history has never been written in serfdom of members of its own blood and race the picture which the author draws of man's inhumanity to man in Russia of the seventeenth century is of an almost incredible horror. We know that there were tortures which in this day would have seemed unbearable, but we think of them as generally "unbearable" and don't picture them as individual acts to make our blood curdle in its veins. The author describes them as individual acts.

The punishment for a woman for murdering her husband was nothing so simple as the mental agonies of waiting a few weeks in a lone cell and then being led into a room and set down in a chair. In those days she was buried to her neck until she died and then hanged . . . meanwhile serving as a footstool or a spitting post or a mere stumbling block in the way of any passerby. The author describes one such punishment, ending in Peter's listening to the pleas of an English ambassador to the extent of ordering the woman shot.

Children are beaten, wives are lacerated by whips, grown men have strips torn from the flesh of their backs, and everywhere, all through the pages whole communities are starving in agony to death.

Ancient Customs Are Described.

The ancient customs are described in detail—the picture of the wedding of Peter and Eudoxia, for instance, gives in memorable words the panorama of one of the great old wedding ceremonies and feasts. All through the book there is the violent contrast of lavishness and the depths of want, class customs shown in sharp contrast. Revolution foments on every other page—not only foments but actually breaks out among people so little removed from animals in the benefits which life offers them that they have little to fear from any possible change of their lot.

"Peter the Great" is not a biography of the first Russian ruler to introduce western civilization to his people. It is rather novelized history. The facts of his early life—up to 1697—are to be found in it, and the Alexander Menshikov who became Peter's prime minister shares with Peter the rôle of subhero, but the book is a picture of a civilization [or lack of it] rather than a picture of a man.

"Peter the Great" ends so abruptly that I suspect that it is merely the first volume of a longer work, although the author makes no mention of the fact.

Good morning!

The little Castle has decided not to be just a news reel house, for the reason that crowds gathered on the sidewalk to look at the poster display of what was to be seen inside on the screen and called it a day. So the management has reverted to its former policy of showing feature films with a news reel or two thrown in for good measure.

"Law and Order" is an ironic title, for in this "western" there is everything but law, order—and romance. Note—There's not a woman in the cast.

The piece is a heap like the God's country cinemas we've been movie-raised on, but at the end it packs a contemporary moral. Says Frame Johnson as he rides out of Tombstone, which he has cleansed of its iniquity at the cost of everything he holds most dear:

"Tombstone's rid of its gun toters, but there's plenty of other towns that aren't and won't be till the law abiding citizens get mad enough to fight law breakers to the finish." Or other words to that effect.

The time is 1867 and Tombstone is one tough Arizona town where undertaking is the most profitable business.

Frame Johnson, lover of peace and order—and a dead shot—who has set other western towns aright, rides into this sagebrush sink of sin with his brother Luther and his pals, Ed and Deadwood.

He and his are immediately commandeered by the upright city fathers, and Frame is persuaded to boss the business of making Tombstone safe for folks to live in.

Mr. Huston gives one of his extraordinarily workmanlike performances and has able assistance from other members of the cast. Especially worth mentioning is the characterization, by Andy Devine, of a half baked kid killer whose terror at being hanged gives way to pride in his predicament when he gets it pounded through his head that he's "the first man to be hanged legal in Tombstone."

Johnny revels in the notoriety he has acquired till the moment when they say giddap to the horses attached to the car in which he sits with a rope around his neck. Nice work!

Too, it was interesting to see Harry [Trader Horn] Carey again. He used to be my idea of a western hero de luxe. Easy, good looking, quick on the draw and a riding fool.

Scenery, sets and photography are oke.

Mr. Huston's voice sounded mighty queer to me the other day. Kinks in the sound apparatus, I guess.

Roscoe Ates Plays Satire on Explorers

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., May 24.—Principal Productions, a film corporation which specializes in stories about adventure and distant lands, is preparing a picture which will be a satire on the deepest Africa and South Sea island adventure films. Roscoe Ates will depict the intrepid explorer of the comedy thriller.

Three films showing a peek behind the scenes in Hollywood are scheduled for theater release starting in September. First will come Harold Lloyd's "Movie Crazy," followed by Constance Bennett and Neil Hamilton's "What Price Hollywood" and Stuart Erwin and Joan Blondel's "Gates of Hollywood." The last names, being made at Paramount, will display the studio's casting offices, sound proof stages, dressing rooms, the studio café, the schoolhouse for child actors that used to be Mary Pickford's dressing room, and the studio gymnasium that now is housed in the old Laskey barn, which was the original Paramount studio where "The Squaw Man" was made 20 years ago.

Health Champions Picked at County School Festival

More than 400 children of Division 1 of the county schools held their annual community festival yesterday at the Deer Grove forest preserve. The program consisted of games, contests and a parade.

Josephine Smith of Arlington Heights, a pupil of the Box Elder school, was selected as girl health champion for the division, while Harold McIntyre of Palatine, a pupil of the Plum Grove school, was chosen as boy health champion.

Pupils of Division 3 will hold their festival today at Morton Grove, and Division 7 tomorrow at Glenwood.

Swagger Models Present Tweed Effects.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

THE latest action in the cotton versus silks and sheer crêpe summer fabrics battle for supremacy is rather a loud and very conclusive showing of cotton summer coats. The newest ones will keep lots of us guessing, because they look anything but cotton. At finger touch and far beyond feeling these clever swagger models have all the tailored simplicity of tweeds and wool mixtures . . . and how they are going to fool even the most know-it-all shopper.

Some of them even look scratchier than tweeds! You who have a weakness for checks will like the new small but smart checked cotton coats which are the new three-quarter length and made very loosely so that they can be worn over either active or spectator sports costumes. One good looking model which can be had in a lively shade of red, blue, brown and black and white check effect is quite the smartest thing that you can buy and use daily all summer long.

White coat collectors will not hesitate before investing in one of the new cotton creations, stunning long white models made of a spongy loose material that looks like ratine, only this year the weavers have loosened their knots and holes and stitches and therefore you can wear them without fear of suffocation.

Coarse mesh cotton coats also climb into the summer spotlight . . . these interesting things are merely a thin and very airy outer layer that will be exceedingly open-minded about what the wearer has under it, but they are the smartest styles the designers have been able to send for sultry daytime wear.

If you don't need coats you can be "suited" with cotton . . . the suit shopper will be completely submerged in cotton suits the moment she whispers the fatal word . . . you'll have views of crisp, candy-striped affairs, dotted and printed piques. And whether linen is cotton or a very distant and snooty relation to this popular material, you will see them in every shop. Linen suits are going to stage a startling comeback this summer if you can judge by the first few arrivals which are selling as fast as they are unpacked.

Think what you can coolly accomplish in the way of summer smartness for daytime wear with these linens. They are tailored to thin trimness . . . models in clear yellows with two rows of flashing brass buttons down the front . . . bright blues and Chinese reds with silver buttons . . . clean, starchy white suits with huge pearl buttons and sharply pressed inverted pleats and high waistlines.

If you have a brown color complex you will be sold on the revival of linen in the natural tan shade . . . there are many new models in this biscuit tan shade, with high necked blouses of striped sheer linen for contrast. There are new linen hats of natural color that can be worn with printed frocks as well as with these natural tan-toned suits.

Loop-going shoppers who spend the entire day downtown will gladly spend their dollars for the black wide wale pique suits that can, seemingly without effort, refrain from wrinkling . . . besides this black magic they are as tailored and swank as any wool model.

Black and brown and navy blue linen suits are every bit as smart as the pique, but even linen lovers admit that daily pressing is necessary to stay sleek and neat! Whatever you want for a summer suit or coat you can buy the newest and smartest models of cotton at prices that will satisfy the most thrifty soul.

Palette Club Has Black and White Exhibit

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

For the first time in several seasons the Palette and Chisel club, 1012 North Dearborn street, is putting on an exhibit of black and white. Drawings, etchings, and block prints cover the walls of the club gallery. It is an unpretentious show and one that fits well into the mood of the moment. Black and white is a cool combination; no other color scheme could temper summer heat quite so quickly.

So, prepare to like the exhibit. There are several works which will take no effort to like. They spontaneously will assert themselves as of the sort to call a response to your lips or heart. Appealing to one's intelligence are the severely chiseled, beautiful, and carefully considered etchings by Frank T. M. Beatty, "Transportation and Travel Building," "Reconstruction of the Fine Arts Building," and "Chicago River Straightening."

Karl C. Brandner appeals to one's sense of beauty in "Wintry Solitude" and "Brown County." Samuel Byer strikes a homely note with "Country Road." Oscar B. Erickson tempts our approval with his block prints, of which "Early Morning" and "Simon's Barn" are possibly the finest. Maurice Greenberg arouses a maternal smile with "The Bath." Oskar Gross offers several interesting studies of Indian heads, chiefly girls' heads. Othmar Mofler awakens an urge for the sea with his spirited "The Windjammer."

Paul Lehman presents some of the most striking work in the exhibit with his excellent "El Lenoro" and his equally brilliant "Under the Cactus." William Neuenfeldt turns towards the charming again with his well handled "Still Life." N. P. Steinberg offers a familiar bit of life with "Home Work," a boy asleep on his books. Louis Weiner shows three stirring works, "Galena Stairway" the best. Fred T. Larson has a good moment in "Channel Dredge" and Norman Anderson an interesting incident in "Stoney-Lonesome."

The exhibit will continue into June and is worth seeing.

Goeta Ljungberg Sings at Evanston.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

GOETA LJUNGBERG, the Swedish soprano who came out here from the Metropolitan Opera company to make her first appearance in this part of the country at the North Shore Music festival in Evanston last night, is without doubt an artist favored of the gods. A Nordic blond, divinely tall, divinely fair, she radiates vitality and personality. She catches the eye as soon as she emerges from the tunnel that leads to the stage and immediately after she catches the ear with no less certainty. It is possible that she may not register as one of the world's beauties, but it is more than probable that she is one of the world's interesting artists.

It took some time before she became audible last night. The first hour and a half was taken up with a performance of Haydn's oratorio, "The Seasons." But after the intermission she took the stage and began to work witchcraft. Four arias of widely differing character, one more than her program allowance, were her contribution to the festival. The first was "The Prayer for Peace" from "The Force of Destiny." Then came a pair, Santuzza's complaint from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Mimi's aria from "La Boheme." Finally there was the "Love's Death" from "Tristan and Isolde."

Hearing her was a curious experience. In voice she is unlike any one else within memory, though at that her voice rings in the memory from its own beauty. In dramatic moments she has no particular objection to allowing an edgy quality to creep into its high tones. Certainly her vocalism does not sound as though it were based upon Italian schooling. But in the way that she projects a mood, in her earnestness, her fiery delivery, she belongs among the notable artists of this generation.

Her performance was an item in a program that was full of incidents. One of them was that Mr. Stock and the orchestra made the hit of their lives when they played the Jolly polka and Fugue from the opera, "Schwanda, the Bagpipe Player." Mr. Stock refused an encore, though he might well have taken one.

The "Seasons" in the first part of the program was an observance in memory of the composer's bicentennial. Less frequently given than Haydn's other oratorio, "The Creation," it is even more pleasing. It is true Haydn, with all the placid grace, the fine knowledge of what ought to be sung and what ought to be given to the orchestra, the real inspiration of a great composer.

Once again there was occasion to take pleasure in the lovely singing of the festival chorus with its great tone and its remarkable balance and discipline. The soloists were three, Jeannette Vreeland, who also sang on the opening night and made an equally fine impression here; Edward Molitère, a tenor of splendid concert abilities, and Chase Baromeo, an American bass with a great voice, extraordinary force of manner, and superb dignity.

There will be a silent interval in the course of the concerts tonight.

Many Parties for Miss Rue Winterbotham

BY JUDITH CASS.

MISS RUE WINTERBOTHAM is so busy with preparations for her marriage to Alfred Phillips Shaw on next Wednesday that it's difficult for her to list all the parties that are to be given for her between now and next Tuesday night. Although the wedding is to be a very small affair, with only the families and close friends witnessing the ceremony in the apartment of the bride's mother, Mrs. John H. Winterbotham, at 1301 Astor street, it is nevertheless an important event in the Winterbotham and Carpenter clans, and they're all planning to toast the prospective bride and bridegroom at prenuptial parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Champain Hill [Genevieve Carpenter] will not arrive from Fort Worth, Tex., until this weekend, but Mrs. Hill has arrangements all made for a luncheon she is to give for her cousin and Mr. Shaw on Sunday in her father's lovely old house on Rush street.

Arthur Meeker Jr., despite his recent announcement that he had stopped giving parties, is to be host at a dinner for the bride and bridegroom to be and their close friends on Monday night at the Meeker residence. Miss Peggy Hambleton is planning to give a luncheon for Miss Winterbotham on Monday, and on Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham will give the bridal dinner.

Besides these affairs, Miss Winterbotham will have to find time for lots of informal visits with her cousins, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. George McKay Schieffelin, the former Louise Winterbotham, who will arrive from New York on Tuesday. Miss Winterbotham and her sister, Mrs. Shreve C. Badger [Theodora Winterbotham] and their two cousins were inseparable companions in their school days.

Mrs. Badger's little girls, Theodora and Anne, will be their aunt's only attendants at her wedding. Orville Davies is coming from New York to be Mr. Shaw's best man.

Reception at Trinity Church.

The motors of many of the north siders and north shore residents who formerly lived on the south side and were parishioners of old Trinity church at 26th street and Michigan avenue will be driven south tonight so their owners can be present at the reception and reunion which is being held tonight in connection with a week of festivities in celebration of the 90th anniversary of the historic south side church.

Some of those who plan to be there are Mrs. John J. Borland and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, Frederick T. Haskell, the John R. W. Sargents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. ReQua—he is senior warden of the church, although he lives in Winnetka now—Dr. Frederick C. Grant, a former rector of the church and now president of the Western Theological seminary, and Capt. W. P. Wright, the ranking officer of the G. A. R. and a vestryman of Trinity.

The Rev. Dr. ZeBarney T. Phillips, who was rector from 1901 to 1909 and who now is rector of the Church of the Epiphany and chaplain of the United States senate in Washington, is here for the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaborn T. Whatley have closed their apartment at 229 Lake Shore drive and have moved out to the Charles G. Cushing house in Lake Forest for the summer. Miss Betty Whatley, who has been studying at home this year after finishing at Les Fougeres in Lausanne, Switzerland, last year, will make her debut next fall. The date for a tea has not been set, but Mrs. Whatley is planning to give a dance for her daughter on Dec. 21.

School Benefit Garden Party.

Mrs. George Parker of Winnetka telephoned yesterday to ask us to announce a garden talk and tea on Saturday, June 4, for the benefit of the Park Ridge School for Girls, in the gardens of Mrs. Mark W. Cresap and Mrs. Charles R. Jacobs of Winnetka. The gardens adjoin and are among the most beautiful in the north shore town. The hours are from 3 to 7 and the women in charge are hoping that many men will make the garden party the "19th hole" after their Sunday afternoon golf games. A group of young Winnetka girls will serve tea and Mrs. Harriman Rogers of Winnetka is to tell fortunes.

The indefinite postponement of the meeting of the Friends of Opera guarantee fund committee which was to have been held today in Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild's apartment at the Drake does not mean that the women are dropping the project on which they have worked so valiantly all through the late winter and spring.

Meetings will not be held so frequently from now on, but the members are planning to get together just as soon as they have a sizable number of subscription pledges to report.

Did you see a young woman on roller skates blithely skating on North Michigan avenue recently, leading, or perhaps it was being pulled, by a police dog? And did you wonder who it was? Well, it was one of the always interesting and different "Chase girls." Janet, the youngest one, who is married to Frederick Hauck, and lives at 152 East Superior street. Isn't that a clever was of getting around the near north side?

Bordens to Stay Near White Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Borden have taken a cottage near White Lake, Mich., not at Muskegon, as has been reported. They have chosen this location primarily to be near Mr. Borden's oil interests and to give their children a summer of boating and fishing. Mrs. Borden says their house is near one of the finest beaches in the middle west.

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!

Sudden Love

By ELISABETH SANXAY HOLDING

SYNOPSIS.

Esmee Sully spends her forlorn young life between the office, where she is an inefficient typist, and a dismal home. Mrs. Sully loves her three children blindly, but doesn't know how to take care of their spiritual or physical needs. Cynthia, the oldest, has been deserted by her husband. Lew, a year older than Esmee, has gotten into serious trouble. Esmee can barely remember the days before her father's death when they had had a cheerful home. Jimmy Considine forces Lew to introduce him to Esmee. Lew warns Esmee she'll make trouble unless she keeps away from Jimmy. She is fascinated by Jimmy's grand manner, but finds him an unmanageable lover. Lew gets in a jam and asks Esmee to get him money. She's afraid to ask Jimmy. She meets Arthur Twining at the home of a former woman employer. He is attentive to Esmee, impressed by her beauty and guilelessness. In her anguish she tells him her troubles and he offers to help. Arthur's roommate is Michael Marriott, a dissipated young playwright, imbued with the futility of life. When Esmee meets him it's love at first sight. Esmee understands his need of her is real. Jimmy finds the money which Twining has loaned Esmee in her possession and threatens trouble. Esmee has a dinner engagement with Michael, Jimmy meets her as she leaves her office.

INSTALLMENT IX.

A GLIMPSE OF ANOTHER WORLD.

"You'll do that for me, Jimmy?"

"And what'll you do for me?" he asked.

Esmee did not answer. She could not.

"Well?" he said, still holding her close. "How's it to be?"

"Jimmy . . ." she said. "I don't know."

"You've got to know. You said you loved me before. Well, do you mean you don't?"

He was a conqueror, so many other girls had loved him. When she was silent, he thought that she wavered, still hurt, perhaps, by his opinion of her family. Like other girls, she couldn't or didn't want to make up her mind, and he would do it for her.

"Look here!" he said. "I'm going to get Lew off. And I'm going to give you a good time. I've got a little money of my own . . ." He took out his wallet. "You can have two fifties from me, baby, and more when you want it. We'll go down to my place."

"Why? Got another date?"

She thought that if she offended him again, he would not help Lew, he would make things worse than ever for him. She saw that she must placate him. And she was so ill equipped for that. She had no coquetry, no arts.

Esmee made an effort to understand the situation.

But she had her own quick wittedness, her own slight weapons.

"You said we were going to get married!" she cried. "If you really meant that—how can you be—like this? Asking me down to your place—and offering me that money?"

"Sure I mean it," he said. "If you do. But you're cheating. You were going to meet this other bird tonight, weren't you?"

She was silent for a long time. He kissed her, but her utter unresponsiveness chilled him. He withdrew his arm.

"Jimmy," she said, at last, "if you care enough for me to want to marry me, you ought to have some confidence in me."

"All right. Why haven't you got any in me? You don't even trust me enough to go down to my place for a while."

Again she was silent for a long time.

"If you'll get Lew out of this trouble," she said, "I will come."

"O. K.!" he said. "Drive——"

"Not now. Not this evening——"

"Because you're going to meet this other guy, eh?"

"That's my business!" she cried, goaded to desperation. "I'm not married to you. I'm not really engaged. I can go where I please—and I will! But if you'll help Lew, I'll come—another time."

This time she had to wait for his answer. She glanced at him, saw on his face a look that made her heart leap with fear. She had realized from the beginning his hardihood, his audacity, his smiling insolence. She had suspected more than once that he was lying to her. But now, as if a mask were lifted, she saw his face as wolfish. There was an abyss before her. She had caught a glimpse of another world, black and horrible, a world of crime, of prisons, of ruthless passions and ready vengeance. Lew was at the threshold of that world. And Jimmy lived in it.

"O. K.," he said, abruptly, as if he had at last made up his mind. "I'll call for you Sunday—around eleven and we'll drive out in the country."

"And Lew'll be home tonight?"

"Absolutely. Now, where do you want to go?"

"Leave me at a subway station, please."

As the cab stopped, he opened the door, and let her climb past him. Then he reached for her arm, and held it in a grip painfully hard.

"And you won't doublecross me?" he said. "Eleven o'clock Sunday morning."

"All right," she answered.

She paid her nickel and went down to the platform, stood there, in a daze of misery, jostled by the crowd. A man spoke to her and she turned on him with a blaze of anger.

"Go away—you beast!" she cried.

It seemed to her that she herself was about to enter that dark, horrible other world.

It was considerably after six when she reached the apartment in Tudor City. And for the first time in her life she was timid. Her former zest for any new experience or adventure had deserted her. She was downcast and apprehensive.

She rang the bell and the door was opened by Twining.

"O!" he said, with an air of blank surprise that dismayed her. She felt that she shouldn't have come, that her arrival, her appearance, were shocking. She stood there, tall, slender, pale, her great eyes fixed upon Twining's face, with a look of despair.

"Come in!" he said, and when she did not answer, he took her hand and drew her in, closed the door.

"You see—you're a little late . . ." he said. "We were afraid you weren't coming."

"We!" Then Michael was here. She followed Twining into that living room that had so enchanted her before, saw it again, in its somewhat austere lamplit tranquillity. In a big armchair facing the door a girl was sitting, smoking, a fair haired girl of cool blonde elegance, in a dark dress.

"Er—Claire . . . this is Miss Sully," said Twining. "Miss Sully, Mrs. Cowley."

The blonde girl smiled, amiably, but without warmth.

Twining pushed forward a chair, and Esmee sat down. There was a silence, during which Esmee made a valiant effort to understand the situation.

No sign of Michael.

"He's gone," she thought. "Perhaps he's forgotten all about my coming . . . Mr. Twining and this girl . . . Maybe they're in love with each other."

She rose.

"I—just stopped in . . ." she said. "I'll have to be going!"

"But—!" said Twining, rising too.

"But you mustn't go now!" said that young Mrs. Cowley. "I came here on purpose to have dinner with you. I've heard about you from Michael."

"He may be back—any moment," said Twining. "Please sit down! Have a cigaret?"

It seemed to her now that they were both almost excessively kind—as if they were sorry for her. Twining held a light for her cigaret. She smiled up at him, anxiously, and he smiled back, with serious benevolence.

"I'll shake up a cocktail," he murmured, and disappeared.

Young Mrs. Cowley was leaning back in her chair, her knees crossed. She was a beautiful creature, more exquisite than any one Esmee had ever seen, her fair hair so gleaming, so perfectly dressed, her shoes, her slender feet, her well tended hands, everything about her was entirely admirable and right. And she began to talk to Esmee in exactly the right way, her tone was easy, calm, friendly.

"Michael told me about you," she repeated. "So I was very anxious to meet you. When you hadn't come by quarter past six, he dashed off. He was convinced that you'd been run over or kidnaped."

"I was delayed," said Esmee.

"He's always late himself," the other girl went on. "Yet if any one keeps him waiting, he's—frightful. But, of course, he's the most unreasonable person there is, anyhow."

"O, who is she?" thought Esmee. "She must know Michael very well." They each had a cocktail, one only; then Twining looked at his watch.

"Seven o'clock," he observed. "Don't you think Claire . . .? We can leave a note for Michael—tell him where we're going . . .?"

"Yes," she said, and rising, disappeared into that other room.

Twining stood fingering his ruddy mustache.

"I'm sorry!" he said. "But—well—after all . . ."

She knew nothing to say. She could not grasp the situation, the relation of these people to one another. No matter how kind they were, she was an outsider.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Obey Your Father.

"Dear Miss Blake: Father will not permit me to go out with boys, but I have dates on the sly. I am 16.

"MA. A."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

PEARL: THERE ARE LOTIONS for keeping the hands in condition that aren't ordinarily used on the face. But a good face cream used regularly on the hands would have as effective a result as use on the face, since the skin of both face and hands is similar.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AS WOMAN TO WOMAN

BY DORIS BLAKE.

I would like a little help from some of you young women on this frequently recurring subject of "standups," as young women describe the broken appointment. "Worried," for example, has been treated to several of them lately after going steadily with the boy for a year. Girls are constantly telling of their waits for promised phone calls, promised personal calls, etc.

What is your attitude toward the boy who makes a date and then lets you down? Theoretically, we all agree that he should be given the air, that he shouldn't be given a chance to do it a second time! Still, you and I have seen girls and women who refuse to make an issue of such incidents, and who eventually win out in the end.

We've known women whose marriage day was postponed time and again for no other reason than that the man was averse to keeping the particular date. And we've seen these women married eventually to their "date breaker" and making a fine go of their marriages, too. So, sometimes it pays not to get on the high horse, doesn't it?

It is not particularly appealing to one's pride to be "stood up," as you girls call it. It's disheartening, to say the least, to spend an hour primping for the young man who does not call. And it is discouraging sitting under the phone waiting for the call that doesn't come. And by all the rules of righteous self-respecting sisterhood, the young man should be bawled out, or snubbed. But between us, what does that get a girl?

We are assuming, of course, that you like the young man and what he does does matter to you, that you do not want to loss his friendship, and, by all means, that you know down in your heart he likes you. Isn't it smarter politics to pretend that you didn't notice the "standup?" To act as if you managed another engagement for the evening?

I don't think a girl does a thing by way of augmenting her personal stock making herself out an aggrieved and injured victim.

Little Girl Dominates Her Small Brother

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Question: "Have you any reading suggestions or a leflet of your own on curing the habit of biting the finger nails in a girl of 13?"

Answer: Yes, we have a new leaflet on the subject, which will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. I know of no reading reference on the subject except such as are on the subject of child management in general.

The second question today has had to be shortened to the following:

"I have a problem with our two children, 10 to 7. Mary (we'll call her) is handsome, brilliant, and an all around child in play and athletics, and a leader. No complaints from school, but at home! Things must go her way or there's trouble. Finds fault on every occasion. She dominates her brother, who is a real boy, but sweet and patient. She bosses, bullies, and teases him, but he loves to play with her. She argues endlessly.

"He is steady; she is impulsive. We are miserable. What to do? Shall we wait until her judgment grows up to the brilliance of her mind?"

Answer: No, indeed! It is vital for your son's sake and for your daughter's sake, too, for that matter, that she be handled in such a way that she take her normal place in the family life. If I could ask you a dozen questions I might get at the root of the matter. The trouble might be traced back to the coming of the second baby. Being a son and being little, he probably received a great deal of attention when she was only 3. This very often makes the first child go to great lengths, unconsciously, of course, to keep the center of the stage and to hold on to the affection and interest which she thinks are waning. The fact that Richard is so sweet and amenable may have made it possible to be very loving with him, making the handling of him seem to her extra loving by comparison. So she had to keep her supremacy.

Change your tactics toward Mary and show her a warm companionship and interested affection, but of a different and more wholesome kind. Let the correcting and criticism of her very unpleasant ways slide for a couple of months, but refuse to argue. Ignore her complaints. Do not be perturbed by anything she does.

If you boil and bubble inside for a while don't let her see it. She has simply grabbed the center of the stage. She's had too much of the wrong kind of attention. This does not mean to ignore Richard, who is very much a victim of the situation.

Sylph-like Waistlines Are Demanded by Newest Frocks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"Hitch Up Your Waistline!" That's the slogan that is spoiling a lot of good appetites. Every fashion hint warns you that there jes' ain't no peace for the midcenter waistline spread. Your belt, your skirt yoke or your jacket must take an uphitch.

Worse'n that, they're telling us that the wide, old fashioned ribbon belt is coming back for summer wear. And you can't try that on a waistline in the vicinity of which may be parked a roll of flesh. No, it does not look as if we poor femmes are ever going to be able to give ourselves over to a Palm Beach cocoanut cake orgy. Flatter and flatter becomes that line beneath the bust and more and more indented the line of the waist.

Also, they tell us that Chanel's summer things are ankle length. That means a leaner line of silhouette, for if anything is unfashionable, dowdy and oldish it is the plump line of waist and hip with a long skirted frock.

There's only one way to tackle a waistline and it is with the solid determination that you're going to whip it into style or die in the attempt. It's a good point for concentration, though fat may be piling up on other parts. It's hard to find an exercise for the waist that does not at the same time break down the resistance of other fleshy parts.

I claim you can get a couple of inches off the waist easily in two months with a diet consisting largely of fruits and vegetables and fruit juices and one or two much practiced exercises. This is the perfect time of year for the fruit and vegetable consumption. It will be of great benefit to the system as well as to the silhouette.

To lose weight your body must consume its own stored up fat. The body does this when the diet is low in fat containing and fat forming foods. Ample fresh fruits, fruit juices, vegetables and proteins [skim milk, lean meat, etc.] in the diet—and no fat—will do this healthfully.

Do this exercise for the waist, but do it fifty times a day—twenty-five in the morning and twenty-five at night: Hold a wand [an old broomstick handle or some such piece of wood]. Hold it high over the head and stretch back as far as you can comfortably stretch. Then bend forward at the waist, stretching the arms downward in an endeavor to touch the floor with the backs of the fingers of both hands.

This New Knowledge may save your baby endless torture!

IF your baby is peevish and fretful . . . if he keeps you awake half the night, tossing about in his crib . . . do not scold! First make sure that you are not at fault!

More often than not, leading doctors tell us, the trouble may be traced directly to Urea Irritation. The stinging uric acids crystallize almost immediately into tiny, gritty particles . . . invisible to the eye, yet harsh and cruel to tender skin.

Z.B.T. Baby Talcum will put a stop to this! Made according to the formula of a famous child specialist, this mildly-medicated compound powder not only soothes the skin, but heals, as well. Free from lime, mica or any other irritant, Z.B.T. contains a special ingredient which absorbs moisture, neutralizes acids and guards against infection.

Protect your own skin, too, with Z.B.T. When perspiration causes painful chafing, this pure bland talcum brings blessed relief. Use it also for "burning feet"—after shaving—and as a dusting powder.

Your druggist or chain store sells Z.B.T. in three sizes—50c, 25c and 10c. Resent substitutes! Get a can of Z.B.T. today and test it yourself. Or, if you prefer, mail the coupon, with 4 cents to cover postage, and we'll gladly send you a full-size "Junior" can.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover were the dinner guests tonight of the secretary of commerce and Mrs. Robert P. Lamont in their suburban home on Kalorama road, which overlooks Rock creek and the Taft bridge. The others in the company, all old personal friends of the chief executive and first lady, were Justice and Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Senator Frederic C. Walcott of Connecticutt, Representative Florence P. Kahn of California, Representative Ruth Baker Pratt of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rickard of New York and New Canaan, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph C. Miller, formerly of Chicago; Charles Field of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eskridge Saltzman, son-in-law and daughter of the hosts, who came from New York for the party.

Goodman Fans Can Say "I Told You So."

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

"Counsellor-at-Law," which recently moved to the Erlanger theater, now has a new hero—same old George Simon, the wonder-barrister, of course, but in another incarnation. Harry Mervis has stepped out of the shoes of the Harvard law school clerk and into the well tailored apparel of the head of the firm. Otto Kruger was summoned to the New York cast because Paul Muni, eastern representative of Mr. Simon, had been lured away by the rich bait of the Hollywood cinema industry, and thus Mr. Mervis gets his chance at the best male rôle in the season's drama.

The change was made last Sunday night, and a view of Mr. Mervis in his third performance found him thoroughly at ease in the part, although it is said to be longer than Hamlet. He is squarely in the center of the character, and his acting is crisp, clean cut, and dynamic. Moreover, he brings out a certain professional hardness in the legal big shot of Elmer Rice's adoring imagination—a quality that belongs there. Otto Kruger radiated charm, but Mr. Mervis' Mr. Simon has an eye like a summons and a voice for challenges, cross-examinations, and damage suit oratory.

And thus the adherents of the Goodman Repertory company—gone but not forgotten—once more have a chance to say to the scoffers, "I told you so." Mr. Mervis was leading man of that organization for a number of years, and its abandonment was his good fortune, for he is now flying high in the "big time." His acting in "Counsellor-at-Law" is a credit to his dead alma mater.

The engagement of "The Devil Passes" at the Selwyn theater will end Saturday night, June 4. . . . "A Church Mouse," at the Playhouse, with Louise Groody and Ernest Glendinning as its stars, will close its run next Saturday night. . . . Plans to follow "Hay Fever," at the Adelphi, with "Blessed Event," opening June 5, have been abandoned.

Helen Hayes will close her season in "The Good Fairy" with next Friday night's performance at the Harris theater. Next Sunday afternoon she will sail for Europe with her husband, Charles MacArthur, on the S. S. Empress of Britain from Quebec. She will spend only one week in England, and will then return to fulfill a Hollywood contract. She must be in Los Angeles June 23, and she may have to use airplanes from New York to keep her appointment.

George White, producer of the "Scandals," announces that he will star Everett Marshall, baritone singer of that revue, next season in an operetta. A romantic libretto with historical background is now being written for Mr. Marshall's use.

Cecilia Loftus of the cast of "The Devil Passes" will give a special matinée program of her famous imitations and character impressions in the Selwyn theater next Friday afternoon. Her subjects will include: Ruth Draper, Noel Coward, Beatrice Lillie, Ethel Barrymore, Fannie Brice, Mlle. Spinelly, John McCormack, Ada Rehan, Nora Bayes, Mrs. Fiske, Jeanne Eagels, Harry Lauder, the Duncan Sisters, Yvette Guilbert, Florence Reed, and Sarah Bernhardt. Miss Loftus will be assisted by Alice Mock, coloratura soprano of the Civic Opera company, in groups of French and English songs.

Announce Two Winners of Loyola Scholarship Test

John McKian of Mount Carmel High school and John W. Hight of Bowen High school were announced winners yesterday in the annual prize scholarship examinations given by the Loyola University College of Arts and Sciences.

Freshmen Vote Confidence in U. of C. System

Members of the freshman class have emphatically approved the new plan of education which was inaugurated last fall at the University of Chicago, it was announced last night. The freshman class was the first group enrolled under the reorganization.

Expressions from the class were obtained in questionnaires which were sent out by the executive council of the class. Exactly 923 items were included in the papers, and 65 per cent of the class membership filled them out. All but 6 per cent of those who answered signed their names.

"The plan on the whole meets with the approval of the great majority of the freshmen," said Prof. George A. Works, university examiner and dean of students. "The questionnaire was the first expression of student opinion that has been obtained and it strengthened many of the conclusions the faculty had reached through observation and experiment since last autumn."

Tabulation of the answers showed that 86.7 per cent of the students said that they found it easier to progress in their studies under the new system. A significant feature of the expressions, Dean Works pointed out, was that only 8.1 per cent of the freshmen indicated a desire for considerable supervision in their studies.

It was agreed by 23 per cent of the students that the new plan will speed up the time required for education. This same group avowed desires to take comprehensive examinations in one or more of the general courses without participating in class work.

Freedom from class supervision is one of the important features of the enterprise. That this freedom struck the likes of the freshmen was indicated in the answers of 84½ per cent. In general that percentage of students stated that they had used the liberty advantageously.

The general course which the freshmen preferred was in the biological sciences. The humanities, including history, languages, literature, philosophy, were second, and the social sciences third.

Henry S. Robbins are leaving tomorrow for New York to sail Saturday for Paris, where they will be met by Mrs. Hopkins' daughter, Miss Marjorie Goodman, who has been studying in Italy this winter.

From Paris the party will go to London, where Miss Goodman is to be presented at court on June 23. Upon their return home Mrs. Hopkins will join Mr. Hopkins at their Lake Forest residence, and Miss Goodman and her younger sister, Kay, will go to Westbrook, Conn., to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Goodman, who left last week for their summer place. Miss Goodman is to be a debutante next season, but the date for her formal introduction to society has not been set yet.

Our correspondent in the Berkshires reports the arrival of a few of the Chicago summer colonists in those lovely hills. Mr. and Mrs. W. Rockwood Gibbs, who spend winters in California and summers at Rock Ridge farm at Richmond, Mass., have opened their residence and Mrs. Gibbs was hostess yesterday at a meeting of the Richmond Garden club. She was to read a report of the recent Garden club convention in Georgia, written by Miss Helen V. Drake, who was a delegate with Mrs. Gibbs from the Richmond club. Mrs. Frederick T. West, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Perry M. Shepard, at Geneva, N. Y., has opened her villa at Pittsfield.

Harry Lee Williams of 230 East Delaware place will leave tomorrow to open his estate near Holland, Mich., for the summer. His daughter, Mrs. Melvin Brorby, and her two children will join him this week-end and Mrs. Carter Williams Morgan will go over a little later.

Mrs. Maude Hartman of South Bend, Ind., announces the marriage of her daughter, Elda Gail, to William Hale Cole, son of Mrs. Herbert E. Hyde of 3152 Pine Grove avenue, Chicago, on May 14 at St. Chrysostom's church.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles King Corsant have given up their town apartment and moved to their farm at Bay Side, Mich., for the summer. Dr. Corsant commutes to Chicago every day and Mrs. Corsant often accompanies him on days when she has to attend to some of her philanthropic interests.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needs Shoes for Job.

"I have been unemployed for some time, but have a chance to go to work next week if I can get the things I need. The job is in a restaurant where they furnish the uniforms, but I shall have to have a pair of white oxfords, size 6½ or 7, and white stockings, size 10. If you can help me to get these I will appreciate it very much. F. D."

After so many months of unemployment this job comes as a godsend to the young woman. Can you enable her to accept the work by giving the white shoes and hose she needs?

Advises Personal Call.

If the young woman who signed herself "worried" in her recent letter will call to see me, I may be able to help her. SALLY JOY BROWN.

Family Specials Sure to Quench Summer Thirst

Colored Ice Cubes Add Festive Touch.

BY MARY MEADE.

So said one T. B. Aldrich in the days when sirup was not even syrup, but "syrop," and when the countryside at large thought more but talked less about the art of thirst quenching than we do nowadays.

Today warm May weather is reminding us that it won't be long before we will be sighing for tall cooling drinks for ourselves, guests, and family. And so, forehandedness being one of our New Year's resolutions, now is the time to take stock of our refrigerator contents and even work up a few new family specials with which to quench summer thirsts.

Covered bottles of drinking water, renewed frequently whether they are used or not, will insure us a ready supply of fresh cold water—the backbone to most of our beverages. And ice cubes or ice for chipping are essential, for the best flavors are spoiled if served lukewarm. And what's more, those "glittering squares of colored ice" are more in style today than ever before. Sometimes when filling your ice cube trays, drop in a few drops of vegetable coloring matter—red, green, yellow—whatever tint takes your fancy, and then stir in a tablespoon of sugar sirup and flavoring. When you serve, drop a jade green ice cube with a faint flavor of lime into a tall glass of tart lemonade. Or offer frost drinks of ginger ale and lime with amber lemon ice cubes!

Our summer beverage shelf also boasts a bottle or two of grape juice, a supply of oranges, lemons, and perhaps a lime, maraschino cherries, or preserved ones, and now and then some of the green creme de menthe variety. There are also occasional bottles of ginger ale and root beer to save the last minute rush to the drug store. And finally sugar sirup and pleasant odds and ends of left over fruit juices fill the remaining shelf corner.

Now a word about those last two items. Sugar sirup can save us a good many minutes of waiting, for the dissolved sugar is immediately taken up by the water and does not have to take time out to go into solution as would dry sugar. It may be made well in advance by simply adding four cups of water to three pounds of sugar, bringing the mixture to a boil and immediately cooling and bottling. Your own taste and the other ingredients in the beverage will determine how much of this sirup will be needed for sweetening.

Odds and ends in the fruit juice line often add delightfully unusual flavors. We have found that the extra juice so often found in cherries, canned raspberries, peaches, plums, and preserved strawberries may be boiled with a little sugar and rebottled at once if we are not ready to use it. The flavors may be mixed or left separate as the spirit moves us.

Grape ginger punch gains more friends whenever we serve it. For this thirst quencher mix a cup of sugar, a cup of water, and several bruised mint leaves and let the mixture stand until the sugar is dissolved. Add the juice of half a lemon, two cups of grape juice, and a quart of ginger ale. If desired, the juice of a lime may be substituted for the lemon. Pour the mixture over cracked ice or ice cubes in tall cold glasses and serve.

More thoughts in the beverage line run something like this: Ginger ale, sarsaparilla and lemon juice chilled with ice cubes in which bits of mint leaves have been frozen. Sweetened rhubarb juice served with cracked ice. Orange juice and grape juice shaken together with sugar sirup and ice—most tantalizing! Strawberry lemonade punch made with two cups of crushed fresh strawberries for each quart of sweet lemonade.

And have you ever found what an exquisitely refreshing drink can be made from the spicy iced juice of pickled peaches? That used to be our idea of the perfect ending for a long hot summer hike!

Last of all, don't forget frappés. They are really half frozen sherbets with the white of egg omitted. They may be made in a refreshing freezing tray or in a hand freezer.

Junior League Convention

Miss Margot Atkin (left), new president of the Chicago Junior league, and Miss Dorothy Schmidt, ex-president, are representing Chicago at the national Junior league convention in Los Angeles. Miss Atkin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey H. Atkin of Winnetka, and Miss Schmidt is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick M. Schmidt of 222 East Delaware place. This picture was taken just before the young women boarded the special train which took the northern, eastern and southern delegates to west coast from Chicago.

Heat Wave Drives Junior Leaguers to Seek Relief in Sea

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—Driven by the second day of 90 degree heat delegates to the conference of the Association of Junior Leagues took to the Pacific strands today and divided to hold their meetings at Uplifters ranch and the Bel-Air Bay club, where business conferences were interspersed with ocean dips.

Miss Helenka Adamowska, director of the Children's Theater bureau, was in charge of the program at the Uplifters club and discussion covered ways and means by which the leagues may coöperate with Parent-Teachers, Little Theater organizations, and the delegates' respective boards.

At a meeting of delegates at Bel-Air club Miss Helen Leovy was in charge and the condition of the league's gift shops in various cities was taken up, with operation on approved business principles suggested.

Annual County Meeting Is Held.

Plans to welcome socially a national delegation that will attend the Republican convention to present planks for inclusion in the party platform, were announced yesterday at the fourth annual meeting of the Cook County League of Women Voters, at the McCormick Y. W. C. A. Open house on June 14 at the county group's new headquarters, 225 North Michigan avenue, may also include a luncheon or tea, according to Mrs. Quincy Wright, Cook county president.

Lest the league be considered partisan, a similar event will be arranged for the delegation that will present identical planks to the Democratic party committee, Mrs. Wright added. The subject matter of the planks is not yet determined, but will be selected from the National League of Women Voters' program.

Illinois not only had the largest delegation attending the recent national convention in Detroit, it was reported by Mrs. Paul Rittenhouse, executive secretary of the Illinois league, but was prominently represented on committees and programs. The state group in Detroit numbered fifty-five.

Mrs. Savilla Millis Simons, public affairs chairman for the Cook county league, made a report on her activities, which include attendance at the meetings of the county board and various other public conferences.

"The league," she recommended, "should be in a position to give support from the outside when efforts are being made in various ways for better government. As an instance, there is the work Miss Sears has been doing in pursuing the matter of the quarterly report from the county treasurer's office, which the law requires to be submitted to the board. Since this board has been in office no such report has been submitted, and Miss Sears has kept the topic alive."

Mrs. William Gold Hibbard of Winnetka will be hostess tomorrow to the emergency advisory committee of the National League of Women Voters. This committee appointed at the convention, is to select strategic measures from the organization's list for support, and to concentrate action on them to improve the unemployment and business situations.

Members of the committee include Miss Katharine Ludington of Old Lyme, Conn.; Mrs. Henry Goddard Leech and Mrs. F. Louis Slade of New York; Miss Marguerite Wells of Minneapolis; Miss Gertrude Ely of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; and three Chicagoans, Mrs. Quincy Wright, Dr. Mollie Ray Carroll and Mrs. W. W. Ramsay.

Individual members of the organization will participate in a feminine demonstration planned by peace promotion groups of Chicago during the political conventions, aimed at obtaining a peace plank in the platforms.

Simple Wool Suit and Few Sweaters Are Paris Answer to Vacation Needs

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—If you are just beginning to day dream about whether one trunk will be enough on your forthcoming two weeks' vacation, with your budget unkindly suggesting that an overnight case would be about large enough, you should be overjoyed by this news from Paris.

You can pack all your troubles up in a simple wool suit and some sweaters this summer and go a-vacationing. That is—of course, there's a catch in it—if you select the kind of suit-sweater combination shown in the accompanying sketch, which was designed by Lucien Lelong.

The sweater is the big news in this happy combination. As you know, Paris says stripes, and more stripes, if you want to be chic this summer. And this sweater is certainly in the swim, for it has stripes, but discreet ones that do not blatantly defy the eye. This soft, fine woolen pullover, which is in a warm beige, has a tiny yoke which makes it fit snugly around the throat.

The normal waisted skirt is in a navy blue, rough woolen, and has bias bands through the hips. It gets its fullness by godets placed above the knees. The small sketches show the hip length, belted jacket of this suit. Note its broad shoulders and collarless neckline.

DO YOU KNOW that new silk has the same "live" elastic quality that rubber has?

But if you destroy this precious elasticity—rub stockings with cake soap so the threads are weakened and roughened—then they become lifeless like old rubber. Ready to break at the least strain. Apt to sag, too—stretch out of shape.

That is why Lux is especially made to preserve elasticity. Simply Lux your stockings every night—they keep their perfect fit and even the sheerest ones really wear.

The Lux Way to save the ELASTICITY that makes stockings WEAR and FIT

Wash this 2-minute way:
2. Add lukewarm water to Lux, squeeze suds through stockings, rinse well.

Don't rub with cake soap. It ruins elasticity. With Lux there's no rubbing. Even stubborn spots come out perfectly if you press a few dry Lux diamonds into the dampened spot.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens silk threads, fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

KELVINATOR FEATURES

IT IS a well-known fact in the industry that Kelvinator has more important features —and more noteworthy exclusive features—than any other electric refrigerator.

This statement is not made to disparage other fine electric refrigerators on the market to-day, but rather to bring this fact to your attention, and to urge you to find out for yourself, by comparison, the truth it conveys.

Following are a few of the features that make Kelvinator such a satisfactory, economical, dependable electric refrigerator to own. Those with the star are exclusive with Kelvinator.

4-Zone Cold

★ Only Kelvinator (DeLuxe and Standard Models) has four different temperatures, the correct temperature for every refrigeration need. The food compartment has a constant temperature below 50°, but never below freezing. The Frost Chest, for keeping fish, meat, game or extra ice cubes, is always below freezing. The ice cube trays have a fast freezing temperature and the Iso-Thermic Tube Tray has the World's Fastest Freezing Speed. All four temperatures are in the refrigerator at the same time and all are automatically controlled without supervision or attention.

Fully Automatic

Iso-Thermic Tubes

The Frost Chest

Lighted Interiors

The Kold-Keeper

—Another exclusive engineering feature that serves as a reservoir of cold; reduces running time, and will refrigerate cabinet for 12 hours without power.

The Kelvin Crisper

Flexo Trays

Bar Type Shelves

—of strong, electric welded parallel bars. Easy to clean. Scientifically plated to prevent rusting and to make cleaning easy. Rubber supports hold them in place and prevent marring the porcelain.

Rubber Mounted Motor

In addition to these features, there are many others you will most certainly want in the electric refrigerator you buy. See them on the new Kelvinators which are now being displayed. Grocers, florists, meat merchants, apartment house owners, druggists, factory executives and all other users of commercial electric refrigeration equipment are invited to use the services of the Kelvinator Refrigeration Engineer. Without obligation, he will analyze your refrigeration problems and show you how you can save money by installing the time-tested and proved Kelvinator equipment. Call to-day and ask for the K. R. FRESH MONEY? BETTERS NEVER FAIL TO HAVE IT

Puzzle: Where Do They Get It?

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—The officials of the gambling casino at Monte Carlo have been compelled to install slot machines, and the officials of a New Orleans horse track sold pari-mutuel tickets at a dollar each, reduced from two last winter, as a concession to the reduced circumstances of their clients.

But the fund of gambling money seems to be well maintained in the city of Chicago. A recent survey indicates that the wagering there, both at the horse tracks and in the pool rooms, continues at a rate of about a million dollars a day. The horse track wagering is legal and the funds gambled are subject to a state tax, but the pool room wagering is distinctly unlawful and it is a bit of a shock to learn that such things can be done. However, it may be all for the best not to go into that.

Ten Per Cent Evaporation.

This figure of a million dollars a day does not mean, of course, that the citizens manage to dig up a fresh million a day out of their poverty. But it undoubtedly does mean that they are finding fresh money for such purposes at the rate of a hundred thousand daily or a million every ten business days, because the wear and tear on a dollar of gambling money may be estimated at no less than 10 per cent per transaction. In some forms of speculation the wear and tear is as much as 20 per cent.

I would estimate the evaporation at perhaps that amount in the gambling on the horse races in New York because gambling here is conducted strictly on the bootleg basis. The costs of operation compel the bookmakers to steal back from their patrons that money which is stolen, grafted, or exacted from them, and a little bit more.

It is impossible to survey the gambling on the horse races in New York, because it is impossible to find out who takes the bets. It is easy enough to find one bookmaker or a half dozen bookmakers doing business at the metropolitan tracks, but even if you had obtained conscientious estimates from the half dozen you could not be certain that you had not missed a dozen others. And then you could not be sure that even those figures which the bookmakers had been kind enough to give you were really conscientious statistics.

Holler Even in Good Times.

They probably would be minimized, because it is the habit of all bookmakers to holler poverty, even in good times, and, anyway, the figures of a few bookmakers, at best, could only serve as an index with which to hazard a guess at the total amount wagered on and off the tracks.

But if Chicago bets a million a day, including a hundred thousand dollars of fresh money, New York surely must bet two million, including no less than $400,000 of "fresh," which would be a cheery note in a generally lugubrious world. New York has twice the population. New York also has a thriving underworld to contain the poolrooms. New York has suffered last and, up to the present, least from the depression, and, finally, the betting which is done at the tracks in New York is subject to a take-off for operating expense at least twice as great as the deduction which is made in the mutuel traffic in Illinois.

Bookies' Expenses Heavy.

A bookmaker needs a staff of clerks and puller on a New York track, all of whom, like himself, must pay their way into the park and buy meals and transportation, and, if unavoidable, pay rent. He must also adjust his prices to his clients so as to reimburse himself for the defaults of other clients who establish credit and then forget to pay their wagers. These costs will indicate why it is that the wear and tear on a dollar of gambling money amounts to at least 20 per cent in New York.

In the poolrooms, aside from the cost of graft, telegraph service, and ordinary overhead, there are other perils which beset the gambling dollar which are described to me in a letter from a correspondent who has been employed by bookmakers for the last 15 years. My correspondent is very indignant because the prices of

TRINCHERA GOOD HORSE; PROVES IT TO 6,500 BETTERS

Beats Supreme Sweet in Bryn Mawr Purse.

BY FRENCH LANE.
[OTHER RACE NEWS ON PAGE 26.]

The Waggoners from Texas have a very nice race horse in Trinchera, 3 year old son of Eternal-Canadian Tetrarchia, which captured the Bryn Mawr purse at Washington Park yesterday. Chicagoans would not believe it until they saw him come from behind and win by a length from the fleet Chicago filly, Supreme Sweet, with Flag Bearer, another flyer, finishing in third place.

Trinchera had won four in a row, two of them at New Orleans and the other two at Churchill Downs. Yet the shrewd speculators in the crowd of 6,500 overlooked him and backed Justinian, Betty Derr and Prince Tokalon with confidence, never giving the Texas 3 year old any consideration.

That was where they made their mistake, for Trinchera, trained by Johnny Schorr and ridden by Joockey G. Elston, was so full of run in the stretch it would have taken an Equipoise or some other kind of a super horse to catch him.

Flag Bearer Rushes Out.

The race was at 6 furlongs. Weak hearted Flag Bearer, whose fame has been gained on heavy tracks, flew out into the lead as if he had forgotten that it had not rained at Washington Park and the track was lightning fast. He wheeled around the lower bend a length in front of Supreme Sweet, but Supreme Sweet soon dashed past him.

Jockey Elston was saving ground with Trinchera, and as they went into the stretch, he began driving his charge. It was all over but the shouting and the collecting, for Trinchera went right along about his business, increased his lead in the final strides and was going away when the verdict was returned.

The collecting wasn't such a tough task. Those who invested $2 apiece got $14 back. Trinchera paid $8.08 to place and $6.02 to show. Supreme Sweet was at $10.92 to place and $7.86 to show. Flag Bearer paid $6.10 to show.

Ideal Racing Day.

It was an ideal racing day and the crowd warmed right up to the Washington Park sport when favorites came dashing home in the first two races. Mrs. Hal Price Headley's 2 year old filly, Technique, won the first race without trouble and Porticodine, from the stable of Ben Creech, captured the second after having been heavily backed.

Most everybody had backed these two, but when the players tried to make the favorite, Chuck B., win the third race they were disappointed. Luke Connell, paying nearly 19 to 1, won in the last stride from Campiore, another long shot. Stroll Along was third.

That old horse Scimitar goes on and on. He improves with age. He won the Olympia Fields claiming purse by a neck from Mad Career. The old fellow, a selling plater one day and a stake horse the next, came with one of his bulldogish challenges in the run down the stretch, stuck his nose in front of Mad Career's nose a sixteenth out and would not give or take an inch from there until the finish. He had been backed extensively, yet paid $9.20.

FOUR WISCONSIN PITCHERS BEAT NOTRE DAME, 5-4

Madison, Wis., May 24.—[Special.]—Wisconsin, using two regular and two reserve pitchers, defeated Notre Dame today, 5 to 4. Jake Sommerfield and Nello Pacetti pitched three innings each, and Art Winger and Al Carlson working an inning and a half apiece.

Lagger pitched a good game for the Irish, but a walk, an error, two hits, and a wild pitch gave the Badgers four runs in the second inning. Score:

HANDLES ON THAT BASEBALL MIGHT HAVE HELPED, CAREY

Keep coming, Bill! Third Baseman Carey Selph had trouble capturing the ball in the fourth inning of yesterday's game at Comiskey Park and Spider Bill Cissell, a former White Sox, slid in safe at third. When he saw the ball roll through Selph he jumped to his feet and dashed for home. Umpire McGowan is the hawk-eyed sentry at the right.

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 24.—Leonard Martin, metropolitan golf champion of New York, one of the United States' outstanding hopes to take the British amateur championship again to America, went down to a surprising defeat today in the second round when he lost to M. Crowley, 2 up.

Crowley, an English golfer from Portmarnock, practically unknown in British golf circles, played brilliant golf in defeating Martin, who was the overwhelming favorite. Martin became the favorite to win the championship when he triumphed over Eric Martin Smith, London, the defending champion.

Two other Americans fell in the second round today. They are Douglas Grant, former California champion, who lost to Edward R. Tipple, 2 and 1, and Ross Thompson, Uniontown, Pa., who was eliminated by E. L. H. Turner, Luffenham Heath, 4 and 2.

Only Three Yankees Left.

With the defeat of Martin, Grant and Thompson, only three players from the United States remain in the tournament. The survivors are Dave Martin, holder of the California championship, and Robert and Charles Sweeney.

Dave Martin advanced to the second round of the meet when early this morning he defeated Lt. G. Crawley, who won the English championship last year. Martin sank a seven yard putt to beat Crawley on the last hole, 1 up.

The Sweeney brothers, students at Oxford university, had little difficulty winning over English opponents. Charles, captain of the Oxford golf team, eliminated E. B. Tipping, 4 and 3, in a second round match and Robert swept into the third round with a victory over Roger Wethered.

Roger Wethered Loses.

Wethered, veteran member of the British Walker cup team and brother of Joyce Wethered, who recently captained an English women's team against an American squad, missed shots and wasted several strokes to lose to the young American, 6 and 5.

Ireland's champion, William Sutton, was eliminated by Andrew Jamieson, 5 and 3, in a second round match. Jamieson yesterday won from Paul Azbill, who defeated Bobby Jones in the 1926 British amateur over the same course.

A member of this year's British Walker cup team, T. A. Torrance, advanced to the third round with a brilliant victory over G. T. Chiene, 4 and 3. In other matches today, Robert Harris defeated J. T. Campbell, 4 and 2, and Raymond Oppenheimer won from Dr. John MacCormack, former Irish champion, 1 up.

In the Wake of the News

PENNANT RACES.

NATIONAL and American league pennant races, in number of games played, are now approximately one-fifth finished. Except for the belated start upward by the Philadelphia Athletics, there have been few surprises in the junior organization.

In the National league, there has been a scrambled condition. Aside from early leadership by the Cubs, usually rated third or fourth, Boston and Cincinnati are prominent in the first division, while the St. Louis Cardinals have been acting nothing like world champions.

Let us see how present standings compare with the predictions of the best baseball minds before the season opened. "Sporting News," a baseball weekly published in St. Louis, polled 133 newspaper writers, men actually covering baseball games and traveling with the teams, or members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The composite of that poll estimated the teams as follows:

St. Louis	986	Philadelphia	970
New York	921	New York	971
Chicago	770	Washington	791
Brooklyn	734	Cleveland	661
Pittsburgh	472	Detroit	574
Boston	368	St. Louis	335
Philadelphia	311	Boston	316
Cincinnati	220	Chicago	303

Points are counted 8 for first, 7 for second and thence down.

Thus in this consensus, Boston and Cincinnati, National league first division intruders, were ranked sixth and eighth, respectively. None of the experts placed the Braves better than fourth. One writer placed Cincinnati third, one picked the Reds fourth, and the rest assigned second division positions. Thirteen of 133 assigned a pennant to the Cubs but 51 of the selections rated them third.

In the American league, in which only two points separated Athletics and Yankees, 58, picked the Yankees to win against 52 for the Athletics, but the preponderance of second place selections gave Connie Mack's outfit the points advantage.

Our Mr. Vaughan rated the Cubs third with the proviso that an improvement in batting or purchase of one cleanup hitter would change the whole situation and might bring the flag. Our Mr. Burns picked the Yankees to win, and hoped for fifth place for the White Sox.

How did your dope compare with that of the experts?

KALLA PASHA HITS MOTORMAN, SENT TO ASYLUM

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—Kalla Pasha, 64 year old movie strong man and comedian, today was committed to the Mendocino State asylum for the insane.

Kalla Pasha [real name Joe Rickard] at one time was well known in Chicago's loop and was in demand for stag entertainments in Chicago clubs as a professional wrestler and strong man. He was on trial today charged with assaulting Herman F. Christopher, a street car motorman. The specific charge was that he broke the motorman's head with an ink bottle.

BRYAN DOWNEY, AS A WRESTLER, STILL CAN FIGHT

Cleveland, O., May 24.—(AP)—Bryan Downey, once called the uncrowned middleweight boxing champion, wrestled professionally for the second time tonight, and for the second time resorted to a trusty, time proven left hook for victory. Downey hooked a left to the midrift of Wild Bill Jacobson at 7 minutes and 47 seconds of their match, and it was all over.

Jacobson tossed Downey from post to post until Downey responded to the cries of the crowd to let go with a punch. It took two policemen to carry Jacobson from the ring.

CUBS PILE UP 14 HITS, BUT ERRORS BRING DEFEAT

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 24.—Nothing the Cubs had to offer was substantial enough to suppress the world champion Cardinals this afternoon. The infielders made their usual gifts, which alone were enough to invite disaster, but to make it a gala occasion a corps of pitchers permitted themselves to be slugged all around the premises. This made it a cinch for the Chicagoans to fold up in their fourth straight defeat by a score of 8 to 6.

Bill Jurges, the youthful shortstop, who was a Red benefactor in two of the three recent jobs at Cincinnati, was the chief contributor to the Cubs' distress again today. He made one bad throw which should have retired the side but instead led to three Cardinal runs and ruined the ball game in the third. Later he varied his style with a fumble and two more runs were levied by the Cards as the result of the error. Young Bill also had to wait until the ninth before breaking a four day drought of hits, so all in all he's leading a sad life.

First Error Ruins Bush.

The first of Jurges' two blunders spoiled whatever chance Guy Bush might have had to work his usual spellbinders on the champions. He was doing fairly well until the wild throw in the third and before he succeeded in closing this attack a single and a homer had been exploded. The homer was the work of Rip Collins, who subsequently hit another during Bob Smith's brief term in office.

It also was on Smith that Jurges staged his second fielding offense. Smith's enforced departure brought Lon Warneke and Jake May, in turn, into the proceedsings, and they, too, encountered trouble in various forms.

About the only thing the Cubs did of a creditable nature was to hit, which for them was something of a novelty. Led by Gabby Hartnett with two singles and three doubles, the Chicagoans rolled up 14 safeties. One of these was Billy Herman's first homer of the season. Despite this persistent banging of the ball, Sylvester Johnson, who is dubbed the unlucky Swede, kept his head above water for eight innings. But in the ninth he finally took for cover when the Cubs set out on the task of trying to retrieve what they had given away. Jim Lindsey dashed forth and halted the rumpus with two runs in and the tying runs on base.

Cards Score in First.

Bush's first inning was of the type that causes managers to sprout gray hairs, but the Mississippian revived himself in time to restrict the mischief to one run. Orsatti led off with a line double to right center. Watkins singled to right and Orsatti wisely halted at third. He scored while Jurges was throwing out Frisch from deep short. Watkins helped the Cubs by getting himself nabbed in an attempt to steal third. Collins then walked and the third out was registered on Martin's pop to Hartnett in front of the plate.

Two doubles, two passes and an error were tossed into the Cubs' second inning, but they scored only two runs. Frisch kicked Grimm's roller for a starter and Hartnett doubled to right, Grimm stopping at third. Jurges rolled out. A pass to Bush filled the bases. Richbourg's fly to deep center sent Grimm home and Hartnett to third. Herman plunked a two bagger to right and Hartnett registered. Free passage to English filled the bases again, but Moore tapped gently to Frisch for the third out.

Collins Hits Homer.

Both Johnson and Orsatti were set down easily in the third before bad luck got a strangle hold on Bush. Jurges opened the door for the jinx by making a low throw to Grimm on Watkins' grounder. Frisch singled to right and Watkins sprinted to third. Bush pitched one wide to Collins, but the next one wasn't wide enough. Collins boosted it onto the roof of the right field pavilion and jogged around to the plate behind Watkins and Frisch. Then Herman let go a wild throw on Martin, but this didn't prove costly because Wilson poked into a force out.

Hartnett Gets Third Double.

Hartnett's double, which Martin couldn't reach even after skidding along the ground and furrowing ten feet of earth with his nose, gave the Cubs a slim opening after two were out in the third, but Jurges fouled out. With one out in the fourth,

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox have gone plumb crazy. If they weren't loco they never would have acted the way they did yesterday against the great Wes Ferrell and assorted Cleveland pitchers. Just imagine! The great Ferrell had 'em licked 6 to 1 at the end of the Cleveland half of the fourth inning only to see Comiskey's boys bust loose in a frenzy which wound up in a 11 to 7 Chicago triumph.

It was the fourth success in three days for the Chicagoans and the pleasing spectacle saw them more courageous than ever, for they tore things wide open after having suffered under sour performance by Vic Frasier in the fourth inning.

But once the ill fated Mr. Frasier retired and Tommy Thomas showed he was able to protect any run making the Sox might do the offense got under way.

They Favor Ferrell.

A homer by Bob Seeds started the overtaking ceremonies in the Chicago end of the fourth. In the fifth triples by Appling and Grube and successive singles by Funk, Selph, Seeds, and Kress gave Ferrell a buggy ride such as he rarely has experienced.

It's a quaint old Cleveland custom to jockey Ferrell's record to the best advantage so he was removed when the score became tied. It should be said to Wes' credit, however, that he wanted to carry on, and it was no fault of his that the trimming was unloaded on Sarge Connally, who, with Harder, aided the Sox to a five run victory splurge in the seventh.

The unleashed Sox made fifteen hits during the glorious proceedings dedicated to a ladies' day crowd of 15,000. Eight of these, including Seeds' homer, two triples by Appling, and a triple by Grube, were made off the astounded Mr. Ferrell in a span of three innings.

The Indians did a little long range swatting themselves, what with a homer by Ferrell, which produced the first run of the game, and a quite futile homer by Bill Cissell, which led off the ninth and gave the Indians their second bona fide hit off Thomas.

Single, Single, Single.

The game eventually was won by pecking away at Connally and Harder, nothing bigger than a single bobbing up in the shower of hits given the two hents in the seventh. In this session Selph, Seeds, Blue, Hodapp, and Appling contributed singles, and these, mixed up with a walk for Funk and an error by Burnett, were good for five runs.

Three of the Sox batsmen registered three hits—Seeds with his homer and two singles, Selph with three consecutive singles, and, if you please, Luke Appling with those two triples and a single, all of which figured in the scoring.

Morgan, who walked with one out in the second inning, was the only man on either team to reach first base in the first two innings. Cissell was retired to start the third, but Ferrell came up and ran the count to three balls and two strikes, then socked his homer into the stand in deep left center. Burnett was called out on strikes and Jamieson rolled out, Blue to Frasier.

Mr. Frasier Goes Walking.

The score tying episode didn't encourage the phlegmatic Frasier in the least. He got about his collapse at the earliest possible moment. Averill opened the fourth with a single to center and got to second after Funk had gone almost to the flagpole to get Vosmik's drive. A stern scorekeeper gave Kress an error when he failed to make a play on Morgan's slow bouncer, but, error or hit, the thing put Averill on third and Morgan on first. Sewell singled to left, Averill scoring and Morgan stopping at second. Kamm walked, filling the Mungo limited the Braves to seven hits, keeping them scattered except for the eighth, when Boston grouped three, while Wilson drove out his fourth home run of the season with two on in the first.

Richbourg singled and Herman walked. That opening faded out because English and Moore couldn't propel the ball past the infielders. Hartnett was back on base again in the fifth, this time with his third double, which lacked only a few feet of landing on the right field pavilion roof for a homer. This also occurred after two were deposed and Jurges couldn't assist.

Bush Is Excused.

Hornsby summoned Harry Taylor to perform in the rôle of pinch batter for Bush to start the sixth, but the newcomer accomplished nothing. Neither did Richbourg cause any disturbance. But a moment later Herman exploded his homer into the seats in left field. The Cards lost no time recapturing that run and more besides in their half. Collins welcomed Smith with his second homer, this one to center. Jurges fumbled on Martin, who tore around to the plate on a double to left center by Wilson. Warneke then stepped in and halted the riot after Wilson had scored on a wild pitch.

The Cubs got real gay in the seventh, but were chopped off with one run, leaving them behind by 7 to 4. Stephenson inaugurated this move by singling to right with one gone. He loped to third on Grimm's single to center. Hartnett singled to the same spot for his fourth hit, Stevie scoring. Jurges again tried to break the no hit jinx which has been hanging on him for four days, but he merely fouled to Wilson. Then Hack was asked to bat for Warneke. He boosted a high fly to Orsatti.

May Gets His.

May appeared in the seventh for his share of the abuse. He took care of the first batter to face him and then walked Blades, who was substituted for Watkins. Frisch fanned but Collins followed with a single to center. Martin lined safely to left for one base and Blades hiked home. Wilson popped a foul to Hartnett to complete the inning.

Hartnett's fifth hit, a single with one out, started Johnson's banishment in the ninth. Jurges doubled to left center and Gabby scored. Gudat, batting for May, singled to right, putting Jurges on third and Johnson in the dugout. Lindsay coaxed Richbourg into grounding to Frisch for a force of Gudat at second, Jurges scoring. Herman was hit on the shirt by a pitched ball, and then the affair closed with English grounding to short.

Grimes to Pitch Today, Receive Gold Series Token

St. Louis, Mo., May 24. — Burleigh Grimes, who did the heavy work in the winning of the world series for the Cardinals last fall and then was traded to the Cubs, will be formally presented with his gold championship button tomorrow. In keeping with the occasion Manager Hornsby plans to let the spitball veteran do the pitching. Derringer will be the Cards' pick.

President William Veeck of the Cubs has definitely decided to give the Chicago fans a break. Both the Memorial day games scheduled with the Cardinals at Wrigley field will be played in the afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

More than a few people seem to think that if the Cardinals don't show some championship stuff before June 15 the club officials will realize a few extra dollars by disposing of one or two players other clubs covet. Jim Bottomley is one of these.

The game in the Arkansas hills faces a tough winter. Lon Warneke went downtown this morning and came back with a new rifle guaranteed to kill anything—if he can hit it.

Manager Hornsby made his threatened alteration in the batting order, but it wasn't extensive. Grimm and Hartnett merely changed places.

TROJANS SHY AT EXPENSIVE TRIP TO TITLE MEET

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—(AP)—University of Southern California's national championship track and field team probably will not journey to Chicago to defend its title in the intercollegiate championship there June 10 and 11, athletic authorities said today.

The Trojan officials feel the expense will be too great to send a team large enough to defend the championship won in 1930 and retained last spring.

Bowen High school moved another step toward the north-south sectional championship and the finals for the Chicago Public High School league baseball title yesterday when it defeated Fenger, south section rival, for its second semifinal victory at Trumbull park. Bowen pounded two Fenger pitchers to pile up 18 hits and a 17 to 0 victory.

Bowen's last opponent will be Lane Tech, defending league champion, which today meets Schurz at Logan Square park. Lane, which is scheduled to meet Bowen next Saturday at Mills stadium, already has won a semifinal victory, defeating Fenger 17 to 1.

Jimmy McKirchy and Johnny Plack alternated in the pitching and center fielding duties for Bowen. They held Fenger to only seven hits. Bowen collected eight hits in the first three innings to score 13 runs. Score:

GOMEZ ALLOWS A'S ONLY 3 HITS AS YANKS WIN, 3-1

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—Vernon Gomez turned in his best pitching work of the season for the Yankees today and Babe Ruth hit his 11th home run to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 3 to 1. It was Gomez' third triumph over the American league champions this season.

The Athletics obtained only three hits and one unearned run off Gomez, who, in a mound duel with Rube Walberg, struck out 13 batters. The mark is one more than any other major league pitcher has made in a single game this season. Gomez allowed only one walk.

"We☆ DROVE THIS CAR 95,000 MILES IN A SIX-MONTH TEST

Pressure lubrication of piston pin bearings is an important contributing factor to the durability of Oldsmobile six and eight-cylinder power plants. A stream of oil, pumped through each rifle-drilled connecting rod, bathes the bearing surfaces continuously, preserving the precision fit, and greatly reducing wear.

Whether as one of a fleet of commercial cars, or as trusted servant to a private owner, Oldsmobile never fails to win high praise for its day-in-and-day-out reliability. It is not at all uncommon for owners to go out of their way in recommending Oldsmobile to others, and to speak of its good qualities with the keenest appreciation and enthusiasm. The car that owners approve so unmistakably is, surely, a car of exceptional desirability from every standpoint. Certainly, therefore—if you seek an automobile of moderate price, yet offering all the foremost features of modern fine-car design—you should carefully investigate Oldsmobile—"the car that owners recommend."

Let us show you what Oldsmobile can do. We promise you a genuine thrill when you take the wheel—the thrill of mighty power, brilliant speed, unexcelled smoothness and quietness—all joined up together!

FEATURES OF THE OLDSMOBILE SIX AND EIGHT: Syncro-Mesh transmission, silent second gear, down-draft carburetion, automatic choke, ride regulator, oil temperature regulator, engine decarbonizer, free wheeling, bodies by Fisher . . . Products of General Motors.

☆ This statement appears in a letter from a tire manufacturer reporting the excellent performance of its Oldsmobile test car. The letter is on file at the Oldsmobile offices.

YACHT CLUBS SET OUT SAILS FOR SEASON MONDAY

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

They're making everything shipshape along the lake front these days as Chicago's sailors prepare for the official opening of the 1932 yacht season next Monday. Memorial day will find sails set for racing at the Chicago Yacht club, the Jackson Park Yacht club, the Columbia Yacht club, and the Sheridan Shore Yacht club.

All of the events Monday will be closed to club members, but the mariners at each of the four clubs are looking forward to the big races sponsored by each already. The most important, of course, will be the Chicago Yacht club's race to Mackinac island, the longest fresh water haul in the world, which will begin on July 16.

Michigan City Objective of Two Races.

Michigan City will be the objective of both the Columbia and Jackson Park clubs in their big races. Columbia will run its 41st annual battle to the Indiana port on June 18, while their south side rivals will travel there on Sept. 4.

The Sheridan Shore club, which boasts of one of the best star boat fleets in the country in its harbor at Wilmette, will have another incentive in addition to the annual tests for the international star boat races. Hummer II. was the club's representative last year. This year the fleet will race to select a great lakes representative for the Olympic games at Los Angeles. Between 35 and 40 Chicago owned boats are expected to compete in the local tests, which will be held off Navy pier next month, the winners qualifying for the regional series at Peoria.

All classes will compete Monday in the Chicago Yacht club's opening race at Belmont harbor, which will be run over a twice around triangular course. Among those likely to sail in the inaugural race are the Wright-Scott Privateer, Otto C. Schoenwerk's Katinka, Hal Redmon's Velma, Gordon Grant's Albert, L. L. Trumbull's Pegasus, the Hummon-Orndoff Joih, Howard Wakefield's RIRI, Haven A. Requa's Ulysses, F. A. De Peyster's Trix, Dr. Arthur A. Metz's Altair, George Getz Jr.'s Aquila, Bob Haynie's Falcon, and George Davis' Orn.

Race Monday for Skipper's Cup.

The Jackson Park fleet will race on Monday for the Skipper's cup, which will go to the boat having the best corrected time. There will also be prizes for all classes competing. Among those expected to enter are Dr. Yager's Columbia, which won the Skipper's cup last year; Bob Benedict's Bagheera, Bert Williamson's Edith III., Bryce Hess' yawl Beaves, the Weston-Dunlap schooner Fame, and the O'Rourke brothers' Intruder. The last named, one of the veterans of the south side fleet, lost its spar in the final Lutz trophy race last year, but is now equipped with a 62 footer, seven feet higher than last year's.

Columbia will hold its opener over a five mile once around course, with the following boats as probable entrants: Carl Norberg's Victory, A. C. Mason Jr.'s Wanderer II., Nip-'n-Tuck, C. J. Hollinger's Seajay, the Hansen-Lotz yawl, Swanee, Ray Coyl's Stormalong II., and M. C. Norton's Caprice. The Sheridan Shore club also will hold a race for stars Monday, with more than a dozen expected to compete.

The Freedom Comes to Chicago.

The most important addition to Chicago yachting circles of the year is the Freedom, the new seagoing yacht owned by Sterling Morton of the Chicago Yacht club. The Freedom, a Seawanhaka type schooner, is one of the largest boats built for a Chicago owner in recent years. It was launched on May 15 of last year, and since then has covered nearly 12,000 miles, including a trip through the Caribbean last winter. It is two masted and has an overall length of 88 feet, a beam of 20 feet, and a ten foot draft.

Still another newcomer to the Chicago Yacht club fleet will arrive here this morning in the Hope, which led the Q boat fleet at Marblehead, Mass., last year. It was purchased recently by S. P. Robinson and his brother, Ted. The Robinsons, English Walling, Paul Blair, and Dan Hill, professional, will make up the crew of the Hope when it is ready for sailing in club events.

SCHRADER AND FRAME QUALIFY AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—(AP)—Fred Frame of Los Angeles and Gus Schrader of Cedar Rapids, Ia., were the only drivers to qualify their cars today for the 500 mile automobile race which will be run here next Monday.

Frame, driving an eight cylinder front drive car, passed the ten mile qualifying test at an average speed of 113.856 miles per hour. Schrader piloting a four wheel drive eight, showed a speed of 112.003 miles per hour. Twenty-eight cars have qualified to date for the speed classic.

MOON MULLINS—THEIR FLEETING MOMENT

THIS TROUT HAD A BIG LAUGH, BUT BOB LAUGHS LAST

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Blaney, Mich., May 24.—[Special.]—It's a little early to open the bathing season up here in the trout country near Lake Michigan, but we almost took part in an advance opening yesterday when we tackled a log strewn river where the red spotted trout live.

After enjoying the easy wading of other streams in this vicinity we decided to try our luck in a river that has been turned topsy turvy by logging crews. Years ago when the wood cutters took a crop from the country around the trout stream they let the chips fall where they would. Inasmuch as the chips in this case are tree trunks and logs anywhere from three to twenty feet long the stream is to the fisherman a challenging tangle of obstructions, but, of course, a paradise for brook trout.

Fishing this underwater jungle is a combination of calisthenics, wading, swimming and tree climbing guaranteed to make any trout fisherman complain of weary muscles. Some of the log jams are so bad that one has to climb out of the stream at times and pass around them. It is disturbing enough to fish this roughneck river alone when none can see you fall down or be hung up on a snag, but this morning we had three spectators. This gallery followed our precarious route downstream, all alternately quiet or sympathetic when the river threatened to take us for a wet ride.

The only time in our trout fishing experience that we had to sit down in order to fight a fish accurred on this stream. The episode must have given even the fish a chuckle. Standing in the cold, clear water we made a cast ahead, just over a big log that rested at right angles to the current. The water swirled over and under this log, making an ideal spot for a brook trout. Just a few feet behind this little pool was a tangle of debris that was quite unfishable. Immediately in front of us was another snag across the stream, so high that it was difficult to climb over.

And Fisherman Straddles Log.

A husky 12 inch fish struck as soon as we made the cast. With a dozen possible snags around this fish we tried to get closer to it in order to carry on the fight. A strong current helped the trout battle our light bamboo rod and it was nip and tuck for a few seconds. We walked up to the first log and tried to climb over. After getting one leg over it we found that we couldn't reach bottom on the other side. It was over our waders. So there we sat and played our fish, which had skidded over log number 2 and worked upstream before we could use the net.

Only 2 Clubs Brave Summer BoxingMenace

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Professional fighting in Chicago this summer apparently will depend on the activity of the West Side Boxing club and Mique Malloy's Southtown Irish A. A. Malloy plans to open the outdoor season Monday night at White City, featuring Tuffy Griffith. The West Side club, of which Joe Triner is president and Sidney Strotz secretary and treasurer, has announced a bout for June 16 between Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, and Harry Dublinsky.

Depression and lack of interest in shows between club fighters apparently have combined to kill off the other promoters. Among those clubs which will not operate—at least no announcement has been made—are the Congress Stadium A. C., Duffy Florals A. A., Billy Cepak, and Jim Mullen.

Mullen Is Square.

The Congress stadium, operated by Frank Spengler, staggered along until July 19 last year when Spengler's license was revoked for nonpayment of state taxes. Billy Cepak, who promoted last summer at 21st street and Kostner avenue, the present site of the West Side Boxing club, still holds an Illinois athletic commission license which does not expire until Oct. 1.

Jim Mullen attempted a comeback last summer at the Mills stadium, but he lost his license following nonpayment of some of the talent on the Levinsky-Hudkins card. Mullen, however, is square with the state of Illinois on his tax bills.

No Fee for Promoters.

There is no fee for a promoter's license. However, each promoter must put up a $5,000 bond, the fee for which is $50 if the bond is secured from a bonding company.

The promoters of amateur boxing expect to hold weekly shows this summer. At least two of the promoters who held weekly shows indoors have discontinued for the summer, but their places have been taken by newly formed clubs. Amateur boxing, although exploited to the limit, is no gold mine as receipts show. The amateur shows planned for this summer are:

MONDAY—Marigold Boxing club [Johnny Coulon].
FRIDAY—Merry Garden A. C.

Lou Barnes, for whom Sam Burbaum and Bat Williams are matchmakers, and the West End A. C., with which Bill Harley, Harry Berz and Ed Mahlke are associated, are the newcomers in the list of amateur boxing clubs.

Prices Are Low.

Amateur prices range from 25 cents to $1 with women admitted without charge at many shows. Two hundred dollars is considered a good house and this sum is half that of two years ago. The Savoy club, the only Negro boxing club in Chicago, has charged the minimum of 25 cents. During the winter the shows were held in the Savoy ballroom, but this summer it is planned to hold them outdoors.

The state of Illinois collects a ten per cent tax on admissions. Since this tax is collected as it comes in at the gate, amateur promoters do not put up a bond. No amateur promoter ever has defaulted on taxes.

HIS HEADWORK WINS FOR SOX

But if that hair ever grows out, good night White Sox. The south siders' sudden reversal to championship form is attributed to Vito Paradiso's hair cut. Vito is the Sox's bat boy. He rubs each player's bat on his head before each game. Presto! It's base hits. He got the hair cut Saturday night—like a bath—and the Sox started winning Sunday.

Thomas relieved Frasier here, and Ferrell, who hadn't begun to suffer, greeted him with a single which scored Kamm and put Cissell on third. When Hodapp's throw-in got away from Selph, Cissell trotted home and Ferrell raced as far as third. Burnett walked and Jamieson hit into a double play. The score at this point was 6 to 1 in favor of the great Ferrell and his associates.

They Gang on Poor Wes.

However, when Jamieson threw to third Seeds tried to reach second, but was sunk by Kamm's perfect shot to Cissell. Kress singled to left, scoring Selph with the tying run. Ferrell promptly was yanked and Kress stole second as soon as Connally went to work. There was an awful beef after the Kress theft, because then a single by Blue would have put the loss on Ferrell. Sewell claimed Blue had interfered with him and possibly Wes' record, but Connally took the rap by making Blue fly to Averill.

Thomas mowed 'em down again in the sixth and seventh, with nary a man reaching first. Then in the seventh, as previously related, the boys singled Connally and Harder dizzy and won themselves the ball game.

Caraway to Pitch Cleveland Final Against Hudlin

The Sox wind up their short and eminently successful home stay this afternoon in the final with the Indians. Pat Caraway, who scored the first of the Sox three victories over the Indians, is slated to pitch and is to be opposed by Willis Hudlin.

Tonight the Sox leave for Detroit to play five games in four days. Thence to Cleveland for a further tussle on the Indians' home premises which they love so well.

Tommy Thomas has been doing penance in the bull pen, for some reason or other not made public. Tommy has taken it like a little man and twice within a week has made his predecessor look bad while going about his relief chores. As the predecessor in each instance was Frasier, Tommy probably will be reëstablished as a starting pitcher in Victor's place.

The Sox haven't lost a game since they stepped into their new striped home uniforms last Sunday morning. They're pretty sore because they can't wear them in Detroit and Cleveland.

The present winning streak of four games is the biggest this year. The three they won recently in Boston was the only other time they exceeded one victory after the first week of the season. In the first five days they won four games and lost one, but the one lost bisected the four wins.

Dedicate New Lincoln Park Links June 15

Lincoln Park's new nine hole golf course will be dedicated on June 15 with a special match in which it is planned to bring together four star players. The course will be open to the public on June 18.

A conflict in the dates of two important golf tournaments may keep a majority of eastern professionals from entering the western open meet. The western will be held at the Canterbury club, Cleveland, O., June 30-July 2, while the Lannin Memorial tournament will be held at Garden City, N. Y., July 2 to 4. The latter is a big money event, and undoubtedly most of the eastern pros will enter it after the national open at Fresh Meadow, N. Y., June 23-25, rather than pay expenses to Cleveland for the western open.

Experiments with water compressors at Sunset Ridge Country club have demonstrated that the wells on the club property have sufficient capacity to permit sprinkling the fairways and plans are being made by the grounds and greens committee to install fairway sprinkling equipment for the 1932 season.

Members of voiture 220 of the Forty and Eight, ex-service men's organization, will journey out to Big Oaks, 6600 Lawrence avenue, today, for their second monthly golf tournament of the season.

J. D. Silverman recently had the strange and unhappy experience of making a hole in one, but being forced to take a three on his card. It happened at Ravisloe, on the 195 yard fourth, where his first two shots were out of bounds, and his third in the cup. Consolation was afforded by the fact that his three, a par, enabled him to win the hole from Benton Willmer and Clarence Coleman, with whom he was playing.

P. WANER PASSES HAFEY IN BIG 6 AND N. L. BATTING

Paul Waner batted his way into the National league lead and to third place in the Big Six yesterday as he registered the only gain in the averages of the leading hitters. Waner hit three times in six times at bat against Cincinnati, while Chick Hafey, who lost the lead, failed to hit in four tries. Waner gained five points, going to .392, while Hafey lost 15.

Tony Lazzeri was kept out of the Yankee-Athletics game, while his rivals, Jimmy Foxx and Bill Dickey, lost 6 and 13 points, respectively, the latter failing to get a hit. Hughey Critz suffered a 2 point loss with two hits in six times at bat. Standing:

Kay Don Likely to Try for Speedboat Mark Thursday

GARDONE, Italy, May 24.—(AP)—Kay Don of England probably will attempt to break Gar Wood's world speedboat record Thursday in his Miss England III. Don has not yet filed his 24 hour notice with the racing commission, hence there was no possibility of his making the record attempt before Thursday. He did not have his craft in the water today.

Who's Who in Women's Golf

By Betty Eckersall

MILDRED HACKL.

Miss Mildred Hackl, 20 year old University of Chicago co-ed, is the women's champion and scratch player of the Midlothian Country club. Although she has been competing in senior golf events only four years, she is considered one of Chicago's outstanding golfers.

MISS MILDRED HACKL.

She also is the women's champion at the university, a title she has held for two years. In the women's western junior meet at the Westmoreland Country club in 1926 she defeated Helen MacMarron, 5 and 3, for the title. The following year she lost to Jean Armstrong of Indian Hill.

Miss Helen Hicks put her out in the first round of the national tourney, 6 and 5, last year. Miss Hackl qualified for this event with a 90, which was exceptionally good.

Golf is inherent with Miss Hackl. Her father and mother are ardent golfers. Her brother, George Hackl, played on the American golf team at Bermuda this year.

By way of being different from many of Chicago's women athletes, Miss Hackl is not majoring in physical education in college. She is studying English, philosophy, and a little art.

She consistently shoots in the low eighties, hits a powerful tee shot, is deadly on approach shots, and is an accurate putter. She will compete in the major western and Chicago district events this year. In addition to golf she is fond of tennis and swimming. When asked who had taught her to play golf she replied:

"Why, no one. I have never had a lesson in my life."

CLOSE BASEBALL SEASON.

Ames, Ia., May 24.—[Special.]—Iowa State's varsity and freshman baseball teams will close the 1932 season Friday and Saturday in two games with each other.

King Levinsky Agrees to Box Baer in Reno

King Levinsky yesterday agreed to meet Max Baer, San Francisco heavyweight in a 20 round bout at Reno, Nev., July 4. Baer already had signed. Levinsky was beaten by Baer in 10 rounds at New York last winter. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, will promote the show.

Sammy Mandell, former lightweight titleholder, will leave Rockford Saturday for Chicago en route to Sacramento, Cal. Mandell is training at Rockford for a series of matches on the coast. He recently returned from Florida after engaging in six bouts, losing one. Mandell's plan to go to California is an indication that he is not ready yet to petition the Illinois athletic commission for a hearing concerning reinstatement in National Boxing association territory. Sammy was put on the voluntary retired list following his match against Ralph Lenny at the Chicago Stadium last Nov. 4.

Mangin, Wood Advance in French Meet

AUTEUIL, France, May 24.—Gregory Mangin and Sidney Wood, two of America's outstanding tennis players, swept into the doubles quarter-finals of the French hard court tennis championship tournament today by defeating Jean and Pierre Grandguillot, Egypt, 8-6, 8-6, 1-6, 6-4.

Wood, paired with Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, former United States champion, scored a first round victory in the mixed doubles, defeating Frau Dros Canters and Franz Marejka, 9-11, 6-3, 6-0. Another American woman, Miss Elizabeth Ryan, who is playing with Jacques Brugnon, France, also won, advancing to the quarter-finals of the mixed play.

HA HA HAS LAST LAUGH; CAPTURES HARLEM STAKES

New York, May 24.—[Special.]—The consistent Ha Ha, a 3 year old Polymelian colt, won the thirty-third Harlem claiming stakes at Belmont today, going to the front soon after the start and leading all the way to win by a length. Barcelona Pete was second and Glidelia third. The victory netted the Latin stable $3,825. The odds on Ha Ha were 13 to 5.

Ha Ha ran the mile in 1:37, one of the best races of the meeting. Barcelona Pete closed fast in the stretch. There were nine starters. Steffen was never in danger with Ha Ha. Masked Knight had early speed, but the pace was too fast.

Ormesby, with Mills up, won the Sun Briar handicap by five lengths. Black Forest, an outsider, was second, passing Mr. Sponge, odds-on favorite, in the last strides. Ormesby was 4 to 1. He ran the mile in 1:38 3-5.

Cantoria, Frank Hayes' colt, won the Domino purse for 2 year olds by a head from the Glen Riddle Farm's Wedding Ring. The Lenox stable's Lucky Chance was third. Wedding Ring led for a furlong, when Workman sent Cantoria to the front. The winner closed at 3 to 1 and ran the 4½ furlongs in the fast time of :51 4-5. The record is :51.

WOMEN TRACK STARS ENTER IN C. A. A. U. MEET

Women stars of track and field are beginning to send in their entries for the Central A. A. U. track and field championships to be held at Ogden park June 18.

William C. Larson, chairman of the meet, reports that there will be large aggregations from the south park system, board of education playgrounds, and the Illinois Women's Athletic club.

Among the individual stars entered are Annette Rogers, Central A. A. U. indoor 100 yard dash champion and high jumper; Nellie Todd, hurdler and broad jumper, who has just returned from Florida, and Catherine Rutherford, who has distinguished herself in the baseball and discus throw events in previous meets.

Many girl athletes looking forward to Olympic competition are training on Sunday mornings at the Lake Shore playground under the direction of Frank Loomis, who won the 440 yard hurdle event in the 1920 Olympic games.

Two hundred members of Northwestern university's life saving corps will stage a demonstration of life saving at Patten gymnasium Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. James A. Patten, head of the Evanston chapter of the Red Cross, will be the guest of honor. Other guests will be President Walter Dill Scott, Athletic Director K. L. Wilson, and Dr. H. W. Gentles, director of first aid and life saving for Chicago.

The demonstration will be under the direction of Coach Tom Robinson, who has trained the swimmers in the life saving tests during the school year. The group will be the largest that ever took the life saving examinations in one body.

GALLANT KNIGHT AND SCHUTTE ARE CHICAGO'S CHOICE

Chicago racegoers are going to back Gallant Knight to win the Suburban handicap at Belmont Park on Monday. It was easy to make this discovery while mingling with the crowd at Washington Park yesterday.

These Chicagoans do not believe Equipoise will start in the Suburban. If he does, they don't think he can pick up 132 pounds and beat Gallant Knight, which will have 123 pounds and Jockey Schutte on his back.

Grapevine reports have it that Equipoise will dodge his heavy weight packing duties in the Suburban and make his next start in Chicago, probably in the Arlington Gold cup, a weight for age race, which he will get into with only 126 up. The Arlington cup probably will be run around July 16.

Gallant Knight also will have to carry 126 pounds in that race, as will Mate, White Clover II. and the other stars. Gallant Knight isn't going to linger along Broadway for any fun after he fills his Suburban handicap engagement. He's coming right back to Chicago to start in the Francis S. Peabody Memorial handicap at Washington park.

Horses continue to stream into the Washington Park course. It won't be long until the American Derby candiates will be getting down to their serious training moves. William Hurley, who trains the western division of the E. R. Bradley stable, believes Burgoo King, the Derby and Preakness winner, may arrive here some time next week. Mose Goldblatt of the western C. V. Whitney forces expects Top Flight in soon after the running of the American Coaching club Oaks at Belmont.

There was a big shipment of horses unloaded at Washington Park yesterday. It came from Churchill Downs and included the stables of C. Nuckols, A. B. Gallaher, and A. S. Lewis. Cousin Jo, the fleet Kentucky mare which bid for championship honors last season, was in the shipment.

Roscoe Goose, the famous developer of jockeys, is on hand with the numerous horses in his care. Kurtsinger, James, and Elston are some of the crack riders he has developed in recent years.

MARQUETTE HAS 3 OLYMPIC HOPES IN MIDWAY MEET

Marquette university's track team, which numbers one prospective American Olympic man and two Canadian Olympic team members, will come to Stagg Field Saturday for a quadrangular meet with Chicago, Loyola, and Illinois State Normal.

Ralph Metcalfe, Negro sprinter of Marquette, who twice this season has tied the world's record of 0:09 5-10 in the 100 yard dash, will be the outstanding performer. Metcalfe, who ran for Tilden Tech of Chicago, will get his strongest competition from John Brooks, Negro sophomore who has been the Maroon team's most consistent individual point winner.

Jack Walter, Marquette captain, was a member of the 1928 Canadian Olympic team. He has run the mile in 4:17, but until recently has been handicapped by injuries. Pete Walter, also a 1928 Canadian Olympic middle distance man, likewise has been slowed up by injuries.

Women Play for City Cue Title Tonight

Three teams will meet tonight at Mussey's Wabash avenue billiard room to decide the Chicago women's pocket billiard team championship. The teams, each the holder of a sectional title, survived more than three months of elimination play, in which more than 200 women competed. They are the Pioneer Recreation, western sectional champions; Roseland Recreation, southern sectional champions, and Bensinger-Congress, the central sectional titleholders.

Pioneer won the western title by defeating the Neva, Samuelson, and Schueneman Recreation teams last Sunday night. Roseland defeated the Stevenson-Schalk team for the southern crown, while Bensinger-Congress triumphed over the Mussey and Kieckhefer teams to gain the central title.

The lineups for tonight's games follow: Pioneer—Miss Eleonor Heine, Miss Hilda Stowell, Mrs. Kitty Bree, and Mrs. Peggy Winek. Roseland—Miss Irene Brosius, Miss Juanita Fry, Mrs. Francis Fancher, and Mrs. Grace Ballard. Bensinger-Congress—Mrs. Bert Ames, Mrs. Mary Bendfelt, Mrs. Dell M. Dennis, and Mrs. Maud Konen.

The tournament will be a round robin with all games at ten points. There will be a trophy for each competing team, while each player will receive a medal from the National Billiard association. The winning team likely will meet the New York championship team next month or early in the fall.

FRESH MONEY? BETTERS NEVER FAIL TO HAVE IT

admission to the New York tracks are much higher than those charged even in Chicago, where the racing is far superior and the gambling facilities are open and reasonably honest. It is his proposal that the bookmakers be licensed or, anyway, acknowledged; that the admission fees be reduced, if not abolished, and that the bookmakers provide the purses for the races.

It's Fault of Tracks.

"The price of admission keeps thousands of people away from the tracks and drives them to the hundreds of poolrooms which are crowded to capacity every day," says he. "These rooms are under no form of regulation. For the most part they are hidden away, filled with sweating crowds seeking a little action for the few dollars which they can scrape together.

"It is a situation which could be corrected at once by the men who own the race tracks. Every one of these filthy joints has other forms of gambling, such as craps and stuss, to bleed the customers, and as these games are run they are a simple form of larceny. None of them lay the proper odds at craps.

"These places could not survive on the patronage of the few professionals who frequent them daily to chisel out a meager living by catching a price maker out of line. The real producers are enticed there because, owing to the high rates of admission to the tracks, there are no better surroundings in which to make a bet."

One's heart bleeds for the unfortunates who are practically dragged into the poolrooms and robbed by dishonest dealers of craps and stuss, but it is a relief nevertheless to know that, poor as they are, they somehow manage to come up with their dues every day.

Gophers Lighten Penalty Against 1932 Grid Leader

Minneapolis, Minn., May 24.—[Special.]—Walter Hass, Bristow, Ia., captain elect of the University of Minnesota football team, whose graduation requirements were raised 15 credits when he was alleged to have taken part in a recent campus political disturbance, was told today that the penalty has been reduced to five credits by President L. D. Coffman.

The penalty against George McPartlin, Bemidji, Minn., campus boxing champion, who also was assessed 15 credits, was revoked. Hass and McPartlin attended a political meeting. During the meeting acid was poured in a campus ballot box, burning five students. Six students were suspended by President Coffman and four were assessed extra credits.

545 AT LOYOLA ON TENNIS AND BASEBALL TEAMS

Baseball and basketball are the two most popular sports on the "sports-for-all" athletic program at Loyola university this year. A report issued yesterday by the intramural association shows that 26 teams or 290 students are playing for the baseball championship, while the basketball tournament drew 31 teams or 255 contestants.

According to the report, 1,325 students participated in the fifteen different events on the program. Tennis was third to baseball and basketball in popularity, drawing 128 contestants in the singles and doubles tournaments.

"WHY..UH-H"
just an old mannish custom

FIVE cent cigars have been such a pig-in-a-poke so long that "WHY . . . UH-H" has become a part of the language. When he said "WHY . . . UH-H" it was the sure sign that the cash customer in front of the counter was still on a treasure hunt with no cues to guide him. Brand after brand at stand after stand were just so many blind alleys.

But the chase is over! The cues have been found! Put the words "New" and "Bachelor" together and they will lead you straight to the treasure box. Once you've found New Bachelor you'll find your way back to the same box again and again. New Bachelor just has that come again mellow mildness that calls for frequent encores. And it's all done by QUALITY. So simple!

CHICAGO GROUP CALLED TO HELP RESTORE CREDIT

Treasury Head Here Today.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Under the guidance of Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury, bankers and industrialists of Chicago and the middle west today will form a committee to study methods of checking and counteracting the deflation of credit that has progressed for more than two years. The personnel of this committee, which will coöperate with similar committees in other federal reserve districts, will be selected at a meeting called by Gov. James B. McDougal of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

In addition to Secretary Mills, the meeting will be attended by George M. Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company; Frederick H. Rawson, chairman of the First National and First Union Trust and Savings bank; Joseph E. Otis and Philip R. Clarke, respectively, chairman and president of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company; Solomon A. Smith, president of the Northern Trust company; Albert H. Harris, chairman of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and a number of Chicago business leaders.

Others to Participate.

While a number of these Chicagoans will serve on the committee, it was reported that the states and principal cities in the Seventh federal reserve district also will be liberally represented. Thus several representative bankers and business men are expected to be chosen from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and southern Illinois.

Chicago bankers expressed belief yesterday that the first step of the middle west committee will be to coöperate with plans being formed by the committee formed last week in New York and comprising well known eastern bankers and the heads of a number of the country's largest industrial corporations. Thus far the New York committee has made no announcement of its plans, although there have been suggestions that the first endeavor would be a broad movement for buying bonds that are legal investments for banks. This would have the effect of stimulating the bond market and perhaps other securities markets, thereby tending to restore confidence in security prices and checking continued liquidation.

Traylor to Attend.

The Chicago meeting today also will be attended by Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, if he returns from Washington in time. He has been attending a joint meeting of the federal advisory council, on which he is the representative of the Chicago reserve district, and the federal reserve board. The meeting was for the purpose of studying financial and economic conditions of the country, together with the reserve board's program of expanding credit through the purchase of government securities.

NEWS CONFLICTING

General news of trade and industry was conflicting yesterday. The weekly statistics on the movement of commodities by railroad revealed another decline, bringing the movement to the lowest level thus far this year. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended May 14 totaled 517,667 cars, according to the American Railway association. This marked a decline of 16,010 cars from the preceding week and also was 229,390 below a year ago and 411,092 below two years ago.

Miscellaneous freight totaled 192,563 cars, 108,864 cars under the corresponding week last year; merchandise, 131,562, decrease 42,690; grain and grain products, 28,526, decrease 7,966; coal, 73,543, decrease 37,825; forest products, 18,797, decrease 15,070; ore, 2,593, decrease 9,282; coke, 3,009 cars, decrease 3,540, and live stock 17,074, decrease 4,153.

Oil Production Declines.

Petroleum production showed a further moderate decline last week. The daily average gross crude oil output totaled 2,225,350 barrels a day, a decline of 12,050 barrels a day, according to the American Petroleum institute. Refineries operated at 64.6 per cent of capacity last week, compared with 64.6 per cent in the preceding week. Gasoline stocks decreased 95,000 barrels, although still standing at 44,703,000 barrels.

U. S. TREASURY JUNE FINANCING MAY BE NEAR ONE BILLION

New York, May 24.—(AP)—Due to the still mounting deficit, United States treasury financing for June is likely to amount to as much as $1,000,000,000, bond dealers estimated today.

Such a total, they said, would include the refunding of $324,000,000 of 2¾ per cent certificates of deposit due June 15, with the remaining $750,000,000 representing new money.

The new offerings, announcement of which normally would be expected about a week before June 15, the offering day, probably would consist entirely of short term issues, it was said. It is possible, however, that the treasury may extend the maturity on part of the total to as much as three years, in view of the low interest rates now available and the huge size of the current short term debt.

An interest rate of about 3 per cent could be obtained on an offering of three year notes, based on the present market, and two year notes could be offered on a 2½ per cent basis, dealers estimated.

Travel by Air Increases as Revenue Falls

BY HUGH SEXTON.

Air transport, only six years old in the United States, still is growing lustily from month to month despite current business conditions, and there is no indication that the expansion will be curtailed in the near future, according to reports made by the operators to the Postoffice and Commerce departments.

Increases are reflected in the number of passengers and pounds of express carried. There has been a slight reduction in the volume of air mail. Miles flown on all the air lines, and passenger miles, that is, one passenger flown one mile, are increasing steadily. The number of operating companies is being reduced from year to year through consolidations.

Air Travel Decreasing.

During the first quarter, the number of passengers carried on all lines totaled 84,266, compared to a total of 68,000 for the same period last year. The number of operating companies has declined rapidly. In January this year there were 33, in February 31, and in March 30. On March 1, 1931, there were 38 companies in the United States.

The number of passenger miles flown, a more accurate gauge of actual revenue to the air lines from passenger traffic, increased from 16,400,000 in the first quarter of last year to 20,006,992 in the first quarter of this year. Meanwhile, total miles flown on all the air lines increased from 8,200,000 to 10,545,026 for the like periods.

Another revenue source that is as yet undeveloped in comparison to passenger and mail traffic on the air lines is express, which increased in total poundage from 100,000 in the first quarter of last year to 186,529 in the first quarter of this year. The volume of air mail carried declined slightly from 2,054,661 pounds to 2,022,350 pounds for the like periods.

Passenger Fares Cut.

Due to decreases of passenger fares on the air lines, revenues from passenger traffic are lower for the first quarter than for the same period of last year. This has resulted from intense competition for passenger traffic by the air lines because of the constantly declining rate of pay received for transporting the mail.

Computed from the average fare rate per mile on all air lines in the United States on Jan. 1, 1931, which was $0.083, the total income from passenger traffic in the first quarter was $1,361,200. The total income for the first quarter of this year from passenger fares was $1,348,471.26, based on the average fare rate per mile of $0.0674, in effect the first of the year.

Income from mail, computed from the income average of $2.19 per pound of contract mail during 1931, declined from $4,499,707.59 in the first quarter of last year to $4,428,946.50 in the first quarter of this year. Income from express could not be determined accurately, because there is no average rate, but it is not believed to have increased much.

Tendency not Surprising.

This picture of decreasing revenues for the air lines is in line with the general trend. However, the rapidity with which the volume of passenger, mail and express traffic is increasing indicates that revenues will start to increase again, probably before the end of the year. Passenger fares on all domestic lines are now only slightly in excess of rail plus Pullman, and are no longer excessive when considered from the point of time saved for the traveler. Express rates have been reduced to develop volume, and volume is responding. Rates paid for the transport of air mail are decreasing gradually, year by year, while the volume grows. The growing poundage brings in more revenue and as a consequence the air mail deficit is expected by the large operators to be wiped out, when the amount the government pays for carrying the mail no longer exceeds what it receives from air mail postage.

Pounds of freight and express carried annually by the transport lines has increased in six years from 3,555 to 1,151,348, while pounds of domestic mail carried annually by contractors has increased in the same period from 269,671 to 9,097,411. Persons employed in air transport have increased in five years from 462 to 5,645.

WHY EUROPEANS DRAW MILLIONS OF U. S. GOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—The vast reservoir of gold that accumulated in the United States during the war and the post war boom has been steadily drained away in recent months. Within the last eight months approximately 625 million dollars worth of the yellow metal has been lost to this country. Europe has withdrawn considerably more than this sum from the United States, but such withdrawals have been partly offset by heavy gold imports from South America and Japan.

The flight of gold from the United States has resulted from both economic and political causes, just as those operated a few years ago to send gold to this country. The real outgo of gold began last October following the abandonment of the gold standard by Great Britain. In that month, European nations took nearly 338 million dollars in gold from the United States by converting their balances in this country. The movement was economic, as the European central banks sought to make good part of their balances that were "frozen" in England.

Tide Turns in Winter.

In November and December, gold withdrawals from the United States practically ceased and a sizeable return flow occurred. Thus, this country gained more than 146 million dollars in gold in those two months.

But beginning with this year, the withdrawals of gold were resumed. This renewed flight of gold from the United States was caused more from political developments than economic circumstances. With the American congress in session, various inflation proposals began to crop up. These were coupled with the threat of heavily increased taxation, particularly the "soak the rich" radical proposals, and the protracted wrangle over measures to balance the national budget.

The congressional embroglio caused alarm among Europeans concerning their balances in this country. That anxiety was accentuated by raids on dollar exchange staged by cliques of European speculators. Thus, despite considerable imports from Latin America and the orient, the United States lost nearly $75,000,000 in gold in January, about $90,600,000 in February, nearly $25,000,000 in March, and around $30,000,000 in April. Thus far this month, more than $100,000,000 has been withdrawn.

It will be seen that gold has flowed out of the United States at an average rate of $20,000,000 a week for the last eight months. The rate has been speeded up in the last few weeks while congress has been dallying with budgetary measures. In fact, the gold export movement has been about as heavy as possible within the limitations of shipping and insurance on shipments.

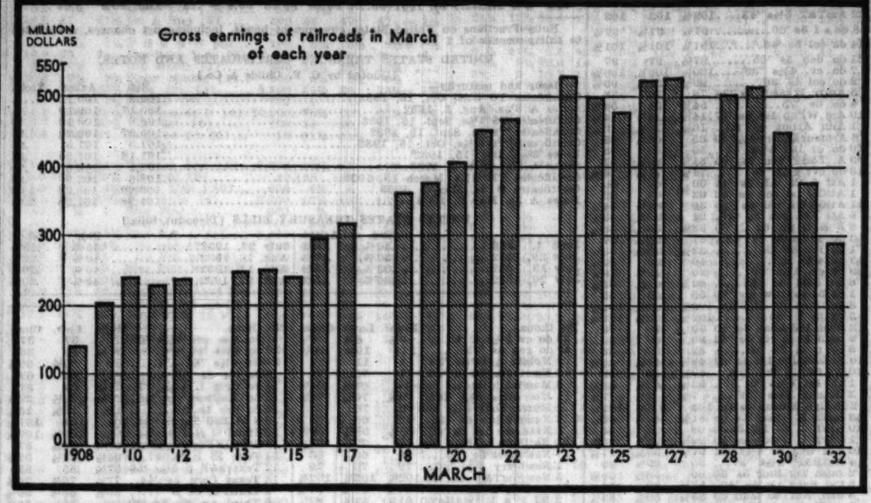

More Withdrawals Likely.

Judged by exchange rates for the European gold currencies, the flight of gold from the United States has net yet run its course, although it is expected the heavy drain will slacken in the near future. American bankers estimate that European balances in this country that could be converted into gold are not more than 700 million dollars, of which European nations need to keep about 500 million dollars here for ordinary banking and commercial transactions.

Thus, these European countries could still withdraw around 200 million dollars. But whether this additional sum is withdrawn depends largely, according to bankers, on the outcome of measures now pending in congress. Any tendency to adopt legislation looking to serious currency inflation or to resort to bond issues to balance the government's expenditures would hasten further gold exports, while any measures to bolster confi-

UNITED PUB. UTILITIES WILL PAY INTEREST MAY 31, IT'S ASSERTED

Interest on the $14,505,800 first lien bonds of the United Public Utilities company, which defaulted April 1, will be paid May 31, according to indications yesterday. The company is a subsidiary of United Public Service company which in turn is a subsidiary of Middle West Utilities company.

Samual W. White, receiver for the company, yesterday obtained permission from Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, sitting in East St. Louis, to pay the interest. The amount to be paid on the series A, B, and C bonds totals $418,784. This company defaulted on its bonds a few weeks prior to the appointment of the receivers for Middle West.

KREUGER & TOLL BANKRUPT; ITS OFFICER QUIZZED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 24.—Petitions in bankruptcy were filed today by Kreuger & Toll and two affiliated companies under a recently enacted feature of the bankruptcy law and request was made of the government to cancel the moratorium granted in March. That request will be considered at a cabinet meeting Friday.

Immediately after the petitions were filed the police acted. Nils Ahlstroem, managing director of Kreuger & Toll, was closely questioned by the chief of the criminal investigation group. He was not arrested, it was stated tonight, but was detained over night by his own consent. Another director, Erik Sjoestroehm, also was to have been brought before the police, but his physicians and other doctors warned that he is in a dangerous condition and cannot be questioned at this time.

THREE INSULL UTILITIES ASK TO SELL BONDS

Operating Units Seek $70,000,000.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Plans of the three large Insull operating companies for meeting their midyear debt maturities took definite form yesterday when application was made by the three concerns for permission to sell an aggregate of $70,000,000 of bonds.

The applications were filed with the Illinois commerce commission by the Commonwealth Edison company, Peoples Gas Light and Coke company and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. All of the companies propose to issue long term issues for the purpose of retiring maturing obligations and reimbursing the corporate treasuries for expenditures already made.

The Edison company sought authority to sell $18,000,000 of first mortgage bonds, series C, to run for thirty years and to bear interest of 5½ per cent. The purpose of the issue, as described in the application, is to finance extensions, additions and improvements in the company's properties and for the purchase of additional property. Part of the expenditures have already been made and proceeds will be used to reimburse the company's treasury for these advances.

Millions in Securities Due.

The company's midyear debt maturity consists of a $20,000,000 issue of 3½ per cent notes which fall due June 30. The interest rate on the new bond issue is considerably higher than on the maturing obligation.

Public Service of Northern Illinois asked permission to issue $32,000,000 of its first lien and refunding mortgage bonds. The bonds will mature in 20 years and will bear interest at 6½ per cent. The company's maturities in the next three months aggregate only $17,300,000. Of these maturities, $15,000,000 are gold notes on which the company is paying interest of only 4 per cent. Proceeds of the issue, in excess of the refunding needs, will be used to finance purchase of property. Some of the expenditures have already been made by the company.

Peoples Gas Status.

The Peoples Gas company proposed to sell $20,000,000 of first mortgage and refunding bonds, series C. The bonds will also be a long term issue running for 25 years. The interest on the bonds will be 5½ per cent.

The company has a $15,000,000 issue of 3½ per cent notes to redeem July 30. Funds realized on the sale will be used to refund the note issue and for other corporate purposes.

Updike Grain Case Stirs Up Sharp Contest

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday continued hearings on charges that the Updike Grain company, a subsidiary of the government financed Farmers' National Grain corporation, had violated the rules of the board's clearing house.

After an evening session, it was announced the hearing would be resumed this afternoon. Then arguments of counsel will be given. No hint was forthcoming as to what the verdict of the directors will be. It is possible that the Updike concern, if found guilty, may be suspended or expelled from the clearing house.

Bought by Farmers' National.

The Updike Grain company, which has held a membership in the clearing house since 1900, was purchased two years ago by the Farmers' National. A year ago the Board of Trade adopted a rule that in future only individuals and partnerships may be accepted as new members of the clearing house. Under this provision the Farmers' National recently was denied a membership. The Updike company is the trading concern for the Farmers' National and the Updike officials maintain that the present prosecution is being carried out to get rid of that firm, because of its connections and not because of violations of Board of Trade rules.

Enmity between the government financed concerns and their supporters on the one hand, and the Board of Trade on the other, was given vocal expression yesterday.

Huff Replies to Carey.

C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers National, and Representative Strong of Kansas, severely criticized President Peter B. Carey of the grain exchange for a statement Carey made Saturday in Washington, D. C., to the effect that if the federal farm board were abolished, he could name six Board of Trade members who would dispose of the government's holdings of wheat in a short time and at prices higher than those prevailing today.

"Mr. Carey selects an opportune time," Mr. Huff declared, "like a tribal medicine man who beat his drum and brought the sun out from an eclipse. Diminishing supplies and current crop conditions indicate a much smaller production than last year and the probability of advancing prices."

Mr. Huff added that the Grain Stabilization corporation's holdings now are about one third of the commercial stocks of wheat and are not a principal factor in depressing prices. Mr. Carey's six men, he maintained, could show their efficiency by getting rid of the two thirds now in the hands of private holders.

Strong Upholds Huff.

"For the first time in history," he averred, "wheat prices in Chicago are higher than in Liverpool, which before congress passed the marketing act always had prices 11 to 14 cents above Chicago."

Representative Strong also urged that the board of trade members get rid of the surplus wheat.

"The Chicago Board of Trade," he said, "has earned, from its 75 years of history, the notoriety of being the world's greatest wheat gambling rendezvous."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—The stock market broke out of its rut on the selling side with something of a vengeance today and values went toppling from a fraction to 2 or 3 points in all departments. New lows for the seemingly interminable decline were the rule everywhere. There were reports that the banks were liquidating rather freely once more.

News Against Markets.

Most of the news was against the market, but the general run of it was not heavy enough to cause any wild alarm among the rank and file. The weekly car loadings report, for instance, was a mite more discouraging than had been forecast, the decrease being quite substantial, and some selling on that account was to be expected in the carrier department.

Reviews indicating that the outlook for the motor trade is not exactly what it might be probably influenced some selling of automobile shares. Washington uncertainties, especially the continued delay in framing a suitable tax bill, weighed against the market as heavily as usual, and it may be the approach of the end of the first German moratorium and other factors of the so-called European situation contributed something of despondency to those who look afield for causes of worry when the domestic list has been exhausted.

Electric Shares Heavily Sold.

Electric power and light issues were about the weakest of the lot taken as a group. Shares of companies belonging to the Electric Bond and Share sphere of influence were particularly prominent as selling targets. More than a dozen issues of the section all told, including preferreds, sold from 2 to 5 points lower to new low levels. Consolidated Gas gave up nearly 2 points, Public Service 2⅛, and Peoples Gas an even point. The 6 per cent preferreds of American Power and Light, an Electric Bond and Share affiliate, dropped nearly 4 points, and the 7 per cent preferreds of Electric Power and Light of the same group fell back nearly 6.

In the tobacco department Reynolds B was one of the most active stocks on the whole list, accounting for nearly 10 per cent of the total turnover in the earlier trading.

Both Politics and Trade Provide Reasons.

dence in American public finances would encourage foreign capital to remain in this country and even to flow back again.

There is no doubt that the flight of gold from the United States has shrunk our credit base. It is an anomaly that European withdrawals of gold have taken place in spite of the fact that the United States has maintained a favorable balance in its international trade. However, one of the influences that has favored gold exports is the fact that European nations have been relieved for nearly a year from building up balance in this country in order to make payments on their war and post war debts owed to this country. If they had been forced to make interest and principal payments, these would have offset considerably their withdrawals of gold.

How Bankers View Situation.

American bankers, while chagrined over the flight of gold, still insist that foreign withdrawals of capital cannot force the United States off the gold standard or even impair its finances. This country still holds upwards of 4 billions, 200 million dollars in gold, which is more than one-third of the world's stock of monetary gold, estimated at 11 billion 300 million dollars. The United States has a "free gold" supply of about 1 billion 300 million dollars, this being that portion of total gold reserves in excess of what is needed as a reserve against our paper currency. This "free gold," therefore, is nearly double the amount of total remaining foreign balances.

Statistics on the gold movement from the United States shows that the bulk of exports has gone to France, which has withdrawn around 350 million dollars. Lesser amounts have been taken by Belgium, Holland, and Switzerland. In addition these countries still hold about 275 million dollars of "earmarked" gold in this country, which is gold set aside and stored pending the decision of the owner countries as to whether they will ship it or restore it to American circulation.

Both France and Belgium are among the largest war debtors to the United States and both have been aided by the moratorium. France is the second largest holder of gold in the world, with a gold stock of about 3 billion 100 million dollars.

Gold Expert Explains.

One explanation of the flight of gold from the United States was given the other day by Rene Leon, former head of the bullion department of the GuarantyT rust company and now adviser to the congressional coinage committee.

"Gold is leaving the United States," he said, "because the credit expansion policy of this country is being established at a time when trade is contracting because of a fall in the world price level as expressed in dollars. Therefore, instead of it being a credit expansion, as it was intended, it becomes a currency expansion and throws doubt upon the ultimate redeemability of the gold of the dollar.

"This in turn causes weakness of the dollar in the international exchange market and induces the taking down of balances by foreigners and flight of capital by nationals. Foreign balances in this country can be largely increased by flight of capital on the part of Americans which will cause an outward flow of gold far in excess of earmarkings in this country."

GLASS FAVORS TEMPORARY ACT TO BOOST DOLLAR

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] today suggested a temporary currency inflation based on government bonds as a substitute for the Goldsborough bill to stabilize the dollar on a 1926 purchasing level.

Terming the Goldsborough bill "futile and ineffective," Senator Glass urged the senate banking and currency committee to consider some substitute that would be "feasible."

Though not committed to such a plan, the Virginia senator said he had in mind a scheme of "diffusive inflation" whereby some series of outstanding government bonds might be designated as eligible collateral for a currency issue in the same manner that the Panama 2s are so designated.

As a result of the discussion the committee, which met in executive session, voted 7 to 5 to postpone further discussion of the Goldsborough bill until next week. At least seven of the committee, including Chairman Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.], are understood to favor the Goldsborough bill. The more conservative senators prefer some such plan as that suggested by Senator Glass.

Senator Glass was unwilling to give "any seven men" the power of controlling currency and credit, as the Goldsborough bill contemplates. He begged the committee to remember that increased commodity prices would not bring a universal benefit.

"The plan suggested," he said of his idea, "purely to tide over the existing emergency, would enable every national bank to utilize its holdings of United States bonds for such controlled inflationary purposes as current business would justify, and it would put national banks in all sections upon equal terms in the matter of expansion."

UNION CARBIDE CUTS DIVIDEND RATE TO $1.20

New York, May 24.—Directors of the Union Carbide and Carbon company today ordered a quarterly dividend of 30 cents. Three months ago the company declared a dividend of 50 cents. Today's action reduces the anual rate from $2 to $1.20 a share.

Warner company (cement, sand and gravel) deferred action on the quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the $7 first preferred cumulative stock now due.

BRITISH ADVISE U. S. "KEEP COOL!" AS GOLD DEPARTS

Feel Danger Point Need Not Be Reached.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 24.—The recent growth in withdrawals of gold from the United States is beginning to attract the anxious attention of British bankers, but leading financial experts with whom this correspondent has talked feel that so far the danger point has not been reached and that it need not be reached if the American people keep their heads.

Recent withdrawals are symptoms of a failing European trust in the American dollar, it is generally held here. As far as can be learned, little, if any, has come to England. The most recent withdrawals are said to be largely German dollar balances.

Germans Remove Gold.

When the German crisis became acute, all German capitalists who were able to do so transferred their liquid funds to the United States. Now that the dollar is threatened, they are removing them again, but are not bringing them home to Germany. Most of the funds are said to be going to Switzerland and Holland, where the currency is still above suspicion.

Holland, Switzerland, France and Belgium are also reported to be withdrawing their dollar deposits and placing them in what they think are safer quarters. What the British bankers fear is a panic in America which may lead American capitalists to send liquid funds to Europe. So far there has been no indication of this, but if it does come, then it is believed that America is in for a serious crisis.

British bankers are not anxious for any of this gold to come to England. One important factor in the British collapse a year ago was the sudden withdrawal of foreign gold deposits from British banks. The crisis was unforeseen and therefore nothing was done to mitigate or avert it in advance.

Benefit of Experience.

America now has had the benefit of British experience if she will only take it. A crisis in America has been talked about for months and the bankers and financiers have had time to prepare for it. The reason British bankers do not wish large foreign gold deposits here is that they might prove embarrassing again in case of sudden withdrawals.

It is believed in financial circles here that the warning by R. B. Bennett, Canadian prime minister, a few days ago of an impending grave crisis on the American continent referred to the possibility of a flight from the dollar, similar in kind, if not degree, to the flight from the British pound, the French franc and the German mark at various times since the close of the war.

GOLD TO ENGLAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—The outflow of gold from this market, which has been running toward countries already surfeited with gold, turned today toward England and Germany, the two nations which suffered most severely last year from a shortage of metallic reserves. A total of $5,219,200 gold was withdrawn from the New York Federal Reserve bank for shipment to the two countries, $3,919,200 consigned to England and $1,300,000 to Germany.

Gold earmarked for foreign account was increased $3,498,500. Imports consisted of $81,800 from India and $13,300 from South Africa. In addition, receipt was announced of $107,300 gold late Monday.

F. W. Woolworth Company.

I would appreciate your opinion of Woolworth [F. W.] company stock. —E. M. Z.

F. W. Woolworth company has grown in the last 51 years from one store to 1,910. Expansion has been almost entirely from earnings.

This company, selling articles in the five and ten cent class, is not affected sharply by changes in general business conditions. During periods of generally dull business more people are likely to seek cheaper priced articles, and, as prices decline, more articles sell within the company's price range.

Paralleling the increase in the number of stores, sales rose steadily from 1920 through 1929. Although the number of stores has increased since 1929, sales have dropped. This has been due to increased competition from similar chains and local merchants, and the necessity of acquiring less desirable sites in expanding.

The decline in sales has apparently been counterbalanced by closer control of expenses and increased income from subsidiaries in Great Britain and Germany.

Sales of 20 cent articles in the Woolworth chain started in 100 stores on March 1, 1932. If this experiment should be successful the management contemplates extending it to the entire chain.

Sales for the first four months of 1932 were $78,795,000, a 6.40 per cent decrease from sales of $84,180,000 for the first four months of 1931. Sales for 1931 were $282,670,000, against $289,239,000 for 1930, $303,047,000 for 1929, and $287,319,000 for 1928.

Profit of $9,977,000 from sale of a part interest in its British subsidiary brought net income for 1931 to $41,349,000, or $4.24 per common share [excluding reserves for fluctuations in foreign exchange]. Net for 1930 was $34,736,000, or $3.56 per common share. Net for 1929 was $35,664,000, against $35,386,000 for 1928 and $35,350,000 for 1927.

At the close of 1931 current assets were $60,322,000 and current liabilities were $6,753,000. Cash alone was ties were $6,753,000. Working capital was $53,568,000, against $51,829,000 the year before.

Funded debt consists of $3,341,000 purchase money mortgages on real estate. There are outstanding 9,750,000 shares of $10 par common stock. Dividends total $2.40 per year. An extra of $2 per share was paid in 1931. The stock is high grade.

TAXES SEND TWO MORE OLD TIMERS INTO OBLIVION

Wreckers Demolish West Side Corner.

Ever mounting taxes are sending two more old time Chicago structures into oblivion via the wreckers' pick and shovel. The six story Disston building, at the northeast corner of West Washington and North Jefferson streets, erected more than four decades ago by Henry Disston Sons of Philadelphia, said to be the largest saw manufacturers in the world, is being torn down by the R. A. Goldman Wrecking company.

Adjoining the Disston building on the east was a four story old timer, with forty-four feet of frontage, owned by Reinhold Reschardt of 10 South La Salle street, which was confronted with the same situation; taxes constantly mounting until they more than wiped out the decreasing income. Then the owner, as in the case of the Disston building, discovered it would be wiser to wreck than operate, and this has been done.

Corner to Be Leased.

"We hope, when the old building is wrecked, to be able to pay our taxes and have a little over," said J. C. Mitchell, manager of Henry Disston Sons, Inc., an Illinois corporation. "We're going to join forces with Mr. Reschardt, our neighbor on the east, and together lease the corner for an old station."

The combined property fronts sixty-six feet on West Washington street and 112 feet on North Jefferson street. The Disston concern moved some time ago from the Disston building, now being wrecked, to 111 North Jefferson street, just across the alley to the north.

For the third time in the last three years the renting and management division of the Chicago real estate board will hold its annual outing at Hillcrest farm, the country home of the Fred and Henry Lorish families in the Palos hills. The open air festivities, both gastronomic and athletic, will be held in the open air. The date is Wednesday, June 8, and the affair is by invitation only.

There'll be baseball, horseshoe pitching, foot races, etc., and a barbecue luncheon and dinner. Jacob O. Trautwein is chairman of the committee in charge. The other members are: James W. Belanger, Felix Fantus and William G. Booth.

GERMAN SHIP LINES MAY CUT CAPITAL DOWN TO ONE-THIRD

BERLIN, May 24.—Shareholders of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship lines will reduce their capital by two-thirds under a scheme for financial reorganization announced today by the board.

After canceling their own shares now held [in the case of the Hamburg-American line amounting to $95,000 and in the case of the Lloyd company to $2,738,000] the Hamburg line would have $12,666,000 and the Lloyd line $11,758,000.

The Hamburg-American company would leave $326,000 in preferred shares untouched, whereas the Lloyd company would convert $195,000 of preferred shares into ordinary stock.

For depreciation of ships and properties the Hamburg company applies $36,596,000 and the Lloyd company $33,456,000. This would be made possible largely through calling upon reserves and moneys received from released American properties.

OIL LEADERS TALK BUSINESS WITH RUSSIANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—How much oil Soviet Russia will have as a surplus to export in the next two or three years and to what restrictions its representatives will agree as to exports were discussed today in the Waldorf-Astoria.

Charles E. Arnott, official spokesman for the American group, said they had met with the soviet representatives, but did not reach any definite agreement. Some of the points being considered, he said, have been cleared up. That was encouraging, he added, and there will be another meeting with the Russians on Friday.

Russian Program Large.

Russia has an ambitious program for the production of petroleum and its products in the remainder of this year, and it has been estimated in the oil indurtry that soviet production will reach 43,000,000 tons next year.

With these figures before them it is generally considered that the European-American group is desirous of reaching an agreement with the Russians that will limit the exports from the soviet republic and obviate any flood of distress oil which might be dumped on a market which will have trouble enough to absorb available supplies.

Along with the discussions about the quantities of oil to be exported by Russia and the price at which that oil will be sold to other distributing agencies the conference aims at the elimination of a good deal of duplication of effort in marketing, particularly in the markets of the far east.

The attitude of the Russians has been one of a desire to coöperate ever since the first of the preliminary conferences were held three weks or more ago. That definite agreements will be reached which will result in the stabilization of markets abroad which have been demoralized is the hope that has been expressed officially.

New Marland Oil Co.

F. W. Marland, prominent oil operator and former head of the Marland Oil company which he founded, has organized a new company to be known as the Marland Oil company with a capitalization of $1,000,000, according to reports from Tulsa, Okla., today. A charter has been granted.

Report of his latest entry into the industry, after having withdrawn from active operations more than three years ago, stirs up much speculation among persons who recall the active career of Mr. Marland, especially in view of the numerous rumors circulated since October, 1928, when he quit the presidency of the corporation he had founded. Shortly after his resignation, the Marland Oil company was merged with one or two other units and the name changed to the Continental Oil company.

COTTON RANGE LOWER

Cotton market was largely a professional affair, with a fair amount of business. The break in grains and stocks led to commission house and professional selling. While there was a moderate rally at one time, the close was around the lowest of the day, with net losses on futures in Chicago 12@15 points; in other markets they were 7@15 points. Spots lost 15 points, with New York and New Orleans 5.75c; Galveston, 5.60c, and Houston, 5.55c.

The movement of American cotton to foreign mills does not suggest any need of revised ideas of foreign consumption, but the unprecedented contraction of mill operations in the United States suggests that recent estimates of consumption for the current season may possibly prove somewhat too high, as indicated by reports of the New York Cotton Exchange service. The domestic mill situation is said to have a downward trend, with sales of cloths the past week below the greatly restricted output in both finished and unfinished goods. England, France, Germany, and Italy all cable to the same general effect that sales of yarn and cloth are currently running below the present rate of output. Trade sentiment is mixed, with the feeling in certain quarters that should wheat prices continue to advance cotton may do better. Prices follow:

OCTOBER EGGS LOWER

October eggs declined again on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, selling pressure bringing in a ¼c decline. May storage packed dropped ¼c. Butter futures scored slight gains, closing ⅛c@¼c higher. The early statistical reports in eggs brought fairly active selling into October at the opening. This pressure was eased somewhat by reports showing the Chicago receipts under last year. However, the total net into storage movement in the four markets was 6,300 cases heavier than last year and selling increased at the close. New selling continued heavy, but speculative buying also was present in volume. The butter news was fairly bullish, the four market shortage gaining 200,000 lbs. Buying interest increased in November. Sales: Butter, 27 cars: eggs, 55 cars Deliveries: Butter, 1 car; eggs, 6 cars. Prices follow:

MOTOR PLANT OUTPUT IS 45,470 UNITS FOR THE WEEK OF MAY 21

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 24.—Motor car production in the week ended May 21 aggregated 45,470 units, according to reliable estimates, a slight increase, 833 units, compared with output of 44,587 units in the preceding week.

Output was about 29,347 units below that of the corresponding week last year, 100,968 units under the same week of 1930, and 135,533 under the fourth week of May, 1929.

The increase in production was accounted for wholly by expansion in the rate of output at the Ford plants, which produced a total of 12,600 units, or 1,800 more than the previous week.

This stepping up of Ford output served to offset contraction indicated for some other leading producers, such as Plymouth, Studebaker, De Soto, and Chrysler. Among the few companies which were able to report slightly better production was Packard, with about a 25 per cent increase over output for the previous week.

Automobile manufacturers are still disposed to gear production closely to actual demand and reports filtering through from various centers indicate that consumer buying is still lagging in most directions.

Activity characterized yesterday's hog market. The trade was a marked contrast to recent dull sessions. All local interests swung aggressively into the buying early in the forenoon, and toward midsession large local houses were leading in best grades, paying up to $3.50, the extreme top of the market for sorted 170@210 lb averages.

The general average for the day moved up to $3.25. The price gain, however, was very slight, and together with the better action it served only to break the monotony of the market. Since prices dropped below the $4.00 line during the last week of April there have been only a half dozen rallies, most of them feeble attempts that flatten out the next day.

The trade seems unable to hold gains together long enough to work out of the rut. Plainer kinds in yesterday's "quality" market were comparatively slow, but managed to emerge without losing anything.

The coming holidays contributed to yesterday's activity in pork. Retailers anticipate a good consumer demand over the week-end and are replenishing their supplies. Wholesale prices for fresh pork loins moved up to 7½@10½c, the highest level since early in the month. Prices here were above those at eastern distributing centers.

Cattle Prices Better.

Cattle prices stiffened perceptibly when word was circulated that hogs had halted their decline and started up again. Following Monday's persistent selling when supplies were largest in recent weeks, receipts fell off abruptly. Only 5,000 cattle arrived yesterday, the smallest Tuesday of the year. A noteworthy feature, in view of this shortage, is the expansion in eastern demand the last two days.

Shipments from Chicago Monday at 5,104 were largest since January 11. The shortage of beef was further emphasized by the scarcity of weighty steers. This lack of tonnage strengthened the sellers' position. Prices were forced ahead mostly 10@15c. Taking the size of the total supply into consideration, a bigger proportion than on Monday's session reached the $7.00 line. Prime 1,157 lb. steers topped the market at $7.85 in the absence of highly finished weighty stock. This was the highest sale of the month for that weight.

Yearlings averaging 1,027 lbs reached $7.25, while the bulk of all beef steers sold within a range of $5.25@6.75. Only a small share of offerings were the kinds to sell at $5.00 and below, although a few illbred steers were reported as low as $4.00@4.50. Best cows and heifers were steady, while others weakened off a little. Calves ruled steady to strong.

Lamb Trade Mixed.

With the lamb market working onto a new crop basis, quotations are apt to be confusing until the supply of last year's crop drops out of sight during the next week or ten days. Yesterday's session was rather mixed, some kinds selling to slightly better advantage, while others ruled weak to 25c lower. The new crop showed the only decided trend, going down 25c during the day. Six carloads of springers from the western coast averaged 75 lbs. and sold to packers at $6.00, with a double deck to shippers and city butchers at $6.10.

Lambs without fleece carried good quality and held steady, but aged wool lambs were knocked down 25c. Most wool stock sold at $4.75@5.10, with shorn lambs at $4.60@5.00.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 21,000 hogs and 9,000 sheep, against 9,899 cattle, 21,331 hogs and 8,560 sheep, the previous Wednesday and 9,118 cattle, 21,133 hogs and 15,264 sheep a year ago.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A feeling of caution prevailed in the wheat trade at the close. Traders who believe that rains in the southwest have been insufficient to relieve the dry condition there expressed the opinion that the market was likely to run into good buying support if cables were higher. On the other hand there were numerous operators who said there had been enough rain in the southwest to relieve the situation. They predicted that there would be more within the next few days. Should those who sold out for profits try to reinstate their lines, prices probably would advance sharply. A marked reduction in the short interest has taken place of late, and the market is said to need new buying and the spread of the bad crop news to keep prices moving upward.

An evening-up of trades between wheat and corn furnished a large part of the speculative business in the latter grain, but outside business continues light. Corn specialists, however, are not inclined to the bear side so long as wheat shows strength and an upward tendency. Country holders were noticeable for their increased sales to-arrive.

A grain man from Vermont says they are having about an average trade in grain and feedstuffs, but buying is not in excess of current wants.

RECESSION IN LARD

Moderate liquidation with poor buying support, combined with the break in stocks and grains, carried lard prices off 5@17½c at the last, with May suffering the smallest loss. Bellies were not traded in. Cash business was fair in both lard and meats. The south continued to take dry salted bellies, and the ham trade is also said to be good. Cash lard was 3.90c; loose, 3.30c, and leaf, 3.25c. Short ribs were 4.25c and bellies 4.00c. Hogs were firm to 10c higher. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, May 24.—(AP)—Raw sugar was unchanged today. Local refiners continued to show interest at 2.58c, but there was nothing in nearby positions available below 2.62c and the only sale reported was 27,000 bags of Philippines for July-August shipment to an outport refiner at 2.69c. Futures were irregular and prices fluctuated within a range of 1 to 2 points except the spot month, with the market closing net unchanged to 2 points lower. Trading in the current May position expired today and after opening at an advance of 7 points or at .61c, on a little belated covering that position sold off to .56c or back to within 2 points of the previous close with the last sale at the latter price. Sales aggregated only 8,200 tons. Prices follow:

RAIN IN WHEAT BELT DAMPENS TRADERS' ARDOR

Grain Prices Drop After Previous Gains.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Sufficient rain fell in parts of Kansas and Nebraska to dampen the ardor of local and eastern bulls on the wheat market yesterday, and the selling which followed the precipitation was nearly as persistent as had been the buying on Monday. A weakened technical position incident to the advance of 6½@7⅛c from the low of last week was disclosed on the way down. Old July, which touched 61⅝c on Monday, was down to 59⅝c yesterday, with numerous stop loss orders uncovered on the way down.

Buying against bids and by shorts checked the break and brought about a fair rally from the inside figures, but the close on wheat was 1⅛@1½c lower. May finished at 58⅛@58⅝c; old July, 59⅞@60c; old September, 61⅝@61⅞c, and December, 64⅛@64¼c. Winnipeg was closed yesterday, which had the effect of decreasing trading to some extent.

Sentiment Less Bullish.

There was not the decidedly bullish sentiment in evidence yesterday which was such a factor in Monday's trading, and the leading local bulls seemed to be more anxious to get out of their lines of wheat than in supporting the market. The disposition was to wait and see whether the forecasted rains materialized or not. In case of a dry weather map there was an impression those who sold out their lines on Tuesday would be anxious to get them back.

Crop reports from west of the Missouri were not as much in evidence as of late, although the outlook in western Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma was reported as very poor. No rain of consequence was received in this area overnight. A further increase in the complaints of Hession fly damage was noted from the states east of the Missouri, and included parts of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. There was also mention made of a need of rain in the soft red winter wheat states.

Foreign News Bearish.

Foreigners continue to refrain from buying North American cash wheat on a large scale, and letters from abroad as a whole were rather pessimistic as to the amount of grain that would be taken by a number of countries. Liverpool was firmer early due to a better cash demand, but weakened later on the rain reports from Kansas and Nebraska and closed ¼@1c per bu lower, with July at 60⅝c, going to a premium of ⅝c over Chicago.

Grasshoppers have commenced to cause damage in parts of the American spring wheat belt, and urgent messages were sent to congressmen from Minnesota and North Dakota yesterday asking for government help in combating the pest.

Corn and other grains continue to be dominated by the action of wheat and prices dropped rather sharply on local selling. Corn at the inside showed 1⅛c under Monday's close on the active futures, with local selling on the way down, and the close was 1c lower, with July 32⅝c, September 35@35⅛c, and December 35⅛c. May was dull and easily influenced by small operations and closed only ⅛c lower at 31⅛c.

Cash Corn Demand Slow.

Reports that outside markets were outbidding Chicago ⅛c for cash corn downstate failed to have any effect on the market or country offerings. The latter were fairly liberal, with 63,000 bu booked to arrive, while only 3,000 bu were reported as having been sold to the east.

Scattered liquidation developed in May oats and, with locals selling the deferred deliveries, the market largely lost the advance of the previous day, closing ½@⅝c lower; May finished at 22⅝@22¾c, July 22⅞c, September 23c, and December 24½c.

Rye developed independent weakness and declined 1⅞@2¼c from Monday's finish at one time on persistent scattered selling by commission houses and closed 1⅝@2c lower, with May at 37½c, July 39⅝c, and September 41⅛c.

N. Y. BOND MART DISPLAYS MORE CHEERFUL TONE

Rail, U. S. Government Securities Recede.

New York, May 24.—(AP)—Although bond prices sagged moderately today, with a number of railroad liens going to record low prices, the market as a whole showed a more cheerful undertone than yesterday.

New York Central issues were offered quite freely at lower prices, probably in response to low April earnings estimates for the system, one estimate placing a deficit for April at $2,500,000 after charges.

Sharp declines in the rails were confined mainly to the second grade bonds, the Burlington 3½s and general 4s proving an exception with their losses of 2 points or more. Among the sharper losses were Lake Erie and Western 5s, off 6¾ points, and Louisville and Nashville 4s, off 7 points. Baltimore and Ohio bonds were irregularly higher and Pennsylvania railroad issues were steady, with firm undertone. New Haven debentures lost 1 point, while the 3½s advanced 2¾ points.

U. S. Securities Dip.

Government bonds, which have been conspicuously firm in recent sessions, declined moderately with the exception of the Liberty 3½s, the first 4¼s, and the treasury 3⅜s, which were higher. Selling was attributed partly to profit taking. Foreign government issues, with the exception of Belgian, French, and British, were generally lower.

The Chase Harris Forbes corporation, as paying agents, announced today that funds have been received to make the June 1, 1932, payment on the outstanding $15,850,000 German consolidated municipal loan 6 per cent bonds, due June 1, 1947.

Halgarten & Co. and Kidder, Peabody & Co., fiscal agents for the $25,000,000 republic of Colombia 6 per cent external sinking fund bonds dated July 1, 1927, due June 1, 1961, have received funds for the payment of interest due July 1.

Gets Salvador Interest.

Manufacturers' Trust company announces receipt of funds to pay July 1 interest on the republic of El Salvador series A bonds issued under a loan contract between the republic and Minor C. Keith. The company also received $81,900 to use in buying bonds for sinking fund purposes.

Formation of a committee to protect the holders of the Consolidated Machine Tool Corporation of America first mortgage 7 per cent bonds, due on June 1, 1942, has been effected following a statement by the president of the corporation that the interest, amounting to $78,113, due on June 1, could not be paid.

EVANS PRODUCTS.

Company and subsidiaries reported for the March quarter net loss of $17,363 after all charges. This compares with net profit of $5,116, or 2 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1931.

AVAILABLE GRAIN STOCKS

World's available supply of wheat decreased 6,386,000 bu last week, as compiled by Bradstreets. Corn in the United States and Canada decreased 1,159,000 bu and oats 1,240,000 bu. Details follow:

	1932.	1931.	Decrease, 1931.

Complete with new features and improvements, the Chicago Tribune's 1932 Chicagoland Map will be a greater aid to motorists this year than ever before.

It covers the entire region around the lower end of Lake Michigan, from South Haven to Milwaukee, and back into the country as far as Elkhart, Valparaiso, Harvard, and Marengo.

Roads have been inspected by Tribune pathfinders and brought up to date. Every grade crossing, danger point, underpass, and overpass is plainly indicated. Special care has been taken in showing curves.

This map makes driving safer. It enables you to pick out shortcuts, avoid heavy traffic, make better time. It is practically impossible to get lost when you drive with its help! No matter where you are, you are almost sure to be in sight of some of the landmarks it shows: air beacons, buildings, lakes, streams, clubs, forest preserves.

Road numbers and mileages are accurately marked. More than 600 towns and villages are indexed. The entire map is handsomely printed on heavy paper, accordion-folded for easy handling.

Get your copy today! It will mean new trips, new scenery, more safety and enjoyment in motoring. Only 25 cents (30 cents by mail) at all
